BEFORE LEGAL BOMB BURST

Constitutional Issue Raised; Month's Delay

He indicated he will seek an injunction to block the hearing and is prepared to take the issue to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Bull said he challenged the authority of the provincial government to set up such an inquiry because it was a probe into what amounted to criminal charges.

This authority is vested only in the federal government under the British North America Act, he contended.

However, from his office at the legislative buildings, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said as far as he is aware the inquiry will go ahead.

"Inquiries of this nature have been conducted without question in many provinces in Canada," he said. "The Vancouver police inquiry was one of them."

Mr. Bonner said: "The questions which will come before the commission are not necessary criminal in their implications, although there might be a question of ethics."

Ironed Out

While the next move on whether to attempt to block the inquiry rested with Mr. Bull, expert legal sources expressed the view to the Times that any question of constitutionality could easily be ironed out by the federal government.

They suggested that on a request from Attorney-General Bonner, the federal justice minister, Davie Fulton, could secure an order-in-council conferring the necessary powers on Chief Justice Sloan and open the way for the inquiry to proceed if the courts decide there is any doubt of its constitutionality as now set up.

However, Mr. Bonner's statement was taken as indicating this action would not be considered until the courts deal with the constitutional issue.

Adjourned

In the meantime the inquiry has been adjourned until Dec. 9, partly because of the illness of counsel, and partly because other lawyers want more time to study their cases.

If the constitutional issue is carried to the Supreme Court of Canada, it would cause a further delay in the long drawn-out case.

Mr. Bull, who was counsel for Mr. Sommers at one time in his slander action against lawyer David Sturdy, said his course will be to seek an injunction from the B.C. Supreme Court and have a writ issued on Chief Justice Gordon Sloan.

He said he would first have to consult with his client Wednesday before taking this step but added:

"I can almost say for certain that this action will be taken."

Challenge

Mr. Bull said he was challenging the authority of the provincial government under the Public Inquiries Act to set up an inquiry of this nature to probe what amounted to criminal charges.

This authority is vested only in the federal government by the British North America Act, he said.

Today's session was expected to be only a preliminary hearing to arrange details for the hearings.

Chief Justice Sloan said he could not hear Mr. Bull's arguments and could only wait developments.

"What do you suggest I do?" he asked Mr. Bull at one point.

Mr. Bull replied that the commission should be adjourned until a future date when it could be determined what its future course will be.

After hearing brief arguments

Fiscal Policy Being Staked

By VICTOR MACKIE, Times' Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Canada's Finance Minister Donald Fleming and the governor of the Bank of Canada are meeting in Ottawa this evening for discussions that may radically change the country's fiscal policy.

The meeting has attracted wide attention and inspired reports of a "widening rift" between the government and the bank.

It has led to one report—by a Toronto newspaper favorable to the Conservative government—that refusal of Bank Governor James Coyne to give ground on "tight money" policies might force his resignation.

For the record both Mr. Coyne and Mr. Fleming have emphatically denied that there was any "rift."

The meeting today includes a general discussion of economic affairs. It was arranged a week ago. Both the bank and the government are working towards agreement on arrangements under which there can so be some easement of the tight-money policy as to encourage new construction and other projects that will provide employment.

The central bank has the responsibility to parliament to combat inflationary tendencies and prevent a runaway inflation. With inflationary pressures increasingly at work in the economy the bank moved last year to increase interest rates which had the effect of tightening up on money.

INTEREST RATES FALL

Canadian interest rates are now falling and the central bank may be in a position to ease up somewhat. The new government wants to see this process moving more quickly but the central bank is moving with caution.

The finance minister and the governor will have under review matters of timing and possible changes that could be made. There is room for compromise and some government sources expect that agreement

AT SLOAN HEARING

Legal Counsel Outnumber Spectators

There were 38 persons in the age-mellowed Court of Appeal Chamber at Victoria Courthouse today as the Sloan Commission opened.

Of these, seven were spectators; 14 were legal counsel; 14 represented press, radio and TV; one secretary, one court stenographer, and the Chief Justice himself completed the roster.

Expectation among counsel was for a short opening session, and a period of time to prepare the case.

Before the commission opened Chief Justice Sloan said: "The longer the preparation, the faster we will get it over.

"If the case is prepared fully, it is more likely we can follow it right through."

PRINCIPALS ABSENT

Many of the counsel were from Vancouver.

Absent from the court room as the case opened were two of the principals, former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers and Charles W. Eversfield, who was to have been a key defence witness in the Sommers-Sturdy slander case.

Counsel James J. Proudfoot snapped out a brisk "no statement" when he was asked the whereabouts of Mr. Sommers, and whether he would appear.

Mr. Eversfield has returned to B.C. to testify at the royal commission. He arrived in Vancouver Sunday from California, where he has been living since late 1955. He spent Monday in Chilliwack with his mother and three brothers.

Eversfield supplied Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy with photostats and a statutory declaration which became the basis of Sturdy's corruption charges against Mr. Sommers.

Mr. Sturdy was at the commission today as counsel for Mr. Eversfield.

Asked why he returned for hearings of the Royal Commission, Mr. Eversfield said in Vancouver:

"I felt it was my duty to attend, even though my bookkeeping business in Los Angeles needs special attention at this time."

He said he had not been subpoenaed but expected that he would be. He also expected that the government would pay his expenses.

REPORT AVAILABLE

Meanwhile, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the RCMP report on the Sommers case will be made available to the Royal Commission.

Mr. Bonner said he would never make the report public, but will turn it over to Sloan Commission counsel Stanley Remnant if he wants it.

The report was made by former RCMP Inspector W. J. Butler, following his investigation into the allegations of bribe-taking against former forests minister Robert Sommers.

"I shall never release it to the public," Mr. Bonner said, "but I shall co-operate with counsel in every way, and if the commission counsel wants the report, he shall have it."

The attorney-general said it would be against the principles of British justice to release the police report.

"It is not sworn evidence and

Hit-and-Run Victim, 89, Near Death

An 89-year-old pedestrian, George Morley, 712 Vancouver, victim of a hit-run collision at Quadra and Meares at 11.05 a.m. today, was reported in critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital at deadline.

Police said the man apparently had just started across Quadra or had nearly completed crossing the street when the accident occurred. He was found six feet from the west curb of Quadra at the end of Meares.

A passing motorist who witnessed the accident obtained a licence number of a car believed to be involved and followed it several blocks, police said.

U.S. Keeps Air Armada On Alert

PARIS (AP)—The chief of the U.S. Strategic Air Command said today he has planes all over the world loaded with nuclear bombs ready to take off 15 minutes after any warning of a Soviet attack.

Gen. Thomas Powers said the SAC mounted this alert Oct. 1 and has kept it up ever since.

Powers said that one-third of his command would soon be in this state of alert.

"The planes are on the runways loaded with nuclear bombs," said the general. "The crews sleep nearby. We are increasing the number of planes on the alert to one-third of our effectives. The planes can be off in 15 minutes. The alert began Oct. 1."

Powers implied that the United States is keeping planes aloft loaded with nuclear bombs.

The general said that at any given moment a certain percentage of SAC planes were in the air and "we're not carrying swords or bows and arrows."

The general said it was not true that Russian missiles could simultaneously knock out the U.S. bases all over the world.

"It is not so and nobody knows it better than Khrushchev," Powers said.

Laika Alive, Dead? ---Still a Mystery

LONDON (UP)—The fate of Laika, the dog aboard Sputnik II, was growing into somewhat of a mystery today.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin told reporters Monday night the dog was alive when the satellite was last heard from Sunday but that he had received no new reports.

Moscow scientists expressed belief the space dog was dead, and the Communist newspaper L'Unita said today in Rome it was dead although the official announcement had been held up.

The latest Sputnik rumor cropped up in New Delhi where wholly unconfirmed reports said Laika had landed near Jubbulpore in central India, after being ejected by an escape mechanism.

The Baltimore Sun quoted an unidentified source in Russia as saying the dog was catapulted successfully out of its orbiting satellite and landed some 30 miles from Moscow. It did not say if the dog was alive.

2 Knighted by Queen

Death Blamed on Flu

OCEAN FALLS (CP) — A 20-year-old Indian youth died here Monday as ambulance men were about to lift him into a plane that was to take him to Vancouver for hospital treatment. Harvey Sillace, 20, of Bella Coola was believed to have died from complications arising from the flu.

Russia Urges UN Disband Arms Group

NEW YORK (CP)—The Soviet Union today repeated its demand for the dissolution of the United Nations disarmament commission made up of the entire 82 membership.

The Soviet delegation tabled in the General Assembly a resolution to this effect which was rejected in the political committee last week after that body had endorsed the Western disarmament proposals. The assembly is expected to meet Thursday to begin debate on disarmament.

Earlier today a Russian delegate indicated his government will give serious thought to an Indian compromise plan to get East-West disarmament talks going again.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Eternal God, our Father, grant unto us this day a calmness of spirit and a quietness of mind which come to those whose faith is stayed on Thee. In the swift cross currents of life in Thy love and by Thy truth. Keep our minds lighted by wisdom from above and our hearts warmed by Thy abiding presence. Give us victory over our temptations. Lift us out of our doubts by facing us with the tasks of Thy kingdom. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Three Girls Hanged, Mother Charged

Artificial Respiration Revives Fourth Child

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Maureen O'Donohue, charged Monday with murder in the hanging of three of her four young daughters, was remanded today to a psychiatric hospital.

Prior to her court appearance this morning the 27-year-old wife of a prominent Toronto lawyer was held in a police station room guarded by a policewoman. She was described as in an overwrought condition and sobbing frequently.

Police said all four O'Donohue children were found Monday hanging in the basement of the family's fashionable suburban Leaside home. One was revived by artificial respiration, and was in good condition in hospital today.

Mrs. O'Donohue was arrested about two hours after the discovery.

Attempts to revive Maureen-four; Eileen, three, and Katherine, two, were unsuccessful. Mary Josephine, six months, responded to hospital treatment.

Police said Mrs. O'Donohue, an ex-nurse from Belleville, Ont., was under treatment as a hospital out-patient from Aug. 29 to Sept. 28.

PHONED HUSBAND

The children were found by Mrs. Jean Turner, a non-practising doctor who lives next door, after she received a telephone call from Melville J. O'Donohue. He said his wife had phoned his downtown office to complain that she was ill.

Mrs. Turner told police Mrs. O'Donohue, weeping and distraught, met her at the door and, sensing trouble, she searched the house.

She found the children hanging together by ropes in a basement laundry room. Untying the ropes she called police and firemen and summoned other neighbors to aid her in applying artificial respiration.

WANDERED ON STREET

Police said Mrs. O'Donohue wandered on the street until she met another neighbor.

"I knew something was wrong with her but I didn't know what," said Mrs. R. H. Loveland.

"I walked up and down the street with her until Mrs. Turner and another neighbor picked us up in a car and took us back to the house where Mr. O'Donohue was waiting."

Police reported Mr. O'Donohue then took his wife to St. Anselm's Roman Catholic Church where they were met by the curate, Rev. E. J. Law. Mrs. O'Donohue was later arrested.

The O'Donohues were described by neighbors as a happy couple.

Said one: "It was a home filled with love and tenderness."

Police Hold Mother In Quebec Slaying

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—Three young children of Mr. and Mrs. Julien Gorka were found today beaten to death with a sledgehammer and provincial police took the 36-year-old mother into custody as a material witness.

The bodies were found by a brother of Mrs. Gorka after she had come to his home next door and told him the children were dead.

The children were identified as Jean Paul, 5; Andre, 4, and Jules, 1. The Gorka family lives in Rapides-Plats, 1½ miles from Ste. Hyacinthe and about 30 miles east of Montreal.

Mrs. Gorka, the former Aurora Racine, was taken to provincial police headquarters in Montreal. No charges in cases of violent death are laid in Quebec province until a coroner's inquest has been held.

Neighbors said the oldest boy, Jean Paul, had been suffering from a sick stomach most of the night and his mother had been up attending to him. They said she remarked Monday she was tired and depressed.

They said also Mrs. Gorka was treated in Montreal last summer for a nervous breakdown.

Police Hunt Father, Son In Slaying

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario Provincial Police said today they have issued warrants for the arrest of a father and son in connection with the slaying of bank manager J. J. Walter Bridges.

Bridges, native of Strathclair, Man., was shot to death Oct. 9 in an unsuccessful attempt to rob a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Blind River, Ont.

Inspector W. H. Kennedy identified the suspects as Fred Montgomery, alias John Chadwick, 41, and his son, Rodney Montgomery, 17. He said they may be headed west.

Insp. Kennedy said they will be charged jointly with murder.

In Timmins, Police Chief Gordon Peacock said the two are also charged with armed robbery in the Oct. 15 holdup of a men's clothing store there.

He said both men have lived in Toronto and in the Sudbury district. The older man also lived for a time in the Blind River area. He said the last trace of the two was at Gogama, Ont., some days after the Blind River shooting and that possibly they have headed towards western Canada.

FIVE HUNTERS DROWNED

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — Two members of the Toronto metropolitan police force and three companions were reported to have drowned Monday night on a hunting trip to Pine Lake, 90 miles southwest of this Ottawa Valley town.

Man Trapped in Well Survives Mud Ordeal

BEAUSEJOUR, Man. (CP) — A Beausejour district man was trapped in a 25-foot-deep well before being rescued Monday night.

Mr. Hlatky said that because there was little water in the well of his farm home, he decided to dig a few extra feet at the bottom in hope of hitting water.

"I tried to move around but I kept sinking. I sank up to my waist in the mud. I got one foot out but the other foot began to go under."

Mrs. Hlatky tried vainly for two hours to pull him out, using a rope and ladder without success. Finally, she got in touch with a district farmer, who called the RCMP at Beausejour, 38 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

A rope was tied onto Mr. Hlatky and the RCMP pulled but the farmer remained mired.

A pump was brought to take out the steadily rising water.

Child Killed in Riot

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UP) —Indonesian security troops fired into a mob of rioting school children today. One 15-year-old boy was reported killed and another seriously injured.

Seven Convicts Recaptured After Manitoba Jail Break

HEADINGLEY, Man. (CP)—Two of seven convicts who escaped Sunday night from the Headingley jail were recaptured today on the northwestern outskirts of Greater Winnipeg.

RCMP said Jacob Henry Young, 20, and Murray Russell Truman, 23, were picked up by police in nearby St. James about 9.30 a.m.

Five others who fled jail at the same time were arrested Monday after they cracked up a stolen car while being chased by police in Winnipeg.

Young and Truman were spotted when they came out on the road, chilled from their stay in the open since they fled from the jail 12 miles west of Winnipeg.

The seven escaped by sawing through a bar on a second-floor window and dropping 20 and 25 feet to the ground. The break came during air exercise period.

Monday the stolen car skidded into a telephone pole and two of the men were injured while three others took another car. The second car was stooped at the Redwood bridge across the Red River in Winnipeg.

The other men were Harold Earl Condon, 22; Robert James McKenny, 17, and Joseph Marcino, alias Camponi, 23.

Pickersgill Charges Tory 'Shortchanging'

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. W. Pickersgill said today the Progressive Conservative government apparently plans to "shortchange" nine provinces to meet the fiscal demands of Premier Frost of Ontario.

The former Liberal immigration minister said in the Commons throne speech debate that there is growing apprehension among the "poorer provinces" that they will receive less from the Conservatives than they did from the Liberals under the federal - provincial tax - sharing formula.

Mr. Pickersgill said the federal - provincial fiscal conference here Nov. 25-26 probably will be "another Mont Tremblant."

Action would be put off as it had been done in the case of the Mont Tremblant, Que., meeting of Commonwealth finance ministers. A veil of secrecy had descended over the trade proposals made to and by the Canadian government at that meeting.

The government intended for as long as possible to do nothing for the poorer provinces. When it finally would have to do something, it would shortchange them.

Conservative Premier Frost had asked $100,000,000 more from the federal government.

Mr. Pickersgill, MP for Bonavista-Twillingate, Nfld., said he is afraid Mr. Frost's demand will have to be met and there wouldn't be enough money left for all the other provinces.

If Canadians were to have anything approaching equal opportunity, the federal government must take in tax money and redistribute it fairly evenly across the whole country.

Mr. Pickersgill said he was recently told by an experienced political analyst: "Canada extends from sea to sea but the new government extends from the Humber to the Don and from the Ontario lakeshore to Eglinton."

This area is the southern portion of Toronto.

NO IKE VISIT 'SAD NEWS'

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons today the British government "would much welcome a return visit to this country by the President of the United States".

Macmillan added: "He has, however, informed me that to his great regret he cannot make such a visit on this particular occasion."

Macmillan was answering questions from members as to whether Eisenhower could visit Britain after his visit to Paris for the NATO council meeting.

40 Volunteers Clear Brush At Beaver Lake

More than 40 volunteers turned out Sunday for brush clearing operations at Beaver Lake and by day's end 600 feet of the lake margin had been prepared for beach construction.

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee officials said "there was a good response from parents of children who use the beaches frequently."

The clearing operation by volunteers is intended as a means of stretching a $52,000 grant for park development as a centennial year project.

Naval officials were expected to begin underwater stump blasting later today. The navy's contribution is also expected to greatly reduce the overall cost of the job.

SC Non-Confidence Motion Beaten 139-16

All political parties in the House—except the Social Credit group—have registered their opposition to Social Credit monetary policies.

The Commons Monday night defeated by a vote of 139 to 16 the first non-confidence motion against the Progressive Conservative government to come to a vote this session.

The motion, presented by Social Credit Leader Low Oct. 18, called for a "modern financial policy for Canada that will guide the Bank of Canada in its operations, bring about a speedy end to the present tight-money policy and effectively check the ever-rising cost of living."

The vote came on the sixth day of the debate on the speech from the throne, which outlines the government's legislative program. Conservatives, Liberals, CCF and Independents voted against the Social Credit group.

Another non-confidence motion, proposed by the CCF and calling for social and economic planning to "deal with the menace of inflation, rapidly rising unemployment and other serious problems" appears doomed to be defeated. It comes to a vote Thursday.

Opposition Leader St. Laurent has said his Liberal party will not support any motion of non-confidence until the Conservatives have placed their entire legislative program before Parliament.

Government Backs Ship Registry Switch

The government will not block the proposed transfer to Trinidad registry of eight ships of Canadian National West Indies Steamship Ltd., Transport Minister Hees said Monday.

He informed the House it is the government's opinion that "the service can best be administered under this arrangement."

The decision was taken in the light of the government's desire to maintain the service.

The government-owned shipping service, operated by a CNR subsidiary, has been strike-bound since July 4 over wage demands of the Seafarers' International Union (Ind.). The CNS announced Saturday it would transfer the vessels to Trinidad registry following the unions rejection of its latest wage offer.

Mr. Hees said the CNS estimated its offer would add nearly $200,000 to operating costs. He said the resulting deficit of about that amount would have been borne by the taxpayers. Since 1927 the government had covered operating deficits of the service totalling $7,000,000.

Mr. Hees said the eight transfers will leave only 10 cargo ships and eight tankers under Canadian deep-sea registry. Most of these were operated by subsidiaries of industrial firms whose business gave them "captive cargoes."

Mr. Hees said the 220 crewmen for the ships will be recruited in Trinidad. Canadian officers would be retained.

CBC Under Fire

Henry Murphy (L-Westmorland) attacked the CBC's programming with the charge that its pattern "coincides with that used by Communist groups and carried out in Communist countries."

Programs like "Fighting Words," which had discussed such topics as prostitution, homosexuality and "allied subjects," could have a disastrous effect on Canada's family life and Chrisian ideals.

He said "the first idea of the Communists is to destroy the moral fibre of the nation, destroy the family unit and when this is accomplished the people are then ready to have imposed upon them a new way of thinking."

Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC-Macleod), a strong critic of the CBC in the past, said he supports Mr. Murphy's view "100 per cent of the way," and would continue to be critical of the CBC as long as its policies "are unbalanced or indeed tend toward the propagation of socialistic and almost Communistic ideas."

Mr. Hansell also attacked the Bank of Canada, blaming its monetary policies, such as credit restrictions, for "disastrous" results in the Canadian economy.

A "government"—the Bank of Canada—was stronger than the government in Parliament.

Jung Speaks

Douglas Jung (PC, Vancouver Centre), first Canadian of Chinese descent ever elected to the Commons, said the government's immigration policy should be eased to allow an estimated 6,000 wives and children of Chinese men now in Canada to come to this country.

Mr. Jung, who is planning a trip to China and Asia next year, said Canada ought to take the lead in gaining the friendship of the 22 countries in the Afro-Asian bloc.

Canadians Pay Honor to Dead Of Two Wars

Services Across Nation Mark Remembrance Day Observation

(See also Page 17)

By The Canadian Press

Canadians took a moment out of the satellite age Monday to remember their war dead from other anxious times.

While the nation honored the more than 100,000 Canadians who died in two world wars and the Korean conflict, two Soviet satellite orbiting the earth reminded of continuing international tensions.

Men across the nation said it was a high price for so little security. But in Sudbury, a cenotaph was unveiled bearing these lines by Rudyard Kipling, British author and poet:

"We, giving all, gained all. Neither lament us nor praise. Only in all things recall—it is fear not death that slays."

The official government memorial service was held in Confederation Square in Ottawa at 11 a.m.—the 39th anniversary of the end of the First World War.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, wounded overseas during service with the 196th battalion in the First World War, became the first veteran prime minister to lead the nation in remembrance.

Mrs. Fred MacFarlane, 70, of Truro, N.S., represented Canadian mothers. She lost her first husband at Vimy Ridge in the First World War and three sons died in the Second World War.

The pattern of the Ottawa service was followed at cenotaphs across the country.

DYNAMO TICKETS LAST 75 MINUTES

TORONTO (CP)—Tickets for Whitby Dunlops' meeting with the Russian hockey team, Moscow Dynamos, were sold out Monday 75 minutes after being put on public sale at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The Dynamos are due to arrive at Montreal Nov. 19—three days before they meet Dunlops of the OHA eastern senior A series.

SPACE SAINT FILLS VACUUM

ROME (Reuters)—A gravity-defying saint may become the patron of space travellers, an authoritative member of the Vatican's congregation of rites said Monday.

Records say that St. Joseph of Cupertino, canonized in 1767 walked on air on more than 70 occasions during 17 years spent at the southern Italian Franciscan friary of Grotella.

Before St. Joseph can become the official patron saint, a petition must be made to the Pope.

Four Violent Deaths in B.C.

By The Canadian Press

Donald Lund, 23, of Trail and Dale Coops, 21, of Kelowna died Sunday when their two-seater Luscombe aircraft plowed into the ground seconds after taking off from Trail airport on a flight to Kelowna.

There was only one witness to the crash and RCMP said he was withholding his story until transport department officials arrived to investigate the crash.

Lund was the pilot of the plane. Coops, a member of the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, played an active part in the junior chamber's B.C. convention in Trail this year.

REJECT INCREASE

LONDON (CP) — Since telephone charges were increased in the United Kingdom last July, 97,000 persons have asked for their telephones to be disconnected.

Helen Gertrude Holt, 52-year-old resident of West Vancouver, was struck and killed by a Pacific Great Eastern train at West Vancouver Monday night. The train crew knew nothing of the accident until they reached the North Vancouver terminus.

John McDonald, 80, who lived in a houseboat in Richmond, died in hospital Sunday night from injuries suffered Saturday night when he was struck by a car while walking along the Westminster highway.

The Farmer's Plight

WHILE THE DETAILS OF ITS policy have yet to be explained, the Diefenbaker Government evidently intends to put stronger price supports under virtually all branches of Canadian agriculture.

This is not a change in the basic policy of the former Government but a large expansion of the existing law. More agricultural prices are to be supported and more of the taxpayers' money is to be spent for this purpose.

So far the Government has not proposed to imitate exactly the American parity-price system under which the farmer's price is supposed to rise or fall with the price of manufactured goods. But this is roughly the Canadian Government's objective. It wishes to give the farmers a larger and fairer share of the national income.

At first sight it may seem strange that the state should be trying to keep food prices up while, at the same time, it is fighting a rise in the cost-of-living, which rose again, as usual, in the last month of record. Nevertheless, the farmers can justly complain that as a group they alone have benefited little from the great Canadian boom and require help.

The practical question is whether the Government is offering them the right form of help. And that is very questionable indeed.

We know what the parity-price mechanism has produced in the United States. It has produced vast farm surpluses that are now being dumped on the world market to the grave damage of exporters like Canada. The American farm problem has not been solved by these methods; it has been merely exported to other countries, at the expense of the American taxpayer.

Our situation differs in important aspects from that of our neighbors.

In the first place, our national treasury cannot begin to afford the sort of massive farm aid well within the capacity of the rich American treasury.

On the prairies we can grow grain as efficiently as any nation and of the highest quality. But elsewhere many of our farms are too small in area, are not generally well equipped with modern machinery and, in an open market, simply cannot compete with much larger and better-equipped farms in the United States.

The question which the Canadian Government has to face, but has never faced so far, is whether we should try to protect the inefficient segments of the farm industry, at the cost of the consumer, through tariffs, or at the cost of the taxpayer (the same man) through taxes; or whether we should attempt a more fundamental solution by improving the farm's efficiency.

Huge sums apparently are to be spent as subsidies to the farmers. The public will pay food prices thus artificially supported and then it will pay taxes to support the price supports. Would it not be wiser, and cheaper in the end, for the state to face the fundamental problem and help the farmer to improve his methods?

Long-term loans to the farmers would enable those of energy to enlarge their farms, thus reducing their unit cost of production, and to equip them with modern machinery. In other cases loans would help farmers to move from non-productive to better land, with the same result.

Instead, the Government seems determined to subsidize and thus encourage inefficiency and high costs in many farm areas. As a stop-gap this may well be necessary. But it does not solve, it may even worsen, the real problem among perhaps the hardest-working group of Canadians who deserve better of this prosperous nation.

It's Up to the Province

IT IS NOT SURPRISING THAT the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association has asked for big increases in salaries.

Neither is it surprising that the school board and leaders of municipal government are dismayed by the implied costs. They are the ones conventionally expected to devise means for these wage ascents.

The teachers have a certain logic in their case. They have been underpaid. If their salary scales had been better more might have been attracted into the profession and British Columbia might not be confronted by its present shortage.

Beyond that, they have been required to spend more time and more money in preparing for their jobs. They have now presented a higher price tag to the school board.

But the teachers run head on into a serious fact of municipal life. The municipalities haven't the money to meet their needs. The teachers are asking for funds that aren't there.

The plain fact of the matter is that the Provincial Government, the administration exercising control over education and the parent of the municipalities, has starved its own children.

The municipal taxpayer finds that the province and the Federal Government have seized so much of his money that he hasn't enough to meet a heavier burden at the municipal level — a burden on his home.

The Provincial Government has not treated the municipalities fairly. It must curb its own insatiable appetite for funds so that local government can receive a reasonable share.

The teachers, following proper procedure, deal directly with the school board. In this instance they are talking through the board to the Provincial Government.

A Job for 'Charlie'

IT IS ENTIRELY FITTING THAT "young" Charlie Banfield will formally open the new Point Ellice bridge during ceremonies set for the end of the month.

"Charlie" Banfield has done more than anyone else in recent times to bridge the waterway separating the city centre from its western section and to remind the mayor and councils of the needs of his particular community.

As an alderman and as an organizing force in Victoria West Mr. Banfield has given many of his vigorous 80 years to the advancement of his neighborhood and Victoria.

It is wholly appropriate that the city should have chosen the bridge opening as an occasion on which to do him honor.

Russian Marshal Plan

LOOSE ENDS — By BRUCE HUTCHISON

What Are You Afraid of?

IT was too much to expect that the pipe would long escape the snooping nose of science. Having outlawed the cigaret, the scientists have lately assured us that the pipe is just about as dangerous. Obviously it should be abolished by law. Any day now our far-seeing legislatures will abolish tobacco altogether and we can all live unhappily ever afterwards.

Hutchison

But is it enough to abolish tobacco? Are there not other grave public perils requiring the attention of the scientist and the lawmaker?

STATISTICALLY, for example, the automobile is far more dangerous than the pipe, for it kills someone every fifteen minutes, day and night, 365 days of the year, in America. Statistically it is far more dangerous to walk across any city street, or drive a mile on any main highway than to smoke a ton of pipe tobacco or ten thousand cigarets.

Nay, it is even more dangerous to take a bath. I forget the exact figures but the number of North Americans injured or killed by slipping in a bath tub is appallingly high and getting higher all the time as the vice of bathing spreads as fast as the cigaret habit.

What we need is a political party brave enough to stand four-square, without slipping on the soft soap of politics, against the bath tub, that cunning killer.

THEN consider food, the greatest killer of all. Millions of people are eating themselves to death before your eyes every day. Those who are not eating too much are eating too little and no one has yet devised a safe balance between the extremes. Whether you gorge or starve, the result is the same.

Eggs contain proteins essential to health and therefore must be eaten regularly. They also contain a fatty substance which I can't spell at the moment and it is a sure cause of heart disease. The hen is a killer, too.

Sugar is needed to provide energy but it destroys the teeth. Milk used to be considered the perfect food but lately New Zealand has found that free milk supplied to school children has ruined their dental health. The cow must be abolished.

IT is a dangerous age we live in. A mechanical lawn mower recently drove a piece of wire through a man's heart. Avoid the lawn. Keep off the grass. Surgeons make a good livelihood mending fingers amputated by harmless power tools. The clams and oysters of the Pacific Coast have been turned into lethal poison by certain obscure marine organisms. That mushroom in your perennial border is no doubt a fungus powerful enough to kill an army.

There is sufficient oil in your furnace tank to blow up the entire planet if it is subjected accidentally to atomic fission. Every year, on average, 327 children ram their heads into pots of various sorts, and into newspaper headlines, from which they must be extracted with publicity and plumber's tools. A safety razor can cut your throat any morning.

NEVER in human history has man lived so dangerously. A thousand years ago an innocent maid might be locked up in a dungeon or carried off by a dragon, but the risk was slight. Now she is statistically almost certain to be locked up in a foundation garment or swept into matrimony. The statistics are undeniable though the figures may be cunningly disguised by an elastic girdle.

A poor man of the Middle Ages might carry his master's battle axe but it was lighter than his current mortgage. He might stumble into a castle moat any night but now he may stumble into the income tax department. Then he might encounter a demon or a giant but now he confronts the price of 1958 automobiles far more gigantic and demonic.

No wonder it is an age of fear. We live in fear of the next instalment on the television set and washing machine, of being too fat or too thin, of losing our job or working too many days in the week, of inflation, deflation and dandruff.

OUR women live in fear of girth measurements too large or, worse, too small. Every family lives in fear of the neighbors next door who may buy a better car at any moment. And occasionally we raise our eyes from the innumerable creeping fears around us on the ground and look upward at two fearful new gleams in the sky.

Thus, after abolishing the cigaret and the pipe, we shall still have a good deal of work to do before the world is quite safe, for the real danger, comprehending all others, is the dangerous act of living at all. But time cures that for all of us smokers and non-smokers alike.

WELL, this citizen of the age of terror has made a good start. He has abandoned tobacco in its most dangerous form and taken to a pipe as a tentative step toward purity and safety. It is not, I regret to say, as brave an act as you might think. I am not smoking a pipe out of courage but only because I am terrified of cigarets.

Lament for a Soldier

Khaki oak leaves thickly lie
Trodden in November rain;
In the spring young leaves will shine;
He will never come again.

Nevermore will his glad laughter
Break the autumn quietude;
Cold and still the snow falls after,
Still as death that follows feud.

FROM WASHINGTON — By WALTER LIPPMANN

Public Need, Private Comfort?

IN speaking to the country the President is bound to be very conscious of the fact that the times have changed. Always, since he was first nominated for President, even during the pause in 1954, the general mood of the country has been bullish. He himself has been the symbol and the carrier of a general confidence that as the country was growing and expanding all things were bound to come out right.

Lippmann

While this was the mood of the country, he himself, as compared with any other President one can remember, was peculiarly and uniquely invulnerable. He received the credit for all that went well and was never held personally accountable for what went wrong.

That mood has passed. The President himself is very much aware of this fact, and that is why he is making a series of speeches. He finds it necessary "to stimulate the faith and confidence" of the American people in their defences, their foreign policy, and their economy.

In order to stimulate the faith and confidence of the people, which he feels is wanting, he will have to convince the people that he is addressing himself lucidly, resolutely, and with perseverance to the things which have disturbed faith and confidence.

What are they? There has been a lot of bad news—bad news about the Sputniks and ballistic missiles, about Little Rock, about the Middle East, about NATO, about the American educational system, and about the state of business and employment. Why, we must ask ourselves, are so many things going wrong for us in so many different ways?

My own notion is one which I cannot prove in a short space and perhaps could not prove at all. It is that the common factor in these diverse and many troubles is to be found in the disparity between the official and the popular promises, expectations, policies and commitments on the one hand, and on the other, the resources and the efforts which we as a people have been able or willing to expend upon them.

There is, for example, the budget for defence and foreign aid. It is big, as compared with what the American taxpayers have been allowed by their leaders to think they ought to pay. But it is quite insufficient to do all the things that the taxpayers have been taught to think that the country ought to do. We have set out to win the race of armaments in the big new weapons, and at the same time to maintain a big military establishment of conventional weapons; we have promised to underwrite a military alliance which runs around the world from Japan to Norway.

Surely, the reason that the Soviet Union is ahead of us in the missiles is, first, that her efforts have been concentrated while ours have been dispersed, and second, that the Soviet Union has put not only defence but science and public education above a high standard of private consumption.

We have promised to do much more than we have asked our people to pay for. Mr. Dulles has been very tough when he talks to the Russians. But Mr. Eisenhower has been very soft when he talks to the Congress about appropriations. There is a great disparity between what has been promised and what has been provided. Because of it crises are breaking out in our defence establishment, in our alliances, and at home in such critical matters as education.

These crises are disturbing the faith and confidence which the President hopes to restore. Whether he is to succeed will depend, so I venture to think, on whether after a reappraisal of his policies and his promises, he will take his stand firmly on the principle that the time has come to tell the people, as they have not been told for many long years, that they must put the public need ahead of their private profit and their private comfort.

As Our Readers See It

Why Not Live Here?

1. Is it absolutely right to force a senior citizen to live in Canada who is in receipt of a Canadian pension? Question: Where can you find as good a place to live in security, peace, simple comfort and protection than in Canada?

2. Great Britain and the U.S.A. do not provide their pensioners with enough to live anywhere else.

3. It has been done and is being done and no other country wants them without their pension.

4. As a retired civil servant I know of no privilege given me denied to anyone.

5. Why make other countries responsible for hospital, medical, surgical and welfare expenses?

Different Slants

I disagree with the statement of Harry Hamlett reported in The Times' "Here and There" column, Oct. 21 that in marriage a person who writes with a forward stroke cannot get along with a partner who has a backward stroke.

This is carrying theory too far . . . my husband and I are examples to the contrary. I have a pronounced backward slope while he writes with a strong forward slant and we have never had any disagreements worth mentioning.

Wrong Site

Alderman Austin Curtis of Victoria appears to show a lack of foresight by advocating erection of a new city hall opposite Christ Church Cathedral.

Not only could the traffic congestion become appalling, but the proposal also reveals failure to consider the distinct possibility that Saanich may eventually amalgamate with Victoria. Then a centrally situated city hall could best serve our community.

What Next?—This

One of your correspondents signs himself "What Next?"

Perhaps I can give him a partial answer in regard to his statement that many people cannot afford $20 per man day to have needed work done on their homes. He is not up-to-date as my former painting contractor has informed me that to cover increased wages his charge is now $32 per man day, materials extra, of course.

THAT'S WHAT.

FROM THE SLOAN REPORT — By ART STOTT

No Commission, No Appeal Body, Just Advisory Boards and the Government Stays Boss

(Sixth of a Series)

CREATION of a forest commission with control over planning, administration, revenue and expenditure, was urgently recommended by Chief Justice Sloan in his 1945 forestry report.

Since then he has changed his mind.

Twelve years ago he found "the chief reason compelling me to this conclusion (that a forest commission was needed) is the long-range planning required." Without long-range planning he believed it impossible to change over from the existing "system of forest liquidation and depletion to one of sustained yield management."

A-frame

A Forest Commission, he said, at that time, "would have two main purposes. First to formulate and administer a long-term system of planned forest management and forest industry regulation where essential thereto. Second, to supply the machinery for long-range financing divorced from the system of annual departmental appropriation from general revenue."

The commission would be composed of men not representing forest industries, and able to make decisions "free from any trammelling influences—political or otherwise."

Today, having reviewed changes in conditions and in public attitudes, the commissioner says, "I do not think there is much to be gained by suggesting that my 1945 recommendation be now implemented."

He has reached that decision because, "not withstanding the impressive number of important witnesses in favor of setting up a Forest Commission, the general opinion of industry at large would not sustain a recommendation of that kind today," and because of "this lack of unanimity and my own feeling that developments in the intervening years have passed the point where the efficient functioning of such a commission could have had the most beneficial results."

To which the commissioner further adds, "it has been made abundantly clear over the years since then that succeeding governments are reluctant to liquidate their own prerogatives by delegating to an independent commission the controls I thought in 1945 such a commission should exercise over our forest resource."

Having reached this conclusion on the Forest Commission, the Chief Justice reports "almost a unanimity of opinion expressed by witnesses who "considered there was a real need for some form of organization outside the (B.C. Forest) Service that would act in an advisory capacity" to the Government. Advice from such a body would deal not only with subjects referred to it by the Government, but with matters originating with the board itself.

"I agree with the basic contention that there is need for some channel of official communication from persons qualified to advise the Government on matters of forest policy in all its correlative aspects," the commissioner states.

He then proposes three regional advisory boards, one representing the Coast, one the Northern Interior and the other the Southern Interior. He considers three groups necessary to deal with issues peculiar to the differing localities.

Over them he would place a Provincial Advisory Council, of not more than 15 members with offices in Vancouver or Victoria. Conceivably the provincial board might replace the Coast regional body if the latter became redundant owing to the existence in the territory of the provincial council.

The Provincial Advisory Council would be a creature of the Forest Act. Members would be appointed by the minister, two from each regional board which would nominate representatives, and others selected by the minister on the basis of experience and ability in forestry and related fields.

They should include, the commissioner believes, such men as the Dean of the Faculty of Forestry at U.B.C., a representative of the Association of B.C. Foresters, the Canadian Institute of Forestry, the Canadian Forestry Association, the Department of Recreation and Conservation and a high-ranking district officer of the International Woodworkers of America, the chairman of the Game Commission and outstanding men representing the Coast logging, sawmilling, and pulp and paper industries.

The chairman, according to the plan, would be appointed by the minister for five years, could be removable only for cause and would be paid a salary sufficient to attract a person of high calibre.

Varying authorities would be given the different boards and the Council, the latter having a revolving fund of $100,000 to meet expenses and the right to call expert witnesses when desired. The Provincial Council alone would be empowered to subpoena witnesses, take evidence under oath and compel production of documents.

Duties of the respective boards would generally cover efforts to reconcile different interests within their jurisdictions and to improve forestry, with, of course, greatest authority vested in the Provincial Council.

The commissioner has also considered the question of appeal boards and has declined to recommend any independent tribunal with binding authority. Consequently, by his report, only existing and frequently criticized appeal avenues would be available.

Of particular significance is the commissioner's frequent references throughout the report to matters which might properly be taken up by the proposed Provincial Advisory Council. Legislation arising from many recommendations by the Chief Justice would, it appears, be inconclusive if such a body were not created.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

Frustration

JUST before the boss of our house and I retire at night, we try to arrange what we call our "quiet time."

We brew a pot of tea, sit at opposite sides of the table and work on relaxing to regain our composure after evening hours with adolescents who study noisily, break into loud excerpts from the "top ten" and attempt to instruct us in the broad fields of higher education.

Stott

Usually our state of exhaustion precludes thought or conversation. But occasionally, if circumstances demand it, we can talk over domestic crises which have arisen and defences we should erect against the assault by youth.

Recently we have undergone a barrage of psychology. This, we believe, is standard experience in any house where a young person studies that subject.

A little knowledge of psychology gained by an adolescent provides the adolescent with a whole new arsenal of weapons with which to enforce the youthful will on the uninformed adult.

SCIENCE AND THE WHITE RAT

"I would like to discuss with you," the attack begins, "an experiment we studied today.

"In this experiment was a white rat. It was in a cage. Food was slidden down a chute to it. The rat took the food because it was hungry. It wanted the food.

"Then it was put in another cage, with another chute down which food was slidden. But in this cage there was a gadget that swung down and konked the poor little white rat on the head whenever the poor little white rat tried to pick up the food slidden down to it.

"At first the poor little white rat drew back when it was konked on the head. When it went near the chute even if food wasn't slidden down to it, this gadget whopped it.

"The poor little white rat got frustrated. It was punished for getting food it wanted and it was punished even when it didn't get food it wanted.

"So the poor little white rat said, 'I'm going to get punished whether I do what I want to or not, so I might as well do what I want to and get something for the licking I'm taking.'

"Now," said the young lecturer with an unexpected by apt turn of phrase, "the conditions in this house are identical.

"I get punished. I get punished for doing what I want to do and shouldn't do. And I get punished whether or not I do what I want to do and what you say I shouldn't do. So, you see, I do what I want to. I'm the poor little white rat and you've frustrated me."

You hope to divert the argument with a digressive needle. "So you're a little rat, are you?" you ask.

"A poor little white rat, please," comes back the reply. "But don't evade the issue, you're frustrating me. How can you blame me for what I do when you don't like it?"

To which we reply with a desultory "Yeah."

WORST TO COME

The boss of our house and I have gone into this little problem over our midnight tea. Our reactions are what you might expect, if you probe a little below the surface.

We are not impressed by the distorted personality we are allegedly creating for a juvenile student of psychology. We are, on the other hand, impressed by the possible developments to come and are making preparations accordingly.

The next step, as we see it, will be disconcerting. Or it would be to the unwarned. When the young student of psychology has progressed a few more chapters in the textbook, a not-so-subtle change will take place. The student will become an expert psycho-analyst.

In the days ahead we will become the subjects of psycho-analysis. Our every waking moment will be observed with sinister interest. Our most innocent acts will be studied for hidden motivation.

To be forewarned is to be fore-armed. We're almost ready. We'll acquire a second daybed so both of us may recline when the neophyte psycho-analyst goes into action. This is the kind of thing to be taken lying down.

The student doesn't know anything about frustration yet. Wait till she hits our inert psychic weight on our couches. Frustration, hah!

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Pregnancy Stops Migraine

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Women want to know why their previously-severe migraines quit entirely during their pregnancy. Actually, no one knows. One can suspect that the change was due to some change in the glandular hormones of the body, perhaps cortisone. The improvement in cases of migraine may be similar to that which we see sometimes in cases of a stomach ulcer, rheumatoid arthritis, asthma or some chronic skin disease—when the woman gets pregnant. What has puzzled me and made me feel that all the available explanations for the relief of migraine by pregnancy are of little value is the fact that some women with a severe migraine tell me they were completely relieved during one pregnancy and left unhelped or made worse during another pregnancy. For a while I questioned such women to see if it made any difference if the child was a boy or a girl, but this apparently wasn't the answer.

Alvarez

Curiously, people with frequent migraines are often cured for six months or so when they get jaundiced. What interested me much was to find a migrainous person who lost her headaches completely for several weeks before the jaundice appeared. This showed that the improvement was due to changes in the liver and not to bile in the blood. Since early days, many people have blamed their migrainous headaches on disease of the liver, but once I asked Dr. Carl Morlock to investigate this at the Mayo Clinic, and he found that not only were people with definite disease of the liver largely immune to migraine but often they lost their headaches the day their liver went bad.

Recently, a woman with a bad migraine, who got jaundiced following the taking of a tranquilizer, had no relief from her headaches. Apparently, then, the jaundice produced by a tranquilizer is different from one produced by a hepatitis (inflammation of the liver) or by an obstructing gallstone.

Many persons think that they can get rid of their headaches by parting with some gallstones, but in my experience, in 99 per cent of cases, the headaches go on just the same after the removal of the gallbladder.

CHANCE OBSERVATIONS PRODUCING CURES

Every so often a physician will observe something that gives him an idea out of which comes a cure for some disease. For instance, some 160 years ago an English general practitioner, named Edward Jenner, was told by milk maids that they didn't have to get smallpox because, early in life, they had contracted cowpox from blisters on the udders of their cows. Jenner pondered on this, and finally inoculated his children with material from the cowpox pustules. Then he exposed the children to smallpox, and they did not get it. Because of Jenner's following up of his hunch, soon millions of persons throughout the world were being saved from suffering and death.

Similarly, years ago, a physician noted a fact that had apparently been known from ancient times, namely, that persons with a form of insanity called paresis, often regained their reason when they had an attack of malaria. He started giving such patients malaria, and the method worked so well that it was used until penicillin came along to help the persons get well in an easier and safer way.

NORMAL BLOOD PRESSURE

Many people ask, "What is normal blood pressure?" Actually, of course, in most cases it varies with age. In young people under 40 I think the systolic pressure (at the top of the pulse wave) ought to be between 90 and 130 mm. of mercury. Some physicians, when they see a pressure of from 90 to 110 mm. think it is so low it should be treated, but I never could share this view; I have seen too many healthy persons and even athletes with a pressure arond 100 mm. I used to have such a pressure when in my twenties, every summer I would walk 20 miles a day through the California Sierras and climb mountains along the way. Today, my systolic pressure is 137 mm. of mercury and I am very grateful it is that low.

In a high percentage of cases the systolic pressure in both men and women tends to go up with the years. But here is an important point: In quite a few cases of both men and women, it never does go up. My father at the age of 84 still had a systolic blood pressure of about 130 mm. As I said, some physicians think that such a pressure in an old person is too low and should be treated, but I just rejoice when I see it.

Khrushchev 'Insecure' Claims Ex.-U.S. Envoy

LONDON (AP)—George F. Kennan, a leading student of Soviet affairs, said Sunday night Nikita Khrushchev's position is insecure and that a deepening crisis threatens Soviet rule.

The former U.S. ambassador to Moscow and author of the containment theory of U.S. foreign policy asserted in a BBC radio address that, as a result of the demotion of Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Khrushchev now has "achieved the pinnacle of power he wanted—but he is very isolated and exposed in his occupancy of it."

Kennan is a staff member of the Institute for Advanced Studies of Princeton, N.J., and this year is a visiting professor of Oxford University. He won a Pulitzer Prize last spring for his work on the history of the beginnings of Soviet-American relations.

HEAVY COST

He said Khrushchev's recent success has been purchased at a heavy cost.

"Khrushchev now has offended and estranged from the central political process, one by one, the intelligentsia, the industrial managers and a portion of the officers' corps of the armed services," he said.

"Plainly this is not a stable situation. I cannot believe that it will be of long duration."

It was too late to recapture minds which had begun to ask penetrating questions.

He added that the Soviet economy now is maturing and beginning to run up against problems familiar to all the advanced industrial countries.

VERSATILE PLANT

Besides paper, the ancients also used papyrus for making boats, sails and awnings.

ROYAL STATUE 'AFRICANIZED'

The London Daily Mail's Pierre Jeannerat writes of the statue by Nigerian artist Ben Enwonwu:

"An emphasis on the lips, a slight flattening of the nose, a certain aura of placidity in the expression betray, it seems to me, the nationality of the sculptor."

The statue is to be presented to the Nigerian House of Representatives.

'DISQUIETING HAPPENINGS'

Tory Regime Hit by Martin

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Paul Martin, former Liberal health minister, said Monday night "some disquieting things have been happening" in Canada since Prime Minister Diefenbaker's Conservative government took office four months ago.

"The stock market has gone down. There has been a general decline in factory sales. Retail sales, transportation movements and many other activities have slowed down.

"Hundreds of thousands of persons are without work, and according to government statiticians, unemployment will be more serious this winter than at any time since the war—that is, unless something is done about it, and done quickly."

Mr. Martin, speaking over the CBC television network on a 15-minute free-time program, The Nation's Business, said nowhere is the government floundering worse than in its handling of trade.

Rescuers Pluck Climber Stranded on Hope Mountain

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—A former King, Ont., youth was rescued Monday from a rain-swept ledge 2,000 feet up Hope Mountain where he had been trapped 40 hours.

Bob Veltheer, 19, is being treated in Hope Hospital, 100 miles east of Vancouver, for possible pneumonia.

An employee of Western Nickel Mine near here, he became stranded when he fell 50 feet down the rough slope Saturday, breaking his glasses. He was climbing alone.

Veltheer said he set out Saturday morning to climb to the 2,000-foot shoulder of the 4,700-foot mountain. About 1.30 p.m. he fell, breaking his glasses and injuring his shoulder.

"I didn't want to chance getting down without by glasses," he told members of the B.C. mountain search and rescue group, "so I stuck there and shouted."

His calls were heard Sunday morning by residents of a nearby auto camp who reported to RCMP.

Cpl. Nels Hindle and Const. Charles Huggard started up the mountain but were unable to scale a 150-foot cliff to reach him.

The officers got in touch with Veltheer, then, by walkie-talkie radio informed headquarters of circumstances. Hope police then called the search and rescue group in Vancouver.

EAGLE TAKEN FROM NORWAY TO SAFE LIFE IN SCOTLAND

NEWCASTLE, Eng. (AP)—A 45-year-old Norwegian marched ashore here Monday with an eagle named Eos perched on his shoulder and set out for Scotland to give it its liberty.

Reidar Brodtkorb brought the bird from Norway because the laws there give eagles no protection. Usually they are shot on sight.

He decided the bird would be safer in Scotland where the law safeguards them.

As soon as he landed from the liner Blenheim, Brodtkorb bundled the eagle into a taxi and took it off to the railway station to be crated. Eos measures eight feet from wingtip to wingtip.

Brodtkorb gave up a career as a ceramics artist to devote his life to the care of animals.

Joint Parley Urged To Keep Mine Open

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. Conservative leader Deane Finlayson has suggested the federal and provincial governments should get together with management and union to work out a plan to keep the Britannia Beach copper mine open.

Howe Sound Company of New York, the mine owenrs, say the mine will be closed Nov. 19 because of a fall in world copper prices.

He said closure of the mine would uproot hundreds of families and create problems of locating new housing and jobs at a time when housing and employment are short.

It would cost the government $80,000 or more a month for unemployment and other benefits and would seriously affect the province's economy, he added.

At Trail Saturday, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said that the provincial government is a "bit surprised" at the precipitate action of the Britannia Mining and Smelting Company Limited in announcing its decision to close the Britannia Beach copper mine.

Britannia has given its 800 employees 30 days' notice from Nov. 19. The company based its decision to close on low metal prices involving a loss of $80,000 a month.

HASTY ACTION

"We are a bit surprised," said Mr. Wicks, "that Britannia would take what appears to be this hasty action, in view of the construction and early operation of a new copper processing plant on Annacis Island."

Mr. Wicks said the new plant would assure Britannia "a better return on this output."

The minister said Britannia ore still would have to be shipped to Tacoma for smelting, but could be returned to Annacis for final processing.

Atom Physicist Dies in Spain

Catalan in 1921 discovered the "methods of multiplets," used universally in nuclear research ever since.

Jordan King Replies To Cairo Propaganda

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Trying to counter a mounting propaganda attack from Syria, Egypt and Russia, King Hussein has renewed assurances that Jordan will never give in on the Palestine issue.

"We shall continue to defend Arab countries until your usurped homeland is restored," he told the first Arab refugee conference here Monday.

The young king said he was proud of the refugee representatives' loyalty to him in the face of "evil forces which are attempting to shatter the unity of the Jordanian people."

The conference adopted a resolution condemning "the unjust campaign of lies and intrigue launched against Hussein by the trumpets of Egyptian propaganda."

Egypt, Syria and other Arab countries were urged to send representatives to Jordan's refugee camps to see "the extent of this misleading and poisonous propaganda of Egyptian radio stations."

Hussein's pledge to continue to demand the return of Israeli territory struck at the heart of the latest accusations against him.

The refugees, who comprise a large portion of Jordan's population, militantly oppose any suggestion of a compromise with Israel.

Cairo radio a few days ago intensified its attacks on Hussein, charging he is plotting secretly with Israel against the Arabs.

WATERMAN'S MILLION-DOLLAR BABY
...never needs a bottle feeding!

Like most significant writing developments in the last century, the C/F came from Waterman's. In three short years it has become the most talked about, most demanded fine pen ever. And naturally so. For no other pen so accents new ideas, so heralds the future, in styling, in distinction, in prestige.

Your Waterman's C/F never needs an ink bottle • loads like a gun • with cartridge of real ink • eliminates messy filling • is the style leader in the fine pen field • sets you apart as someone special.

A complete selection of distinctive Waterman's C/F pens is on display now at your Waterman Dealer's. They are priced from $6.50 to $17.50.

Beginning of End for Rams

Handwriting was on wall for Surrey Rams in opening minutes of provincial intermediate Canadian football final at Macdonald Park Saturday as big Ken Higgs powered into end zone in third minute for first Oak Bay Drakes' touchdown. Drakes outplayed Rams in all departments as they chalked up 21-6 victory to enter western Canada final for third successive year. See story on Page 9. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

Canuck Fans Wondering, Why Cougars at Bottom

Victoria Again Defeated In 3-2 Overtime Struggle

Victoria 2, Vancouver 3

Vancouver's Western Hockey League fans may be wondering today why their Canucks are sailing along on top of the loop's Coast Division with only one loss in 11 games while Victoria Cougars are struggling in the basement with only one win in 12 outings.

Cougars, who went into overtime before dropping a 3-2 decision in their first appearance at Vancouver Forum, again took the high-flying Canucks down to the wire at the Forum Monday night, losing another 3-2 overtime struggle when rookie Orland Kurtenbach rapped a shot past goalie Emile Francis at 3.49 of the sudden-death extra session.

Cougars couldn't do as well before their own fans Saturday night and missed a chance to climb within five points of third-place Seattle as they absorbed a 5-3 defeat at the hands of the Americans.

BASSEN BUSY

Against Canucks Monday, Victoria outshot Vancouver 34-31 in regulation time, but couldn't get the tally that would have won it. Saturday they drilled shots all around Seattle goalie Hank Bassen but collected only three goals from their 35 shots, while the Amerks notched their five tallies on 26 shots.

Goals by Kurtenbach and veteran Phil Maloney gave Canucks a 2-0 lead in the first period and, after the teams played through a scoreless second period, it appeared that the Cougars might pull it out in a desperate third-period rally that produced goals by Colin Kilburn and Gordon Haworth.

Coach Pat Egan was forced to shift defenceman Carl Kaiser into a forward position after Cougars' Frank Milne suffered a bruised hip in a collision with the boards in the second period.

Milne is expected to miss Wednesday's game but may be back in action when Victoria visits Seattle Friday.

Doug Macauley sent Cougars in front again in the middle session, but Bill McFarland came back with two quick goals and Alex Kuzma added another to give the Amerks a 4-2 margin.

Eddie Dorohoy trimmed the margin to a single goal early in the third period, but Chiupka was back eight seconds later to give the Amerks an insurance tally.

WEST PRO PICTURE

Movement Light But Action Heavy

By The Canadian Press

Weekend games in the Western Hockey League produced only a slight shuffle among the top teams. But it was enough to send Edmonton Flyers, who scored a barnstorming win in the second game of their double bill with Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals, into first place in the Prairie Division.

Flyers collected a 7-3 win Sunday following their 3-2 defeat Saturday by the home-based St. Paulers.

The other Sunday game saw coast-travelling Calgary Stampeders lose 5-2 to Seattle Americans.

In Saturday games, Americans edged Victoria 5-3, while Calgary went down 4-3 to New Westminster Royals.

NARROW EDGE

In Flyers' first encounter with Saskatoon-St. Paul, Metro Prystai and Gordie Hannigan tallied for Edmonton. St. Paul scorers were Ralph Heller, Ken Yacul and Ray Ross.

Sunday saw a form reversal for the Eskimos with a 3-0 lead in the first, a 5-1 lead in the second and finally a 7-3 win over the Regals. Edmonton scorers were Frank Roggeveen, with a pair, Prystai, Gerald Leonard, Jerry Melnyk, Jack Hendrickson and Len Lunde. For the Regals, Les Colwill, Jerry Couture and Yacul scored.

STAMPS WEARY

Stamps showed signs of travel wearness by the time they reached Seattle Sunday. They trailed 2-1 in the first, 5-1 in the second and scored the only goal of the third period.

Seattle goals were scored by Rudy Filion, Bill McFarland, Gordie Sinclair, Alex Kuzma and Val Fonteyne. Sid Finney and Chuck Blair were the Calgary marksmen.

'Peg Out of Pan Right Into Fire

CALGARY (CP)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers, as expected, advanced into the Western Interprovincial Football Union final Monday with a hard-earned 15-3 victory over a battling Calgary Stampeder team in what proved to be a sudden-death semifinal tilt.

Bouncing back from a surprising 13-13 tie with Stamps in the first of a two-game, total-point series at Winnipeg Saturday, Bombers unleashed their powerful running attack and buckled down to a solid defensive game to knock Calgary out of their first playoffs since 1952.

But Winnipeg paid heavily for the right to meet Edmonton Eskimos next Saturday in the first game of a best-of-three final at Winnipeg. Import end Frank Gilliam suffered a shoulder separation that may keep him out of play for the series. Gilliam counted Bombers' lone touchdown in the first game with Calgary. Scoring champion Gerry James is also nursing a bad knee.

Of the final series, Winnipeg coach Bud Grant said it was like getting "out of the frying pan into the fire." His bruised players had only five days to heal after a rough two games with Calgary and "that's not much time."

Second game of the series with Eskimos will be played in Edmonton Wednesday, Nov. 20, and if a third is necessary it also will be in Edmonton the following Saturday.

BOTH TEAMS CAUTIOUS

More than 14,000 fans turned out in clear, sunny weather Monday to see Winnipeg hold back a fourth-quarter drive by Stampeders.

Calgary's showing in the playoffs was unexpected. They dropped the four regular-scheduled games against Bombers by lopsided margins.

All-star quarterback Kenny Ploen scored one touchdown Monday and kicked two converts for Winnipeg. Ron Latourelle added one touchdown and half Charlie Shepard booted a single.

Stamps' three points came on a 38-yard field goal by Bud Korchak from early in the third quarter.

Capitalizing on the running power of Shepard, who was superb with eight and nine-yard smashes, and James, Winnipeg moved the ball 221 yards along the ground, compared with 49 for Calgary.

Only in the final quarter did Stamps' Nobby Wirkowski attempt a passing attack. It carried the team from their own 34 to the Winnipeg nine where a key interception by Ploen on the one-yard line took the steam out of the Calgary rally.

"We might have been in there if we'd got across on that one," coach Otis Douglas said after the game. "That ball was tipped by two of our own players to Ploen. You're living right when that happens."

Barclay Tops Cycle Event

Time Trials—Tom Richardson.
First Heat—T. Richardson, Joe Brown, Pat Medd.
Second Heat—Ernie Hills, Wes Morhart, Verne Amor.
Third Heat—Don Richardson, Les Blow, Harry Gilbert.
Fourth Heat—Al Barclay, Bill Smith, Jack Henski.
Trophy Dash—T. Richardson, Barclay.

CAGE ACTION

Tomlinson's Tosses Surprise Morrison's

Art Chiko notched 10 points for the winners while Tom English hit for seven. For Morrison's, the top marksmen were Doug Patterson with 16 and Jack Northup with 10.

In a preliminary game Victoria College Vicettes opened their league with a 36-34 decision over Polyettes behind a 10-point showing by Val Peden. Leading Polyettes were Bev Walls with nine and Lorraine Code with 8 points.

Morrisons—Patterson 16, Northup 10, Olmstead 9, Garden 2, Harris 2, Devlin 4, McDonald 2, Whalen. Total—45.

Vikings—Tomlinson 28, English 7, Kowalyk 5, Chiko 10, Skillings, McCulloch 5, Brousseau, Patterson, Finch. Total—55.

Shutouts Mark Minor Soccer

Postponed games made up the Remembrance Day schedule for the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association with Division I Optimists hammering out a 6-0 decision over McNutt's as Allen Glenn, Jamie Costain and Robin Barnes each scored two goals.

In Division II action, Texacos walloped Eagles, 11-0, led by Joe Stebeck and John Balloch with three goals each. Other scorers were Fred Potts and Garrington, with two apiece, and Larry Fletcher.

Another shutout was registered by Eagles, of Division IV, when they blanked Langford 5-0 on goals scored by Ken Piercy (two), Asjborn Waldal, Jim Ackinclose and Jim Clark.

One exhibition game was played between an all-star local Division IV team and Nanaimo Southend Aces with Victoria winning 4-2.

Other week-end scores were as follows:

Black Hawks Stir Windy City Fans

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chicago's surging Black Hawks are putting on quite a show for the home fans.

They scored two victories this weekend to move into undisputed possession of third place in the National Hockey League, marking their fourth and fifth wins in seven games at home. One game was tied.

The victories, 5-0 Saturday over New York Rangers and 3-1 Sunday over Toronto Maple Leafs, also gave the home fans Chicago's highest two-game scoring this season.

Montreal Canadiens moved back into sole possession of first place when they defeated Boston Bruins, 4-2, Saturday for their ninth win in 13 starts.

TWO GAMES IN HAND

Chicago's two wins lifted them out of a tie with Boston and moved them four points behind New York with two games in hand.

Bruins bounced back for a 4-2 decision Sunday over Detroit Red Wings to keep them two points ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs. Leafs and Wings tied 3-3 Saturday.

Hawks found their firing power well distributed in the two games and the defence along with goalie Glenn Hall was almost flawless. Glen Skov, Eric Nesterenko, Ed Litzenberger, Ted Lindsay and Bobby Hull all scored Saturday as Hall scored his fourth shutout, the same number he had in all of last season while with Detroit.

Sunday Chicago's Ron Murphy and Toronto's Tod Sloan swapped goals before Nick Mickoski scored what proved the winner. Hull added a second-period goal for insurance.

Boston's win over Detroit Sunday was their second in 10 games but it marked six straight without a victory for the badly-slumped Wings. Fleming Mackell and Jerry Toppazzini led Bruns with a goal and two assists each. Don McKenney and Bronco Horvath were the other Boston scorers.

Bill Dineen and Don Poile connected for Detroit.

Police Probe Injury to Fan

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — Police are investigating a fight which broke out Saturday at Queen's Park Arena shortly before the end of the New Westminster-Calgary Western Hockey League game.

A fan suffered a 16-stitch gash in the back of the head in the fight between Stampeder players and spectators. The fight started when Calgary player Steve Witiuk was hit in the face with a puck thrown by a spectator.

Vic's Cross-Country Team Finishes Second

Victoria High School's vaunted cross-country running team had to settle for second place in the Pacific Northwest championships in Vancouver Saturday as Glen Ferguson, of John Oliver High ran first in 14 minutes 49 seconds.

First Vic High runner across the finish line was captain Ed Pomeroy, in seventh place, followed by Simon Princenburg, 10th, Monty Vanden 13th and Jack Horn 17th.

In the longer, four-mile, senior event, Frank Wyatt set a 21-minute, 27-second pace to lead the University of Idaho to victory.

VETERAN LEAF FORWARD LINES UP WITH WHITBY

TORONTO (CP)—Sid Smith, veteran Toronto Maple Leafs left winger, Monday night signed a two-year contract as playing-coach of Whitby Dunlops, Canada's representatives in the world hockey championships.

Wren Blair, Whitby's manager-coach, said he concluded the deal with Leafs' officials after a two-hour meeting at Maple Leaf Gardens. Smith was waived out of the NHL Monday.

Blair said he anticipates no obstruction from any of the minor professional clubs, all of which will have to waive on Smith before he can regain his amateur status. Earlier Smith had said he would not play in the minors and would retire from hockey if he was not claimed by another NHL club.

ACKINCLOSE SHINES

Defence Pep Topples Pils

Victoria All-Stars turned in a neat performance Monday at Royal Athletic Park as they set back Vancouver Pilseners, 3-1, in an exhibition benefit game for players injured in Victoria and District Football League play.

Centre forward Bill Ackinclose did the bulk of the scoring for the All-Stars, netting a pair of first-period markers before the Pils could find the range. Buss Byford, at centre, notched the only Vancouver goal at the 43-minute mark, beating Victoria goalie Al Davies three minutes after Ackinclose's second tally. Charlie Constable hit for the All-Stars' insurance marker in the second half.

Pilseners had a hard time getting to Davies with an outstanding display of defensive soccer put on by fullbacks Bill Bamford and Ron Jenkins, while Jack Robbins, at centre half, and George Guckel, at left half, also sparkled on defence.

It was, once again, an Ackinclose show. The shifty centre drove home seven goals, four in the first half. He was soundly supported by Ernie Eastlake, with goals in each half; Tappy Jones, with three in the second half, and Bill Mossey, with one.

Butler Brothers started their climb in the league standings with a 5-2 win over Victoria Kickers at Heywood Avenue Park Sunday. Butler scorers were Joe Robbins, with two; Gary Crowe, Fred Curtis and Adrien Hendrickson. Juergen Stoessel and Dick Nellestijn were Kicker marksmen.

At Topaz Park, Esquimalt blasted Canadian Hungarians, 7-2, as Tom Druce and Keith Todd headed the Navyland attack with three goals each. Nip Sage hit for the other. Tevador Szekerts and Tibor Csordas counted for the Hungarians.

Bill Abbott put on a brilliant display at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday as he led Gorge Hotel into the semifinal round of Jackson Cup play with his three-goal spree to down Punjab United, 4-2.

Two quick goals were credited Punjabs as Eugene Thorne scored and Bamford accidentally drove a hard shot into his own goal. Gorge's third goal was scored by Bob Urchison.

Added Laurels Won by Oaks

Oak Bay Oaks, winners of the Greater Victoria High School Senior Girls' Grass Hockey League, kept up their win streak Saturday when they swept to victory in the Montague-Bridgeman championships at Oak Bay High School.

Their final win, 1-0, over Victoria College, was provided by Alice Genge's goal.

Third place in the standings went to Norfolk House with six points, while St. Margaret's School and Victoria Ladies tied for fourth with four points each.

Next in line were Oak Bay and Vic College second teams, with three points, followed by Victoria High, Mt. Douglas and Esquimalt.

Oak Bay Takes Midget Laurels

Wayne Farmer placed Oak Bay Drakes to the Vancouver Island midget Canadian football championship Saturday at Royal Athletic Park when the local team downed Campbell River Raiders 21-7.

Farmer picked up two touchdowns while Jack Heath scored one and added a convert. Oak Bay's other two points were gained on a safety touch.

NEW YORK—Jimmy Archer, 148, New York, outpointed Tony DeCola, 147, Brooklyn, 10.

Surrey's Setback a 'First' For Vancouver Island Team

By ERNIE FEDORUK

The undefeated Oak Bay Drakes, fresh from their first victory "ever" over a mainland team, today are looking forward for their third successive meeting with Fort William Redskins in the western Canada intermediate football final.

Jack Patrick's Drakes, who ousted Surrey Rams 21-6 in Saturday's sudden-death B.C. final, will leave by plane for the Lakehead either Friday or Saturday to meet Redskins in another sudden-death encounter for the right to advance to the Canadian final against the eastern challengers.

The west final will be played in Fort William next Sunday. The Dominion final is slated for the home of the eastern champions Nov. 23.

Drakes, who donned provincial championship robes the past two years without mainland opposition, found Saturday's victory over Bud Swain's Rams "most satisfying."

NINE STRAIGHT

Oak Bay's ninth straight triumph was not unlike their first eight outings, with the Island team sparked by a hard-charging line always moving when they "had to" move. Surrey, undoubtedly the best-balanced team that has faced Drakes this season, were out-gunned in all departments.

Despite a 242-83 edge in rushing and a 20-8 margin in first downs, Drakes turned two Ram fumbles into all important touchdowns.

Oak Bay's Trev West fell on a Surrey ball on Rams' five-yard line in the opening minutes of the game. Two plays later fullback Ken Higgs, a standout along with Gord Hemmingway in the backfield, crashed over.

A picture pass-and-run play that covered 41 yards, with quarter Jack Patrick hitting end Pete Turko, gave Oak Bay their second major in the dying minutes of the first half. Seconds after the kickoff, Drakes recovered another Ram fumble on Surrey's 30-yard stripe. Patrick, who called an almost-flawless game, immediately threw a touchdown toss to Til Briggs, standing on the goal line.

Centre Doug Brown converted all three majors and Oak Bay led 21-0 at the half. They conceded Surrey's only points with about four minutes left in the game when Ram quarterback Dan Burch threw a five-yard, quick pro pass to end Don Galt.

The season's best turnout, over 1,500 fans saw Drakes come up with a good, all-around effort. The line, sparked by Brown, West, Larry Brownlee and Joe Kurylo, showed its best when Rams moved to Oak Bay's five-yard line. On two plays, the Drakes' line broke through to drop Ram backs for a 12-yard loss.

Oak Bay, which many veteran football observers feel is generally stronger with greater depth this season than last year, are confident they can avenge 38-0 and 22-21 setbacks at the hands of Fort William in the last two western finals.

Ticats Earn Bye With Late Gamble

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Argonauts may claim some credit for Hamilton Tiger-Cats' first-place finish in the Big Four Football Union this year—that is, apart from lying down and playing dead whenever the teams met during the regular schedule.

It concerns a play Argonauts used while beating Montreal a week ago—a third-down situation with punter Reg Meserve passing complete to quarterback Doucette, that caught the Als flat-footed. Ticat coach Jim Trimble didn't have to jog his memory Saturday when a similar situation arose in Ticats' schedule-ending game with second-place Ottawa Rough Riders. It worked and Tiger-Cats went on to win a story-book 13-12 thriller over the Riders as the clock was ticking off the final seconds of the game.

ARGOS TROUBLE ALS

Meanwhile, Argonauts met Montreal in a nothing game at Montreal and won 27-0, the first time the Alouettes have been shut out since 1952. The Als were assured of third place and Argonauts, out of the playoffs a long time ago, were playing for next year's contracts.

Ticats, booed by a shivering home-town crowd of more than 18,000 earlier in the contest, turned the catcalls into cheers with a game-winning touchdown in the final seconds of play. It gave them a bye into the two-game total-point league finals and sent Riders into a sudden-death semifinal at home against the Als Wednesday night.

Victoria Rugby Union elected J. Stewart Smith president for the coming season Thursday night at their annual general meeting held in the Pacific Club.

Two Cups Gone, Big One to Come

HMCS Venture and Mayo Vampires are both pointing towards the Tommy Douglas Trophy and Vancouver Island junior football supremacy today after successfully disposing of rivals in annual trophy games at the weekend.

GOOD CROWDS

The trophy games attracted two of the best turnouts in the Victoria Junior Canadian Football League's history.

The running of halfback Nils Floren sparked Venture's attack. He scored two touchdowns and a pair of singles for a 14-point outing. Jim Bell also scored a major and added a convert.

Standouts for Royal Roads were halfback Conner and Swain.

Barry Hodgkins led Vampires with two majors, one coming after a nifty 15-yard sprint. Norm Parker added nine points with a touchdown and two converts, while Charlie Andrews also scored a major and Fred Mair kicked to the deadline for a single.

Quarterback Pete Napper's 20-yard pass to Wayne Farmer, a recruit from midget ranks, was good for Oak Bay's major. Napper later kicked a single for the team's other point.

Farmer turned in a sparkling display, including 70-yard jaunt following a kickoff that took the ball back to Vampires' 10-yard line.

Steelers Malleable Under Browns' Blows

NEW YORK (CP)—Cleveland Browns dealt a crushing blow to Pittsburgh Steelers' hopes for the Football League Eastern Conference leadership Sunday, defeating them 24-0.

Cleveland remains on top of the Eastern Conference with six wins and one loss. Pittsburgh fell from a chance to tie for the leadership to third place.

Baltimore Colts and Detroit Lions kept the race tight by winning their respective games to tie for second place, two points behind San Francisco.

The Colts stopped Washington Redskins 21-17 on a touchdown by quarterback Johnny Unitas with 50 seconds to play, and the Lions, led by veteran quarterback Bobby Layne, who threw three touchdown passes, defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 27-16.

Wider Vote Asked On 'Open' Sunday

Attorney-General Robert Bonner indicated today a new Sunday sport plebiscite planned by Vancouver next month will do little to change the government's stand.

The vote should be on Sunday entertainment, not just baseball, he said.

"I don't know why the government should be asked for an opinion on Sunday baseball, and rule out dramatics, musical comedy, horse racing and movies.

"It is my view that Vancouver must face the issue squarely and decide what it wants to do with entertainment on Sunday, not just what it wants to do with baseball on Sunday.

"When people vote on the question of Sunday baseball or Sunday sport, the question asked is far too narrow."

Students Under Fire

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Security police opened fire on students demonstrating against increased school fees today, killing a 15-year-old boy and injuring another youth.

BEST SAVED FOR LAST

Horse Show Draws 1,000

Last horse show of the year turned out to be one of the best of the year when Victoria Riding Club held its annual hunter trials and western games before a big Remembrance Day crowd at the Victoria Riding Academy grounds off Cedar Hill Cross Road.

More than 200 cars bordered fields at the rear of the riding academy stables where the trials were held under fair weather conditions. The crowd was estimated at close to 1,000.

FOUR WESTERNERS

Eight events, four of them western contests, were run off briskly with Lieut. William Dow describing each with a running commentary over a public address system which boomed across the open fields to all corners.

Don Carley, operator of the academy, was ring master, while F. T. Donegani judged English events and Dr. C. N. (Bill) Westwood "called the tune" in western games.

Spotlight in English events shone brightly on two Victoria Riding Academy riders and their horses.

Jean Dunbar rode her two horses Seven Up and Trader to first and second places in the Open Hunter event. The course was intricate and interesting.

With Miss Dunbar in the honors circle, went Pat Jones and her Glen to Glen who placed third in the open event and first in the Green Working Hunter.

There were particularly "good shows" also by two riders and their horses in western events. Always a money winner, Ron Trickett and his ever willing Sierra Sioux showed well. And Bob Grimshaw on his well schooled Babe zipped through their events.

Western barrel race—1, Bob Trickett, "Smokey"; 2, Ron Trickett, "Sierra Sioux"; 3, Bob Grimshaw, "Babe."

FUSES BLOWING OUT? It's a nuisance... it may be dangerous... IT'S NOT NECESSARY!

How safe is the electrical wiring in your home? Do fuses blow—or breakers trip—too often . . . Do you have to unplug one appliance to use another . . . Does your TV picture shimmy when electrical equipment comes on . . . Do walls around outlets get warm . . . Do you replace 15-amp fuses with 20- or 30-amp fuses?

If there are any wires burned bare of insulation your home is in a state of complete electrical collapse!

These are the symptoms of old-fashioned, inadequate and frequently dangerous home wiring. If you notice these signs in your own home, think of the wires inside the walls—where you can't see them. Why not play it safe? To protect your family, call in an Electrical Contractor. He will survey your electrical system . . . will tell you if it's safe and adequate . . . or how little it would cost to modernize . . . to LIVE BETTER—ELECTRICALLY with FULL HOUSEPOWER.

To rewire your home—no matter how old it is—could amount to less than you pay to paint it every few years . . . less than the cost of sodding a lawn . . . AND wiring for full HOUSEPOWER you only do once, it lasts a life-time. Furthermore, you can finance the cost on a Home Improvement Loan!

Don't deprive yourself and family of the unequalled comforts and conveniences of to-day's modern electrical appliances and lighting. Above all, why risk an electrical fire? Find out! Make sure! Call an Electrical Contractor to-day!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO!

- Call an electrical contractor at once. Have him do an ELECTRICAL SURVEY on your home, building or plant wiring for safety, efficiency and HOUSEPOWER rating. Most contractors do this work at no obligation to you.
- Ask your contractor about Home Improvement Loans . . . how they finance wiring improvements at low interest.
- Contact your Electric Utility for advice.
- Contact your Nearest Electric Service League for free literature or advice; or write to the: Institute of Electrical Living, 126 Davenport Road, Toronto, Ontario, for informative literature on full HOUSEPOWER for old or new homes.

LIKES ROCK 'N' ROLL

Princess Miffs Dance Teachers

LONDON (AP)—An English dancing teachers' organization complained Monday that Princess Margaret's approval of rock 'n' roll has brought a blight to its business.

The organization says anyone can learn to rock after brief practice but it takes study to learn the quick step, fox trot, waltz and tango.

Newspaper pictures in recent months have shown Princess Margaret smiling and tapping her foot in time to the beat as she watched rock 'n' rollers bounce around at London parties.

The Midland Association of Teachers of Dancing said business in dancing schools has declined 27 per cent compared with last year.

John Dilworth, editor of the association's official publication, The Dance Teacher, wrote in this month's issue of rock 'n' roll that until recently "nice people did not do it".

Then it came out that Princess Margaret was a fan, he said, and "from that moment there was no more censure".

"Rock is no civilized thing," he said. "Anyone can jump up and down."

GOLD MEDAL as an exemplary dog was presented Saturday to Fido by citizens of Luco Di Mugello and Borgo San Lorenzo, Italy. Fido, whose name in Italian means "loyalty," has waited 13 years for his master, who was killed in an Allied air attack on a Borgo factory, to come home. BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Duncan - Chemainus District: It was suggested that the name of the 1st Cowichan Group be Changed to Cowichan Valley Group, at a meeting of the group committee which met at the home of J. S. Lawrence, Brae Road, on Wednesday last.

The Chemainus Group will be transferred to the Mid-Island District, which covers all groups from Yellow Point to Crofton.

The annual meeting of the district will be held at Legion Hall at 6.15 p.m. next Thursday, followed by a dinner at the Tzouhalem Hotel.

There is a possibility of a second Quamichan troop being formed because of the number of boys on the waiting list at present.

Mt. Arrowsmith District: An investiture was held recently by the 2nd Arrowsmith "C" Pack. Trevor Jones, John Stevens, Douglas Grears and Gordon Erickson taking their promises as Wolf Cubs. Gerry Belyk was awarded his first star.

The pack is beginning handicraft work and the regular meetings are to be held from 7 p.m. to 8.30 p.m. to enable them to get in the extra time for this activity.

Victoria District Notes: Assistant district commissioner Arthur Chamberland gave the Gorge Vale group committee a talk on the Scouting Explained course and showed color slides outlining the different phases of the group committee's responsibility.

The St. John Ambulance course for first aid has been cancelled owing to lack of interest.

St. Louis College group: At a special ceremony held at St. Ann's Academy on Nov. 2, Bro. W. A. Stevens invested as Wolf Cubs Peter Lawrence, Sean Barnaby, Charles Blaikie, Thomas Cuff, Ted Gordienko, David Isaac, David Jones, Paul Bains, Raymond LaBrassie, James Lynch, Peter Nash, Wayne Ritchie and Michael Rogers.

First stars were presented to Barry Bertrand, Michael Christian, Brian Duncan, James Gordon, Stephen Isaac, Arthur Jones, Dennis Kissinger, Victor LeBrassie, David Letchford, Roderick McKinno, Bernard McGowan, David Nicholls, Richard Reveirs, Paul Wolos, Adrian Cownden and Vincent Cownden.

During the event a choir of 62 boys sang several songs, and the Cubs put on a skit called the "Escaped Lunatic."

Emmanuel Baptist group: At a recent meeting of the pack Garry Hayman was presented with his second star. A "going-up ceremony" was held when C. Cumming, Garry Hayman, Lionel Burton, Robert Campbell, David Watson and Brian Downing moved on to the troop. They were welcomed by Scouter Bill Bowman.

Contract Awarded Yarrows to Build $120,000 Vessel

Yarrows Ltd. has been awarded contract for a $120,000, 75-foot fishing vessel, being built to the order of Malvin Mjos, Vancouver.

The ship will incorporate many unique features, some of which were developed after studies with the National Research Board.

To be used mainly in the halibut fishing, the vessel will have facilities for storing 100 tons of fish in chilled brine.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times

How Did Pre-Historic Bones Get in the Tar Pits?

Among the wonders of the fabulous city of Los Angeles is a tar pit. It was used way back when Mexico owned the area. The Spanish named it, as they named the City of the Angels. Rancho la Brea meant the pitch ranch, pitch being the dark gummy stuff taken from the tar pit to make paving. Not far away stand the derricks of Los Angeles' oil wells. The oil wells and the tar pits are related.

Some of the rich oil seeped to the surface through cracks in the ground. Exposed to the air, the pools of oil decomposed. Light materials went off as gases. Pools of gummy tar remained. And they grew, spreading out from the centre. In time, the edges of the tar pools hardened into asphalt. But the centres remained soft and gummy. Dust covered both the solid and gummy areas. After a shower, puddles of rain stood on both surfaces.

Bones No Mystery

What a booby trap for a thirsty animal! For who could tell where the hard surface became a gummy morass? How all those bones got mixed with the tar was no mystery to Major Hancock, who owned and mined the ranch in 1870. His helpers were always rescuing puppies, colts and chickens who had mistaken the gummy tar for hard ground. The bones belonged to animals who had not escaped from the booby trap. They were a nuisance. Piles of them were sorted from the tar and left on the ranch.

And what bones they were! What kind of animal, for instance, had a tooth ten inches long, a great tooth curved like a sabre? The experts knew. Though they did not become really interested in La Brea until about 1905. That tooth, they said, belonged to Smilodon — the sabre-toothed tiger. This fellow roamed the earth 100,000 years ago and was now extinct. Could the booby trap have been in existence that long? Yes, it had.

Perfectly Preserved

The masses of bones taken from the tar were studied. They were separate bones, for the tar tended to pull entire skeletons apart. However, the separated bones were perfectly preserved. A sorting job was necessary to fit them together. Then it seemed as though a ghostly menagerie walked from that ancient booby trap. There were sabre-tooth tigers, huge lions, elephants, mammoths, giant sloths and great wolves. There were horses and camels, llamas and taloned vultures.

This menagerie belonged to the Pleistocene Period of a million years ago. These creatures, now extinct, roamed the America of the Ice Ages. The tar pit had taken a toll of every generation up to the present time. Several things were strange. The skeletons were those of young or very old animals. Most of them were meat-eaters, whereas most of nature's animals are vegetarians.

The Fatal Thirst

The terrible who-done-it, repeated times without number, can be reconstructed. A thirsty camel came at sundown to what looked like a pool of water. Too late, he finds himself stuck in the gummy tar. If he is in the prime of life he may pull himself out. If he is young or old, he can only cry. His cries attract a horde of meat-eaters. The tigers pounce, the wolves move in, vultures flap down. They claw and snarl over the prey which turns out to be bait. For they, too, become trapped forever in the gummy tar. Only the lucky ones in the prime of life can free themselves. The bones of one grass-eater and maybe a dozen meat-eaters were captured in one baiting of the trap.

Andy sends a Hammond's Ambassador World Atlas to Tommy Mims, age 12, Shreveport, La., for his question:

How did the Soap Box Derby begin?

The Soap Box Derby was started by Myson E. Scott, newspaper photographer for The Dayton Daily News. One day in 1933 he watched a crowd of boys gliding down a hill in coasters made from soap boxes. Mr. Scott had as much fun watching as the boys had coasting. He decided that other grown-ups would also enjoy the sport. He was right.

Scott persuaded his newspaper to promote a race. This first soap box race of 1933 was exclusive to Dayton, Ohio. But such an exciting event could not remain exclusive for long. Other newspapers and automobile concerns got interested in promoting a nation-wide event every year. The race course chosen was Derby Down, Akron, Ohio. Preliminaries are held all over the nation and local winners, with their soap boxes, are taken to Akron, where they perform before over half a million fans. The champ receives a scholarship to college for four years.

Smugglers Held In W. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The West Berlin customs today announced the arrest of eight persons they said had smuggled at least $500,000 worth of banned strategic metals into Communist East Germany.

Officials said the metals, mostly nickel and cobalt, were intended for use in East German arms factories.

BIG REVENUE

LONDON (CP) — Tourists visiting historic Woburn Abbey paid nearly £100,000 in entrance fees in the last three years. More than 370,000 visited the country home of the Duke of Bedford this year.

'Cellist in Recital With City Soprano

A gifted and immensely popular Victoria singer, soprano Adele Goult, will share a recital program Nov. 19 with one of the latest additions to the ranks of this city's professional musicians.

Gustave Lamberts, who came to Victoria from Belgium only two months ago, is already proving himself a tremendous asset in the cello section of the Symphony Orchestra. He is a splendidly proficient cellist with a background of high honors and wide experience.

This will be the second Victoria Musical Art Society concert of the current season. Contrast of soprano and cello groups promises a most pleasing and well balanced program. It will take place at the new Holyrood House where all Musical Art recitals of 1957-1958 will be held, with the exception of the December Carol Tea.

Tickets are available at Hudson's Bay ticket bureau.

Benny in Recital In Toronto Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Benny, the penny-pinching funnyman, has come to town to fiddle for funds.

The comedian arrived Sunday night to make his Canadian debut as a concert violinist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. He'll play Tuesday night in a Massey Hall concert sponsored by Toronto's State of Israel bond committee to aid its campaign for $3,000,000.

Benny was greeted shrilly Sunday night at Malton airport by 50 pint-sized violinists, all waving fiddles and bows.

City Orchestra Scores Triumph

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

Music of the most broadly satisfying and inspirational character comprised the Armistice weekend concert, third in the winter series by Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

Repeat concert, usually held Monday, will take place tonight at the Royal Theatre at 8.30.

For this reviewer the all orchestral program was a gratifying experience. The three efficiently performed, beautifully balanced compositions presented an opportunity to consider the orchestra in all its parts without attention being deflected and emphasis placed on a solo artist.

There was, however, a guest, if one can consider the familiar and respected person of concert master and associate conductor Clifford Evens in that light.

Forsaking his concert master's duties for the podium, he presented his audience with musicianly and well ordered interpretations of Sir William Walton's arrangement for the Sadlers' Wells Ballet Company of Bach excerpts—"The Wise Virgins"—Mendessohn's "Italian" Symphony in A Major, and Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in C Minor.

Slow and final movements of the Mendelssohn were particularly lucid and deeply imbued with a romantic spirit. In the Brahms coloring was rich but well controlled and some of the most exacting passages came off with astounding brilliance.

The magnificent finale of the Brahms with its widely known and loved chorale-like episode of glorious melody, was treated with distinction and a thorough perception of the Brahmsian musical architecture.

In the Bach, the selection of chorale preludes, cantata pieces and arias which make up the ballet suite, were played with fine discipline and a keen sensitivity to contrasts and mood.

Lee Foli of Vancouver, frequently associated with Evens in duo violin work on CBC, was guest concert master for this occasion.

Hayworth to Take On Fifth Husband

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Writer-producer James Hill said today that he and actress Rita Hayworth are planning to marry, but have set no date.

It will be Miss Hayworth's fifth marriage, Hill's first.

Both are ready to begin work on a film, Separate Tables, produced by Hill, 41, and starring Miss Hayworth, 39.

Other husbands of the actress were oilman Edward C. Judson, actor Orson Welles, Moslem Prince Aly Khan and singer Dick Haymes. She has two daughters, Rebecca Welles and Princess Yasmin.

Bonner Urges World Fair On Big Scale in 10 Years

A world fair in Vancouver to help push British Columbia's foreign trade was proposed by Attorney-General Robert Bonner today on his return from a European trade mission.

"If we get to work now and work hard, there is no reason why we couldn't have a world's fair within 10 years," Mr. Bonner said.

"We have the space and the means to do it. There is no reason why British Columbia should not be the first province in Canada to have a world's fair."

TO RIVAL NEW YORK

It could be on the same scope as previous fairs held in New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Paris and Brussels, he said.

Mr. Bonner, who made the month-long European trip as minister of industrial development, said British Columbia must do more to make European investors aware of the possibilities here.

"We need to send more people over," he said.

"In my opinion, British Columbia business firms should annually send people to the United Kingdom and the Continent, not merely to sell but also to buy."

Mr. Bonner said that as a result of this trade mission at least a dozen groups will come from Europe to this province within the next 12 months to look over the possibilities.

The minister was accompanied by Dr. G. M. Schrum, of the B.C. Research Council; W. C. Mainwaring, of the B.C. Power Commission and Lou Sturgess, the deputy minister.

The group found particular interest in investment in steel fabrication, chemicals and pharmaceuticals.

Most of the investment interest was in Germany, Britain and Italy.

Dutch and British investors are interested in investing a minimum of $30,000,000 in an estate-type deevlopment on the Vancouver waterfront, Mr. Bonner said.

He declined to give details of the plan, which he said was at the preliminary stage, but said it was somewhat similar to the Annacis Island development in the Fraser River.

NEW NUCLEAR TESTS UNLIKELY MACMILLAN TELLS COMMONS

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons today there would be no further nuclear tests "in the immediate future."

Britain exploded a hydrogen bomb over the Pacific four days ago in what was expected to be the opener to a new test series.

Typhoon Blow Affects Presidential Election

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines moved well past the halfway mark in its presidential election today with no reports of voting day violence. Typhoon Kit held balloting down on strategic Luzon Island, increasing expectations that President Carlos P. Garcia will win a full term handily.

The typhoon battered 10 provinces in central and northern Luzon Island, causing floods and heavy property damage. Voting was slow getting underway there. Appeals were made for postponements in some precints, but the election commission rejected all of them.

With 15 persons killed during the campaign, the police constabulary was out in force. The election commission was flooded with minor complaints, but there were no reports of serious incidents.

Legal Action Proposed Against School Truants

(From CP Dispatches)

PRINCE RUPERT—Truants in Prince Rupert, and their parents as well, are going to find themselves in more trouble in the future.

District 52 School Board agreed with Inspector C. E. Ritchie that prosecution might be needed.

A report to the meeting by R. F. Lucas, principal of Booth Memorial High School, revealed that although the number of truant students was not exceptionally high, most of the cases were serious.

"When a student takes the day off to go fishing," Mr. Lucas told the trustees, "I don't regard that as something we can't deal with at the school.

"Most of the cases, however, are something else again. Even the parents can't do too much."

Mr. Lucas said most measures being taken to date were not proving effective. These include counselling, punishment, discussion with parents, and suspension of family allowances.

"All the pupils who are real problems are under the age of 15. In one case the parents phoned me to say the child was at home and wanted me to come and get him."

Trustee Mrs. A. L. Bell asked the principal if all the truants stayed away for the same reason.

"Their own reasons are different," Mr. Lucas replied, "but mainly it's because of the lack of a proper home."

The board gave instant approval to Mr. Ritchie's suggestion that legal prosecution be tried as a possible solution. They agreed to back up any move in an attempt to improve the situation.

VANCOUVER — Jeffrey D. Burton, 28, of Penticton, a University of British Columbia medical student, has been awarded the annual $500 bursary of the British Columbia Division, Canadian Cancer Society.

SIX CHEAT DEATH

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Six Vancouver men clung to an overturned speedboat in the cold water of Harrison Lake for two hours Sunday before they were rescued.

The six, heading for a hunting camp on Long Island, were Dick Bray, Ralph Becker, Jack Dumma, Phil Knutson, Dave Stance and George Langham.

They were found by Arnold McCombs, of Harrison Hot Springs, who took the six men aboard after attempts to tow the overturned boat failed.

MISSING HUNTER

KAMLOOPS — The RCMP headed a search party in the Bestwick area, south of Kamloops, early today for a hunter who has been missing since Sunday noon.

Herman Jongerus, 55, failed to rendezvous with companion Kees Bulk at the appointed time. Bulk fired three shots and heard three answering ones. However, he was unable to determine the location and came to Kamloops for help.

JAPANESE MISSIONARY

VANCOUVER — A Japanese missionary has arrived in Vancouver to work among Japanese here who are members of the United Church of Canada.

Tadashi Mitsui, 25, graduate of Tokyo Union Theological Seminary, is already at work among Japanese in Vancouver, New Westminster and Fraser Valley.

He is the first Japanese missionary to serve the United Church of Canada.

TOM HOWARTH DIES

VANCOUVER — Tom Howarth, the Vancouver businessman affectionately known as the "man who spent a million dollars of public money" died Sunday morning at his home here. He was 51.

Mr. Howarth, who had been ailing for several years, was one of Vancouver's top fund raisers during the Second World War.

At the beginning of the war he started, with Alderman Halford Wilson, the air supremacy drive which raised thousands of dollars for the national air training scheme.

NEW PLANE 'DEAD DUCK' SAYS GENERAL SIMONDS

TORONTO (CP)—The former chief of the Canadian general staff says the CF-105—Canada's latest supersonic interceptor aircraft—is a "dead duck."

"How on earth is it possible for a plane which has never flown to be militarily important to the age of missiles?"

He said Defence Minister Pearkes' decision to use the militia in a civil defence role is "an attempt to convince the people that something is being done when nothing is being done at all."

THREE QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Rocket Experts Don't Know How to Use Atomic Fuels

By WILLY LEY

Copyright 1957 by The Chicago Sun-Times

(10th of a Series)

If the questions which are usually asked to rocket experts were tabulated, the following three would emerge as being on top of the list. Question No. 1 is "Why don't they use atomic energy for rocket propulsion?" Question No. 2 is "When will we go to the moon?" and Question No. 3 is "What kind of people will fly the space ships?"

For the first, the answer is quick and simple. "They" don't know how. To utilize the forces of the atom for rockets is simply beyond our knowledge. This will require a new discovery in the field of atomic energy and there is no way of telling when that discovery will be made.

NOT SO SIMPLE

The second question "When do we go to the moon?" can be answered, but not simply. A careful prophet has to make the paradoxical assumption that nothing new will be discovered anymore. If he can show that a certain task can be accomplished with what is known now and with the means now on hand, he has proved his case. Going on the assumption that we have to use the fuels we now have, a trip to the moon can be made soon after the manned space station has been built, say in about 15 years from now. But new things will be discovered, so it might be sooner.

Now to the third question, the men who are going to fly the space ships. One thing they are NOT going to be is the football-hero type, over six feet tall and weighing better than 200 pounds. Medical experts, after considering all the facts involved, have written an entirely different prescription.

But let us first look at the facts involved. A space pilot taking off for the space station would need just about one hour to reach his goal. During that hour two things will happen to him. For the first five minutes, while the rocket motors of his ship are burning furiously, he will be under heavy acceleration. Lying in something that interior decorators would call a "contour chair," he will feel at least three times as heavy as he really is. Every once in a while this apparent weight will go up to seven times normal, if only for a few seconds.

GROUND "CAPSULE"

Fortunately, there is a way of imitating these feelings on the ground without any danger: If you put the man into the "capsule" of a large centrifuge you can make him feel three times or six times as heavy as he really is. You can make recordings of his heart beat, his blood pressure and his rate of breathing as he goes along. And at any moment the man in the capsule can stop the experiment by simply pressing a button. This takes the current away from the drive motors of the centrifuge and the thing will come to a stop. Experiments of this type have shown that any healthy man can survive the acceleration without even losing consciousness. In a real rocket ship the whole takeoff would be automatic anyway so that it would not matter if the pilot did "black out." But he won't.

The pilot would be hit by a strange sensation as soon as the rocket motors stop burning. One instant earlier he felt as if he weighed about 500 pounds. Now he feels as if he weighed nothing at all.

CALL IT ZERO-G

Scientists call this condition zero-g, with the "g" standing for gravity. It feels as if there were no gravity.

This zero-g condition can also be imitated for some time with the aid of fast airplanes. Air Force researchers have done this over and over again and while there are some individuals who simply cannot stand it, a good number can cope nicely with this strange situation.

FEEL CONFIDENT

Because of these experiments, coupled with the experience of long, drawn-out, high-altitude flights with balloons, our researchers now feel confident that it would be safe to send a selected crew into an orbit around the earth. The only thing they are lacking are rockets big enough to carry men on such a flight; the medical experts have to wait for the engineers to catch up with them.

Some researchers feel strongly that small intelligent and well-educated women would be even better than men for the first space crews. But both habit and policy will probably say a loud "no" to any such ideas.

SPACE TRAVEL LAW NEEDED, SAYS EXPERT

MONTREAL (CP) — There ought to be a law governing movements of space vehicles, says Dr. E. Pepin, director of the Institute of International Air Law at McGill University.

Dr. Pepin said Monday existing conventions governing international flight, adhered to by 76 member nations of the International Civil Aviation Organization, are outmoded by space travel.

He told the maritime and air law section of the Canadian Bar Association that a new convention should be prepared, with provision for any launching of satellites, rockets and missiles and "an undertaking for the exchange of information resulting from observations made with space craft."

EAST-WEST MUST MEET, KHRUSHCHEV

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A British scientist said today Nikita Khrushchev told him East and West must reach "an accommodation" between themselves because modern war is "unthinkable."

Professor John Bernal talked with Russia's Communist party chief Monday on the future of mankind in the light of recent scientific developments.

Khrushchev told Bernal that Russia has "the terrible missile weapons" and that the United States will have them soon if they have not yet got them.

"Destruction will be so great in a modern war that it is unthinkable for a nation to envisage it," Bernal quoted Khrushchev as saying.

Federal Health Plans Delayed

6 Provinces Must Have Own Schemes In Operation First, Commons Told

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Monteith said Monday no federal aid will be forthcoming under the national hospital insurance scheme as now envisaged until the required minimum of six provinces have their plans in operation.

His statement in reply to Commons questions from Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) suggested a change in the federal interpretation of when the program might start.

Mr. Monteith added, however, that he "has every intention" of inquiring further into the situation.

He also said, in reply to a question from Hon. Paul Martin (L-Essex East), former Liberal health minister, that there are no plans for a federal-provincial conference on hospital insurance. But "some aspects" of it could be brought up at the federal-provincial fiscal conference here Nov. 25-26.

Mr. Knowles said Mr. Monteith's interpretation of when federal aid should begin does not agree with the one given by Mr. Martin when he was piloting the hospital insurance legislation through the Commons last session.

CLEAR UP CONFUSION

He asked Mr. Monteith "to clear up the confusion" about the starting date and say whether it might be possible for the plan to go into operation in some provinces by next July 1.

Mr. Knowles referred to a Commons statement by Mr. Martin last March that once the necessary six provinces had signed an agreement with the federal government and had necessary enabling legislation in force, federal aid would be available.

Did the new Progressive Conservative government agree with this interpretation? Or must all six provinces have the scheme in actual operation before any province could receive federal aid?

Mr. Knowles apparently had in mind the federal legislation's stipulation that:

"No contribution shall be paid under this act until at least six provinces, containing at least one-half the population of Canada, have entered into an agreement, and the provincial law in relation to those provinces is in force."

MAKE INQUIRIES

Mr. Monteith said his information is that "in force is implied to mean in operation".

Mr. Knowles asked whether, in view of the difference between this interpretation and the previous one, Mr. Monteith would make injuries as to what is the proper interpretation.

Mr. Monteith replied: "I have every intention of doing that."

Seven provinces now have indicated their intention of joining the scheme: British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

In recent correspondence with the federal government both Manitoba and Saskatchewan have indicated a desire to get their plans into operation by next January 1.

But federal payments to any province are not expected to begin until at least January 1, 1959—the date on which Ontario intends to start its plan.

AIR GENERAL SETS RECORD AT AGE OF 50

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, piloting a giant U.S. Air Force KC-135 jet tanker, set a world distance record for non-stop, no-refuelling jet flight early today completing a 6,350-mile trip from a Massachusetts air base to Buenos Aires. He bettered the old mark held by France by close to 5,000 miles.

The 50yearold cigar-smoking USAF vice-chief of staff and a crew of 18 brought the military version of the Boeing 707 jetliner down in the Argentine capital at 5.50 a.m. EST after a flight from Westover air force base, Mass.

The flight took 13 hours and two minutes. The previous record of 1,448 miles for a non-stop, no refuelling jet flight was set in 1955 by a French Mistral.

Trace of Missing Airliner Sought by Carrier Planes

HONOLULU (AP)—Hopes of finding some trace of the Pan American airliner which vanished Friday with 44 persons aboard were pinned today on the carrier Philippine Sea—and sweeps by its aircraft.

"We have high hopes the Philippine Sea will turn us up one of the rafts," said Capt. Donald B. MacDiarmid, coast guard search co-ordinator.

The carrier, due in the search area at daybreak, planned a methodical 200-mile-wide methodical sweep

MacDiarmid has been co-ordinating a search by 40 planes, seven cutters, two destroyers, two submarines and other vessels since the big plane vanished silently Friday with 36 passengers and a crew of eight.

The fact that not a single identifiable radio signal has been heard from the plane since its last position report has been taken as indicating that something has happened to it at 10,000 feet with devastating suddenness and violence.

In San Francisco, although they stressed there is "nothing to indicate there has been a crime" such as sabotage, Pan American officials said they had begun investigating for "any evidence of a crime" and checking into insurance carried by passengers aboard the Romance of the Skies.

'Popularity Never My Aim'—Howe

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, former federal trade minister, says throughout his 22 years of political life he "always tried to give people what they were entitled to—and no more."

Here on a private business visit, the 72-year-old former cabinet minister said in an interview he "never wanted to be the most popular man in Parliament. Some people made themselves good fellows in Parliament, but sacrificed what they wanted to do."

Mr. Howe, who held eight cabinet portfolios during his years as a Liberal MP until his defeat in the Port Arthur riding in the last federal election, said he has "no regrets" over the pipeline debate. The closure tactics used by the Liberals were "not my idea. That was a government decision."

"But if we had not put it through that session, the thing would probably have fallen by the wayside, and been forgotten," he said.

"Now it is possible for Eastern Canada to have natural gas."

POWELL RIVER COMPANY LTD.

I. H. ANDREWS

Mr. M. J. Foley, President of the Powell River Company Limited, has announced the appointment of I. H. (Harry) Andrews as Vice-President of Planning Research and Development.

Previously, Mr. Harry Andrews held the position of Vice-President of Pulp & Paper Manufacture and Technical Services.

This move is an implementation of the Company's announced policy of consolidated forward planning and product research in the Powell River Company organization under a senior officer.

Mr. Andrews, B.Sc., has been with the Powell River Company since May 1920, upon graduation from the University of British Columbia. He has successively held the positions of Chemist, Control Superintendent, Technical Director, Director of Research and Executive Assistant, and since 1951, Vice-President of Pulp & Paper Manufacture and Technical Services. He was one of the founders of the Pacific Coast Section of T.A.P.P.I. and helped organize the West Coast Section of the Canadian Technical Section. Mr. Andrews represented the industry in the re-organization of the Pulp & Paper Research Institute of Canada. Subsequently he served on the advisory panel of the P. & P.R.I.C. for the first two years after its inception.

VICTORIA, B.C., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1957

HERE . . . . . AND THERE

With

NORMAN CRIBBENS

Songs of the desperate years rang through Britannia. Branch of the Canadian Legion on Remembrance Day.

Soldiers, sailors and airmen of the 'forties were there to join Mrs. Bonar Hannay, formerly of Lancaster, England, singing "There'll Be Blue Birds Over the White Cliffs of Dover," "Wish Me Luck as You Wave Me Goodbye" and the evergreen "Pack Up Your Troubles".

Earlier, at the annual Cenotaph service outside the Legislative Buildings, a fine old soldier collapsed. His doctor had advised him not to go, but he wouldn't stay away.

"My buddies are buried over there," he muttered as ambulance men led him to a friendly car.

When this newspaper published a three-line item about tiny Eigg Island in the Scottish Hebrides—and misspelled it Egg Island—the chances of the mistake being noticed in Victoria seemed remote.

But we reckoned without Mrs. Ann Russell, of 1904 Fort Street. Mrs. Russell turned out to be the only ex-Eigg Islander in Victoria, if not in Canada.

"I've lived in Canada more than 49 years," she wrote, "and I've yet to meet anyone who comes from there."

I called on Mrs. Russell, a kindly white-haired lady, in her trim third-floor apartment and learned something of the rigors of life in the storm-tossed Hebrides — no transport, mail by steamer twice a week (weather permitting) . . . a one-room schoolhouse for children of all ages.

"The schoolhouse was in the centre of the island and most of us walked two or three miles there and back every day. There was no radio then and in bad weather we were completely cut off from the world outside. . . .

"The island belonged to a Mr. Thomson, who lived on the mainland, and he paid for the schoolchildren to have cocoa and biscuits every morning in winter. He took a sort of proprietary interest in us and when he came to Eigg it was like a royal visit, with everyone dressed up for the occasion . . ."

Mrs. Russell is the widow of William Russell, a former CNR employee, who came from the Orkney Islands.

"My husband never saw a train until he came to Canada," she said, "and when he did he decided then and there he was going to be a railroader."

Rumor has it that Courtney Haddock, manager of Woodward's store, is to be promoted to head office in Vancouver . . .

Also that Herbert Anscomb, leader of the Conservative party in B.C.'s Coalition Government and a former finance minister, is planning a comeback to the political scene . . .

Had he taken up music instead of politics, I feel sure he would have been up there on the conductor's podium, galvanizing the orchestra with those grandiloquent gestures he uses at press conferences.

A-G Asks House Probe Of Juvenile Problems

Rejects Royal Commission Plea After Visit to U.K.

Instead, he said he will propose to the legislature that a standing committee look into the problem.

The attorney-general, back from a trip to Britain, said B.C. is doing a good job of handling the juvenile delinquency problem.

A Royal Commission on juvenile delinquency was called for last July by the B.C. Youth Council in a brief presented to the provincial cabinet.

At that time the attorney-general said he would make no decision on the request until he had examined the British system.

"British arrangements are widespread because they have a population much greater than B.C. has," he said today, "but there is no reason to think that we are backward here."

In the youth council brief, a report from the Community Chest and Council of Greater Vancouver stated there were inadequate funds and personnel in B.C. for care of youths who need rehabilitation; juvenile court judges lacked legal training; there were not enough juvenile courts, and the training of police dealing with youths was "often most inadequate."

Councillor In Car Crash

Saanich Councillor Ainslie Worthington, 3915 Blenkinsop, was taken to Jubilee Hospital with face cuts and shock suffered when his car went out of control and crashed into a power pole at 8.30 a.m. today.

His condition was "quite satisfactory" at noon.

Police said the accident occurred as Mr. Worthington drove alone north on Quadra and apparently lost control of his car near McKenzie.

The car and pole were damaged extensively, and electric wires were torn down.

WIDE OPEN GAS SALE HOURS ASKED BY AUTOMOBILE CLUB

Victoria Automobile Club today asked city council to avoid restricting hours of gasoline sales.

A by-law now being processed by council would require service stations to either close at 6 p.m. or stay open 24 hours a day.

"We believe the matter of hours, in this case should be left to the discretion of the operators themselves," said the V.A.C. ". . . particularly in view of the fact that gasoline and its by-products, are in nature of 'public utilities.'"

Council has so far supported the idea of some regulation to ensure service at all hours.

Gasoline Prices Creep Downward

All Major Companies Announce Cuts; Some Slow in Putting Them in Effect

Victoria gasoline prices are gradually creeping downward.

Some service stations have cut the price of their standard grade gasoline by half a cent, others have cut both standard and premium prices, and others are selling at last week's prices.

The gas price situation arose Friday when Imperial Oil Limited announced the wholesale price of its standard grade and certain industrial gasolines would be dropped by one-half cent.

By Saturday all other major companies had announced similar cuts, although some have been tardy in putting them into effect.

Shell Oil said the cut would apply to premium gas in addition to regular grade, and made the changes effective today.

Companies were careful to point out that they control wholesale prices only, and that retail prices charged are set by the service station operators.

In nearly all cases where the reduction has been effected the full half-cent saving has been passed on to the customer.

5,000 AT CENOTAPH

Silent Tribute Paid War Dead

By AB KENT

It was Remembrance Day and the people of Greater Victoria paid homage to their dead of three wars.

Downtown, bareheaded under weeping skies, nearly 5,000 men, women and many children gathered at the Cenotaph for the traditional 11 a.m. service.

And marked by the boom of guns on the Causeway they began their tribute by adding two minutes' silence to the endless quiet of the fallen.

"They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning we will remember them."

PLEDGE OBLIGATION

In these words, quoted by Pro Patria Legion secretary Clem Gill, the veterans and those spared the ravage of war pledge their obligation to Canada's dead servicemen.

The Legionnaire added graver words.

He said the sacrifice of those who went before offers a challenge and inspiration for the surviving to labor on, to fulfill their trust.

"We live in unsettled times. Let us, therefore, re-dedicate ourselves to service, and pray that men everywhere may yet learn to live in peace."

Pipers played the lament and the band of HMCS Naden led in hymns.

Crowded around the wet stone memorial were detachments of naval, army, air force and RCMP personnel; veterans, service league women, boys and girls of cadet corps.

Over their heads rose the words of Major the Rev. Ralph E. H. Howell, Royal Canadian Army Chaplain Corps, who offered prayers. They echoed back over the hushed streets and lawns from the Legislative Buildings and Empress Hotel.

"Remember, O Lord, all those, the brave and the true, who have died the death of honor . . ."

Navy trumpeters sounded the Last Post and Reveille. Then, led by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross, Mrs. C. E. Duke who represented all bereaved mothers and widows, provincial cabinet member Ray Williston, Rev. J. L. W. McLean and Mayor Percy Scurrah, delegates from organizations and the armed forces laid wreaths.

The stirring "Land of Hope and Glory" by the naval band wafted over the crowd as wreath after wreath of red poppies were banked at the foot of the monument.

Participating units left the area in march past, service commanders and the lieutenant-governor taking the salute on the Causeway, as here and there respectful bursts of applause went up for the city's veterans.

NAVAL PARADE

Prayers and tributes were made simultaneously with the city's service at Esquimalt's Memorial Park after a parade bulwarked by naval personnel, Esquimalt Legion and members of Esquimalt Petty Officers' Association.

Of the fallen, Mr. McLean said, "In that better world their spirits march under a new command."

Saanich held its first Remembrance Day service at re-dedicated Gore Memorial Park in the afternoon.

A cairn setting the place aside for posterity as sacred ground to the memory of the war dead was unveiled by Lt.-Col. J. C. Cave, Esquimalt Garrison commander representing the minister of national defence.

The act culminated a long struggle by citizens of the neighborhood to have the place restored following decades of neglect.

Finally, at Windswept Uplands Park, Oak Bay held the last memorial service of the day, municipal officers, ministers, church choirs and citizens forming a semi-circle around the roll of honor which singles out the fallen of the Second World War.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Two large oil portraits, one of Queen Elizabeth and the other of the Duke of Edinburgh, went on display in the Art Gallery here today.

They will be shown for three weeks, together with portraits of other Royal Family members.

The two oils were purchased in England during the recent visit of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Frank Ross, and will be left in Government House when the present incumbent retires.

Artist was the well-known portraitist Arthur Pan.

When stopped, Devon had 26 similar firecrackers in his shirt front, police said.

Sale of Remembrance Day poppies and wreaths rose to $7,672 today and total contributions may set a new record, campaign chairman H. L. Butteris said today.

Donations from Greater Victoria schools and money in collection cans at many vantage points in the city have not been totaled yet, he said. Sale of poppies on dowtown streets Saturday account for $4,672 of today's total.

TB X-Rays Find Only 8 Active Cases

Only eight active cases of tuberculosis were discovered by a mobile X-ray clinic which examined 13,295 persons in this area last spring, it was learned today.

Five of these were uncovered in shipyard areas.

Three were located in the Chinese community.

The report of Dr. R. M. Lane, medical director of Vancouver Island Chest Centre, was submitted today to Victoria-Esquimalt Union Board of Health.

DISABLED RUSSIAN FREIGHTER AT RACE ROCKS AT 5 TONIGHT

The tow was to be taken over by an Island Tug & Barge tug. Baku will be towed to Vancouver for repairs.

Both are inbound for Vancouver for grain cargoes. A third Soviet freighter, the Valery Chkalov, is also due at Vancouver late today or early Wednesday.

Walters May Contest Esquimalt Reeveship

Esquimalt police commissioner Elvan Walters said today he will either run for reeve or councillor in the December municipal elections.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," he said, "but it will be one or the other." As candidate for reeve, Mr. Walters would oppose Reeve A. C. Wurtele, who is seeking his fourth term in the post.

Mr. Walters' two-year term on the police commission ends this year and according to terms of the new Municipal Act the post will be filled by provincial appointment.

Mr. Walters said he would not accept the appointment "under any conditions, not even if it were a paid job."

"I don't believe in being appointed to office," he said. "It's dead against my principles."

Office by appointment borders on dictatorship, he said. "We're reverting back to the Fascist and Nazi idea of a police state. There is a smell of dictatorship in this province right now."

Another commissioner, Donald Douglas, said it "could be" he would run for council, "but I am not definite on it yet."

A public meeting "to report what is going on in the municipality" will be held early in December, Reeve Wurtele said.

Pulp Workers' Strike Set For Thursday

British Columbia pulp and paper workers—6,000 strong—are ready to go on strike Thursday at 8 a.m.

A. E. Brown, vice-president of the United Papermakers and Paper Mill Workers' Union, Vancouver, said:

"All necessary arrangements have been made by the international unions and affiliated locals."

About 1,500 workers on Vancouver Island are involved in the dispute between the pulp and paper industry and union.

Mayor Confident Of Support for City Hall Plan

Mayor Percy Scurrah believes his suggestion to combine a new city hall with an auditorium, when and if a new hall is built, will find support.

"Quite a few people have told me they support the combined-hall-aduitorium. I am pleased with the reaction."

The mayor felt the building should be part of the civic centre envisaged last week by Capital Region Planning Board near Christ Church Cathedral.

Centennial Stage Coach Goes May 8

Preliminary plans were formed today for a gala send-off when the Centennial stage coach leaves Victoria on its run to Barkerville.

Tentative date for the departure is May 8, in connection with issuance of the B.C. Centennial stamp, and the Philatelic Society convention.

At the meeting were Ald. Geoff Edgelow and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, representing the Victoria committee, and Ted Fox and J. R. Turnbull, representing the B.C. Centennial committee.

Mr. Turnbull has been selected as driver of the coach, a replica of those used in the pioneer days.

ASK The TIMES

Q—How did Edinburgh, Scotland, get its name?—A. S.

A—The history of the city began in the 7th century when Edwin, King of Northumbria, built a fortress on Castle Rock. Around it sprang up the city of Edwin's Burgh, from which the name came. In 1436 it became Scotland's capital.

Q—Where is the Emperor Charlemagne buried? B.F.

A—In the cathedral at Aachen, Germany. He began building the cathedral—it was later rebuilt—in 796 and he made the city the centre of European culture and the capital of his dominions north of the Alps.

'Hardly Time to Pull Cork' On City Run—TCA Manager

Serving vintage wines and champagne on flights between Victoria and Vancouver would only leave would-be tipplers frustrated, Victoria TCA manager Wallace Courtney said today.

"You'd hardly have time to pull the cork before the plane landed," he said.

Mr. Courtney was answering a Chamber of Commerce official's statement that liquors should be served on the flights to justify higher rates and a claim of first-class service.

UP 40 CENTS

TCA announced last week fares would increase 40 cents to $5 for a one-way ticket and $1.40 to $10 for a return flight.

The move was attacked Saturday by Ben Tennyson, chairman of the chamber's industrial group.

"Why should Victoria and Vancouver air travellers be forced to subsidize the non-paying routes of TCA?" he asked. "The DC-3 is the cheapest plane to operate and costs are the same whether planes are earning money in the air or lying idle on the ground."

The DC-3 is not considered first class by any other airline in the world, he said.

"So far, in my own travels on this flight, I have been given chewing gum instead of a pressurized cabin, and a plastic lapel pin of the plane in which I should have been carried for a first-class trip."

Liquor is served only on overseas routes, Mr. Courtney said. "I doubt that it would ever be sensible to serve liquor on a short run, such as from Victoria to Vancouver. By the time you get your seat belt fastened and have a cigaret you're over there."

"While the aircraft are small, this is still a first-class run," he said. "The DC-3 is very acceptable to the public and is entirely dependable. We've never had any complaints about it from our passengers."

Mr. Courtney said prices were increased because the coastal service had been "running in the red."

"Our bureau of economics has advised us that this run was a heavy loser. The very fact that we've had volume has kept this loss down. Extra volume is not causing the loss but reducing it."

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

A thank you note is best:

An attorney, who has done a great deal of work for our family's business, has recently done some legal work for me personally. He didn't charge me for the services, and I am so appreciative that I would like to send him a gift. Would it be all right, and, if so, what do you suggest?

Louise Davis answers:

The nicest thing that you can do would be to write him a sincere note of appreciation for all the things he did for you. I advise that you don't refer to the fact that he didn't charge you, for that is understood. I judge from your signature that you are a woman, which is all the more reason why a letter is sufficient. You want to keep this on an impersonal basis whether or not you are married or whether or not the attorney is married. If the lawyer has a wife, a gift could be easily misunderstood. You should keep in mind that this man has done business with the family firm, for which he received compensation.

Louise Davis

Should you wish to engage this lawyer for anything in the future, I advise you to be business-like by telling him in the beginning that, as a client, it should be understood that he send you a statement for his work, otherwise you wouldn't feel free to call on him.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

She's Trying to Reduce So Hubby Asks Her Out to Eat!

The progress of a woman I know who is just starting a reducing diet, is sort of frustrating. She and her husband were invited to dinner by a couple of gourmets. She tried, but she just couldn't stay within her allowable calorie count; but who could blame her under the circumstances?

Today is another day, a new leaf, and she attacks it with new determination. Let's listen:

"Oh, well, there is no use weighing myself this morning after that dessert last night. I couldn't possibly have lost an ounce. I will not weigh because I might have gained one and I would be so discouraged that my determination might "waver. No! Never!"

(The telephone rings again just as it did when the dinner invitation arrived. This time it is her husband.)

"Hi, honey! You know I have just been thinking that it has been a long time since we went out and had dinner by ourselves. Remember that place that has such good Italian food? Or maybe you would prefer a French restaurant?"

"Oh . . . ah . . . er . . . I would just love it, darling, but—."

"I know what you're thinking and I love for it, honey, but just forget about money tonight. This is going to be a special celebration and we deserve it."

"This must be like drowning when your past life passes before you in a few moments' time. How many times I have been the right weight, in fact most of the time, could wear my clothes and wished that my husband would invite me out for a special evening! Why now? Maybe he likes me better with this extra padding? That is a fatal thought and I am sure the psychologists have a name for it—no doubt, 'self-deception'."

I imagine that this woman, being very human, went out for dinner with her husband and started all over again on her diet the next day.

We can afford the breakovers once in a while if we do not cheat daily on our food intake. It may take a little longer than we planned, but the pounds will finally melt away under the hammering of continued calorie counting. Do not be discouraged by setbacks which are a part of life.

HEIRLOOM LACE

Brenda Durrant Wears Ivory Gown For Her Wedding to Derry Simpson

A front panel of exquisite heirloom lace, worn by her great-grandmother and great aunt on their wedding days, highlighted styling of the ivory satin brocade gown worn by Brenda MacArthur Durrant when she became the bride of Glenn Derry Simpson, Saturday afternoon, in St. John's Anglican Church.

The gown was fashioned with long-line fitted bodice having an oval neckline, three-quarter lace-edged sleeves and full skirt posed over a graceful hoop and sweeping into a slight train. For "something borrowed" the attractive bride wore a veil of old Honiton lace, loaned by her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Durrant. It was worn over her face.

The daughter of Capt. and Mrs. F. Eric Durrant, 2130 Ferndale Road, and the son of Dr. Glenn Simpson, 250 King George Terrace, were joined in marriage by Canon George Biddle.

An all-white floral theme was used in church decor, with arrangements of chrysanthemums. Only touch of color was deep green ivy.

Frederick Chubb, organist, played traditional wedding music and the hymn, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," was sung. The church choir sang an anthem during the signing of the register.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Durrant and bridesmatron was Mrs. Robert Molson. Both wore gowns of velvet, Mrs. Durrant in sapphire blue and Mrs. Molson in periwinkle blue. Gowns were styled with Basque bodices and full skirts. Their headdresses were of velvet to match their gowns, combined with full-blown roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Derry Simpson. (Photo by Basil Fox.)

The wedding cake, surrounded by white tulle, pink roses, heather and fern centred the bridal table, which was covered by a Cluny lace cloth. Toast to the bride was proposed by Maj. Harold Bellamy.

For a honeymoon in the Southern United States, the new Mrs. Simpson wore a sheath dress in hyacinth blue hand-woven tweed with matching jacket and draped blue velvet hat. She had cream accessories and Russian squirrel jacket.

The couple will return to Victoria to make their home.

Baker-Blaus Wedding In Centennial United

Autumn flowers decorated Centennial United Church Saturday evening for the wedding service which united Betty Irene Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Jakimowicz, 937 Collinson Street, and Lyle Howard Blaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Blaus, 3680 Elliston Avenue.

Wearing a gown of white net and lace with matching lace jacket, the bride entered the church on the arm of Gregory Jakimowicz. White pom pom chrysanthemums and pink carnations formed her wedding bouquet and she wore a veil of white illusion net edged with lace.

Sisters of the groom, Mrs. B. D. Peddlesden and Miss Fay Blaus, were the bride's attendants, wearing gowns of royal blue iridescent taffeta with pale mauve accessories. Their flowers were bouquets of white and mauve pom pom chrysanthemums.

Rev. Douglas B. Carr conducted the service and organist was Mrs. Margaret Wilmshurst.

Reception was held at the Orange Hall, where toast to the bride was proposed by the groom's uncle, P. W. Blaus.

Auchinvole-Simpson Vows Said in Oak Bay United

Tall white tapers surrounded by climbing ivy and large baskets of yellow chrysanthemums decorated Oak Bay United Church for the marriage of Miss Diane Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James MacLean Simpson, of Winnipeg, Man., to Alexander Bruce Auchinvole, son of Mrs. F. Auchinvole, St. David Street, Victoria. The dark-haired bride was escorted up the aisle by her uncle, George Lockwood. She wore a floor-length gown of Skinner satin fashioned on classic lines and featuring a small train and fitted bodice. The Sabrina neckline extended to a deep V in the back and had an insert of imported Swiss lace. Her fingertip veil was held by a matching lace coronet and her only jewelry was a tiny pair of pearl earrings. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

Preceding the bride up the aisle were her attendants, Miss Jane Dore, Miss Frances Graham and Miss Willine Loadman wearing identical ballerina-length gowns of jade green velveteen. The dresses were fashioned with three-quarter-length sleeves, Sabrina necklines and scoop backs. Velvet leaves and feathers formed their matching headdresses and they carried cascade bouquets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Little Megan Hurn was flower girl in a floor-length frock of yellow dotted nylon. Flowers trimmed her tiny Juliet cap and her colonial bouquet was of bronze and gold chrysanthemums and Talisman roses.

Best man for the ceremony was Kenneth Hill and ushering were Graeme Roberts, Einar Brynjolfson, Philip Redford and Duncan Tolson.

Rev. A. Calder performed the ceremony.

K. S. Hurn proposed the toast at a reception at the Olde England Inn where a three-tier cake topped with yellow roses, centred the bridal table. For a honeymoon in California and Las Vegas, the new Mrs. Auchinvole donned a black cashmere suit and a white fur hat. Her shoes and bag were of black patent and she wore a gardenia corsage. The couple will live in Vancouver.

Rehabilitation—A talk on the rehabilitation work being done by the Elizabeth Fry Society at the provincial industrial school in Vancouver was given by Mrs. V. A. Beaumont, vice-president of the Evening Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society, Centennial United Church, at a recent meeting. The devotional and worship service was given by Mrs. R. Bennett, Mrs. J. W. Alton, Mrs. J. Boorman and Mrs. A. Jones. Guest soloist was Mrs. K. Hilton. Supply secretary Mrs. H. Jones reported that two more boxes of clothing had been sent to the Friends' Society.

Did you ever see a brand New Permanent comb so soft—behave so beautifully?

Only Creamy Prom

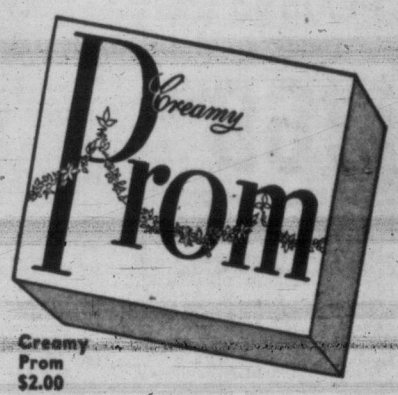
Cream is basic to beauty!

And Prom alone brings the fabulous beauty benefits of a creamy lotion to a home permanent. Prom's homogenized waving cream is a rich emollient that coats each hair fibre protectively... conditions as it waves... positively eliminates after-wave dryness and frizz. Your money back if you don't agree your hair is in better condition after a Prom home permanent.

Easiest method ever!

There's never been a permanent so easy! Unlike thin, watery waving solutions that run into your eyes and drip onto clothing, Prom's homogenized waving cream actually clings to your hair. And Prom neutralizes automatically as your hair dries on the curlers. There's no messy dabbing or pouring with a separate neutralizer solution.



Creamy Prom $2.00

9 IN MEMORIAM

CROSSON — In loving memory of mother, Mrs. E. E. Crosson, who passed away Nov. 11, 1953.

When a mother breathes her last farewell
The stroke means more than tongue can tell
The world seems quite another place
Without the smile of mother's face.

—Lovingly remembered by Ciss and Alf, Des and Terry, Bill and Kay.

CLARKE—In loving memory of my brother, Alfred E. (Fred) Clarke, who passed away Nov. 12, 1952.

He left so suddenly
His last thoughts were unknown;
But he left a wonderful memory
I'm very proud to own.

Only those who knew him know
How much was lost five years ago.

—Ever remembered by his sister, Violet.

'High Adventure' in Head-Hunting Habitat—Channel 11 at 7

AT LAST—Those faithful few that still intend to watch the Academy Award presentation ceremonies next March 26 will have their confidence rewarded.

The board of governors recently announced the reduction in the number of awards by six, all in the technical categories. This "thorough re-examination" of the awards structure was motivated by the desire of the board to "increase the stature and prestige of the awards in the eyes of the industry and the general public."

In essence this means a small reduction in the interminable procession of incoherently grateful, "surprised" winners of Oscars for technical excellence in fields the average viewer never knew existed.

After watching these hollow rites once or twice one gets the impression that the basis for the average Oscar is about on a par with the academic qualifications of an All-American fullback.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER will address the nation a second time on Wednesday at 10.30 p.m. over Channel 5. The topic was originally scheduled as "Science and Security" but since he delivered this Nov. 7 another subject will be dealt with to be announced later.

ACCUSATIONS that Groucho Marx was losing his touch were refuted to everyone's satisfaction recently in the lobby of a Beverly Hills theatre where he spotted a pretty UCLA coed admiring a painting.

The caustic old quizmaster asked her if she knew who it was.

"General Grant," she replied.

"And do you know who I am," he pursued.

"You're Groucho Marx," she answered.

"Now I have one more question for you," said he, "which one of us is buried in Grant's Tomb?"

61 BUILDING SUPPLIES

STEWART & HUDSON
All Your Building Needs

Come Down to Earth
you skywatchers! We have things to talk about. We read so much about real estate values on the moon and who is eligible to buy that we don't want you to miss out on local building lots. Right now we prefer a small plot of Vancouver Island on terra firma and it seems a lot of people feel likewise. Where else can you buy building lots so cheaply and the climate thrown in all for free. Did you see the headlines last weekend?

Saanich, Oak Bay Building Boom—Still in Top Gear
and the same goes for Nanaimo, Port Alberni, and many other places. Drive around, see the new homes underway—N.H.A. mortgages are available and other building loans. Lumber and building material prices are low too at least so folks tell us that move here from the East. So take the combination of low cost real estate and building materials and we believe you can build a home right here for less money than any other place in Canada. If anybody has figures on a more ideal area let's have them! Remember, too, only 40% of your home costs are the building materials and, of course, right now bargain lumber buys lead the list.

(3) Williamson's lino floor tiles, famous Jaspe pattern, in discontinued colors. Now don't get us wrong on this, it's not the light weight thin tiles that have been advertised elsewhere, but the genuine 2.50 M.M. standard weight that passes N.H.A. specs. We even guarantee 'em—4,400 sq. feet only and the price per tile 9"x9" is only 9c—that's it, 9"x9" ... 9c

Short of Money?
Don't let the lack of ready cash hold up your home improvement program—Come down and tell us your needs—we have a budget plan for home owners and commercial needs. Remember, too, it's for your convenience and the lowest service rates in town.

We Told You Before
and it worked so well for so many we can't help repeating. Half a day is all you need to insulate your home with Zonolite. The most do it yourself of all insulation. Easily pours between attic joints—floors, snugly around pipes, wires, etc.—fireproof, of course.

101 TRUCKS & TRAILERS

HI-LO TRAILER SALES
VICTORIA AND NANAIMO

CAN SELL FOR LESS—HERE'S WHY:
LARGE TURNOVER — We take a small profit.
SMALL FREIGHT BILLS—Most of our companies have factories in Oregon, Idaho and Northern California.
BIG COMPANIES—That we associate with have tremendous buying power. One of our companies has 14 different factories all over North America and when they buy it's in car-load lots. One isolated factory can't get the discount for volume buying, so our prices reflect this saving, too.
NO RENT OR LEASES—We own our property, of course no leases or rent to pay.
FULL TIME BUSINESS—(not a side line). We are full time occupied by this business and with years of experience we know how and where to obtain the most dollar value on the market.
FINANCING — We have the best Canada can offer in financing.

THE TRUE STORY
Take $500 or $600 in freight bills, single factory purchasing power and inefficient manufacturing procedures, add interest over five years, and some more sales tax and the more necessary insurance; then take a look at your financed balance. Sorry folks, we have to pass the nothing down deals. We must sell to legitimate down payment buyers with good credit. Our profit ratio does not allow for poor credit risks. Show us a reasonable deal and we will show you the best priced quality, our economy line and our 7 different manufacturers' products. Look at our prices and inspect our products. You'll be convinced.

SAMPLES FROM OUR LARGE STOCK:
10' wide, 45' long, quality 3-bedroom, storm sealed constructed, Rex mobile home (a division of Mid-State), we sell with latest Westinghouse washer and dryer, only $6,750
8' wide, 45' long, with washer and spin dryer $5,250
8' wide 40 footers $4,795

101 TRUCKS & TRAILERS

Triangle Service Station & Trailer Sales

IT'S HERE!
The new 1958 leisure home. Three beautiful all new models. 45 ft. 3 bedrooms, 10' wide is breathtakingly beautiful, also the 45 ft. 3-bedroom, 8' wide and the all new re-styled inside and out 41 ft 2-bedroom model is new and exciting in every way.
We do not advertise our trailers as the lowest priced, they are just slightly higher than the lowest priced, but for the little extra in cost we offer quality usually found only in the real high priced mobile homes. Before you buy, check the workmanship in the various trailers, you will know at a glance why leisure home is the most wanted and biggest seller on the market today.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1957

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Be sure to keep a tight grip on your ready cash and assets that you may retain valuable sense of security. You have earned yourself a spree, but see that you do not dissipate much for what is not worthwhile.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—An argument between a close family tie and an acquaintance or your associate can quickly put a crimp in your longtime plans. Be wise and prudent with household member, even at cost of swallowing pride.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—You are eager to put in motion all those ideas of travelling, ventures, etc., before you are really ready for them. Have the patience of Job currently, prepare yourself properly, and avoid pitfalls by studying earnestly.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Do not consider disrupting the current setups in matters of property or job right now. Relax in a.m., drop into your beauty or barber shop, acquire added poise. Then consider making small repairs to your property.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Is it really worthwhile to jeopardize perhaps lifelong friendships by telling off some dear one, being very witty at his or her expense? Cultivate wisdom by being kind to all, yet understanding as Solomon.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Feeding upon some steady annoyance does you absolutely no good and the important chores and work awaiting your attention suffer thereby. There is much information and benefit awaiting you now. Go after it!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—A pal with an inflated ego is an unwise person to approach for co-operation today. Just continue working alone towards your aims, steadfastly, so long as you do not tread on another's territory.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Being careless with those who have power over your affairs, or going contrary to established laws could easily cause you no end of worry. Be respectful to higher ups and work for their approval.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Be sure you take care of those odds and ends in connection with present unhappy setup before you start off for new vistas, activities that are much more promising. Be very wise in making changes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Fortify character today by refusing to go off with new acquaintances to some nebulous activities and sticking close to work you have promised to do. See that your debts are paid, collect what is owed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Don't permit that calling-down you received to bother you. If you did not deserve it, remember that the other person lacked wisdom. Then go out with associate you love most, act wisely and avoid another rumpus.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Since you are mentally stimulated, it is best you put aside humdrum work at desk or home today, and search out the knowledge and data you want to have at your fingertips.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN WEDNESDAY

The fine child born Wednesday is the imaginative sort who will require much moral support and love, even though he or she may often try your patience and you would prefer to give le derriere a sound pat with the hand. The artistic talents here are exceptional, so use all possible wisdom and your progeny will make a name for himself or herself. Put in the finest schools.

GOING TO SELL?
When thinking of selling your home ask yourself these 3 simple questions:
1—WHAT IS THE PRESENT MARKET VALUE OF OUR HOME?
2—WHAT ARE THE LOWEST TERMS WE COULD AFFORD TO SELL AT?
Many homes can be refinanced thus allowing it to be sold on easy terms and still get you all or most of your cash from the sale.
3—WHAT AND WHERE DO WE GO TO GET HELP IN SUCH MATTERS?
If you will please call Leonard Thomas at Douglas Hawkes Real Estate, 817 Fort St., 4-7128. I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss the above matters with you, then do my best to sell your property for you.
(Weekends and evenings, 3-3685.)

CAN YOU HELP?
2 years ago a young Englishman came to Victoria with his Canadian bride. In 2 years he has managed to establish a business, has an excellent credit rating, has saved $1000 for a down payment on a 3-bedroom home. HE CAN PAY $100 A MONTH. CAN YOU SELL ON THESE TERMS?
THIS CLIENT HAS $3,000 DOWN PAYMENT. Requires a large, older-type home of 3 bedrooms near the new Solarium building on Arbutus. About ½ acre of land would help.

Let's talk REAL ESTATE
By DON WHYTE

PREPARING FOR SALE:
Everyone wishes to obtain top market price for their property. Here are a few suggestions, based on long experience to aid your agent to obtain a top market price for your home.

First impressions are lasting, an inviting exterior insures inspection of the interior. Buyers welcome neatly trimmed lawns and flower beds and particularly a backyard free and clear of refuse. Painting the trim, doors and gutters helps to frame your house.

Inside decorations: A prospect should not be told how the place can be made to look, show him by decorating first, a little money spent on decorating pays many times over.

Fix little things: Dripping water taps, loose door knobs and sticking doors cause a bad impression, out of all proportion to the cost of repairing.

Basement and stairways: A well-kept basement is important, remove all unnecessary articles which have accumulated. Stairways should be kept clear of objects. Display full value of your storage and utility space, avoid cluttered appearances. Clothes closets neatly kept, make the closet appear larger.

Kitchen and bathroom: A bright clean bathroom, the kitchen with bright colorful curtains in harmony with floor and counter top (clear of soiled dishes) add appeal for the Lady of the House and often sells the home.

For evening inspections turn on all lights from the front door throughout. The prospect will feel a glowing warmth which is otherwise impossible to attain.

Stu Boots Penalty As Varsity Loses

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Reps defeated University of British Columbia, 6-3, Monday in the first game of the 1957-58 McKechnie Cup English rugby schedule.

Neil Henderson booted two penalty goals to account for the Reps scoring. Former member of Victoria Reps, Stu Smith, kicked a 30-yard penalty shot for Varsity.

Huskies Rally To Nip 'Lomas

VANCOUVER (CP)—Edmonton Huskies came from behind to score an 8-7 victory over Vancouver Meralomas Saturday and win the right to meet Winnipeg Rods in the Western Canada junior football finals.

Ted Frechette scored the Huskies' touchdown on a four-yard plunge. Wally MacIntosh added two single points on punts.

Grid Telecast

TORONTO (BUP) — The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has announced it will televise the Big Four semi-final football game Wednesday.

Quartet Left In Intermediate Grid Playoffs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Four teams left in the running for the Canadian intermediate football championship—with decisive weekend victories behind them—today look forward to sudden-death eastern and western finals.

In the East the favored Brantford (Ont.) Tiger-Cats meet Shearwater (N.S.) Flyers at Halifax. The western final has Fort William Redskins hosting Oak Bay Drakes. Both games will be played Saturday. Winners meet November 23 at the home of the eastern champion.

In the West, Fort William trounced St. Vital (Man.) Bulldogs 40-9 at home, and Oak Bay defeated Surrey Rams 21-6.

Rookie Larry Lychowyd scored three touchdowns in Fort William's victory. Ron Fitzmaurice, Archie Langston and Bruno Gopbelny each scored once. Pete Commisso and Brian Hadath each converted one and Eddie Kruppa kicked two singles.

Don Hanna scored St. Vital's only touchdown and Jim Tonn added a field goal.

SERIES HERO SINGER, TOO

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dot Records announced Monday it has signed Milwaukee Braves pitcher Lew Burdette to a recording contract as a singer.

Burdette's first record will be Three Strikes and You're Out and Mary Lou, the company said.

Athletics Divide Series With C-Fun

ALBERNI, B.C. (CP)—Alberni Athletics defeated Vancouver C-Fun, 69-59, Saturday night to gain a split in the teams' two-game series here. Vancouver edged Alberni Friday night, 57-52.

Saturday's game was marred when players from both teams engaged in a five-minute brawl in the fourth quarter. Guard Doug Brinham of Alberni and forward Glen Ennis of Vancouver were sent from the game.

Most Valuable

TORONTO (CP)—Dick Shatto, a mainstay with the last-place Toronto Argonauts all season, has been named 1957 winner of the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy, awarded each year to the most sportsmanlike and valuable player in the Big Four Football Union.

C. M. Nelles to Run For Saanich Council

Latest to announce his candidacy in Saanich council elections next month is Charles M. Nelles, 41, wholesale gas heating equipment distributor in Victoria.

Son of the late Admiral Percy W. Nelles, he is making his first bid for political office.

He made his debut in politics six months ago with the formation of a Saanich political action committee, the December Twelfth group, of which he is chairman.

In the past Mr. Nelles has served as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group, Art Gallery director and chairman of the now-defunct Garden Council.

Mr. Nelles is basing his campaign for council on the issues of amalgamation, calling for an investigation in the belief that "Saanich has much to gain and very little to lose from a greater organic union among the municipalities."

Saanich, he said, "should take a leading part in the negotiations to come."

Adlai Rejects NATO Adviser Post Under Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White Huose said today Adlai Stevenson has turned down an invitation to help prepare an American program to be recommended to the North Atlantic Treaty Oranization.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Stevenson has agreed, however, to "comment" on the program which this country will lay before its allies in the hope of over-taking the Russians in the guided missile and related fields.

President Eisenhower plans personally to head the American delegation at the NATO meeting in Paris next month.

Hagerty declined to elaborate on what the effect the "comment" from Stevenson, twice opposed Eisenhower for the presidency, would have on American policy.

NORMAL COMMENT

From all appearances this means nothing more than that Stevenson will submit to the White House or the State Department the sort of comment he normally would be expected to issue publicly on something already done without consultation with him.

Hagerty said he knew nothing about reports that the 1952 and 1956 Democraic presidential nominee might go to Paris with the president next month either as an official or unofficial adviser.

Hagerty said Secretary of State Dulles invited Stevenson late last month to "take part in the work of preparing an American program to be recommended" to the Paris meeting.

There had been earlier reports Stevenson had been invited by the White House to become Democratic adviser on foreign policy—especially with regard to revitalizing the Atlantic alliance.

How to buy $10,000 more life insurance on a "do-it-yourself" budget!

New York Life's Whole Life policy gives your family at least $10,000 protection today . . . builds high cash values for an emergency or for a lifetime retirement income . . . all at very low premiums.

If you're a home handyman not only because you enjoy it but, more important, because it helps stretch the budget, too . . . then New York Life's Whole Life policy is for you.

Whole Life gives your wife and children the extra financial protection every man wants his family to have at a premium most every family should be able to afford. It assures your beneficiaries immediate cash, if you should die. If you live Whole Life steadily builds high cash and loan values that give you a backlog for an emergency. When you reach retirement age, your Whole Life policy can pay you a regular monthly income for the rest of your life!

Best of all, premiums are remarkably low. Whole Life's $10,000 minimum face amount permits savings which are passed along to you. Issued at age 25 for example, the regular monthly premium for Whole Life is only $15.50. Issued at age 35, it's $20.80 and at 45, $29.70. And dividends can be used to reduce payments even further. will be reached between the minister and the governor. However, the governor if he wishes can take issue with government policy and make a stand. It is this possibility that led to the speculative report in a Toronto newspaper which traditionally supports the Conservatives.

The matter was raised on the floor of the house when an Opposition member of parliament asked Prime Minister John Diefenbaker if the report was correct that the Governor of the bank, James Coyne, was to be retired. The Prime Minister said he had not heard the report.

However, with members of the government claiming that the Conservative administration will move to make money more easily available there has been increased speculation that there would have to be a "showdown" between Hon. Donald Fleming, minister of finance and Governor Coyne.

The report caused surprise both in Toronto and Ottawa and alarmed the Opposition that the government might be seeking to make Mr. Coyne the "goat" in an issue that it could carry into parliament and possibly onto the hustings in a general election.

The finance minister in a telephone interview with this correspondent confirmed that he would be meeting with Mr. Coyne. But he emphasized that he met "from time to time" with the governor. "This is just another in a series of meetings we have regularly," he said.

DENIES CLASH

He added, "I am aware of no clash between the governor and myself, nor am I aware of any friction. I certainly am not aware of anything that could properly be called a collision between us."

Mr. Fleming was referring to the Toronto newspaper's report that: "The government's determination to end the former Liberal administration's 'tight money' policies and ease credit restrictions is said to have precipitated a head-on collision with the Bank of Canada."

Mr. Coyne said, when questioned on the report, that there is no important difference of opinion between him and the government on monetary policy.

In reply to a question as to whether he intended to quit his $50,000 a year post he said, "there is nothing at all to such a suggestion."

The Toronto newspaper reported that two main differences said to exist between the government and Mr. Coyne stem from: (1)—The government's proposal that the 8 per cent the chartered banks must deposit with the Bank of Canada as a reserve be reduced, perhaps to 5 per cent To free more money for housing and other developments.

(2)—The government's suggestion that credit restrictions be eased even if it means bringing in legislation.

The Toronto paper quoted an unamed "cabinet source" as saying, "we are not going to fool tround any longer. We've simply got to release more money for housing and small business to give the economy a shot in the arm."

The Toronto paper, a supporter of the Diefenbaker administration reported that Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his cabinet colleagues "fear unusually high unemployment this winter, unless more money can be pumped into the economy." It adds, "Labor Minister Michael Starr admits the out-of-work figures probably will reach 475,000 next March. It is about 194,000 now.

"The effect of sudden and precipitate credit restrictions," he said flatly, "has been to virtually nullify the rights of prospective home owners under the National Housing Act."

The governor of the bank has repeated his warning that inflation is still a great threat to the economy and has urged caution. There has been an easement in the "tight money" situation due largely to economic developments, an easement that the Diefenbaker government hopes to capitalize on in the political field.

According to the Toronto paper two main proposals have been put forward by the Conservative government to the central bank. It claims they were not welcomed by Mr. Coyne.

Specifically, it said, one called for legislation to be introduced to amend the Bank of Canada Act to reduce interest from 8 to 5 per cent. The amount of their statutory deposits the chartered banks must make with the Central Bank. On Oct. 30 this total stood at $906,000,000. The 5 per cent floor was in effect up to about 1952.

If this were done, the paper explained, the chartered banks would have close to $300,000,000 which could be loaned out—with government backing—for housing or small business.

from counsel present, Chief Justice Sloan fixed Dec. 9 as the next date for the inquiry to meet.

New Counsel

Stanley Remnant, QC, who took over today as commission counsel following the withdrawal of Charles Locke, QC, because of illness, said he would go ahead with his preparations.

He said he needed at least three weeks to study the case before he would be ready to go ahead.

Then Walter Owen, QC, counsel for B.C. Forest Products and Tahsis Ltd., asked for a longer adjournment.

Chief Justice Sloan observed that the inquiry was a matter of public interest and should proceed as quickly as possible.

"The report should be in the hands of the government before the session is too far underway," he said.

But then Chief Justice Sloan, recalling the notice served by Mr. Bull, said with a thin smile: "But of course this discussion may be academic."

Must Proceed

The Commissioner said the inquiry must proceed as scheduled "until some higher body—that is the courts (intervenes)."

He hoped that when the Commission reconvened on Dec. 9 that Mr. Remnant would be ready to proceed "without interruption" to complete the inquiry, providing there was no injunction.

Before adjourning the hearing, which lasted about 35 minutes, Chief Justice Sloan again stated that he had been extremely reluctant to accept the appointment as commissioner.

He had done so, he said, only after being pressed by Premier Bennett and after he had consulted with federal Justice Minister Davie Fulton.

Hot Exchange

The hearing today was also highlighted by a hot exchange between Mr. Bull and Mr. Sturdy.

Mr. Sturdy was sitting at the counsel table before Chief Justice Sloan and asked permission to represent accountant Charles Eversfield, who obtained the "body of evidence" that formed the basis of the allegations.

Witnesses are not represented by counsel at these hearings, the commissioner said.

Mr. Bull said Mr. Eversfield "is and has been from the beginning Mr. Sturdy's protege."

It was "unheard of" that Mr. Sturdy could act as his counsel, Mr. Bull said.

Mr. Bull continued:

"Saturday night we were treated to quite a performance in Vancouver by Sturdy and Eversfield on the radio."

The station on which the broadcast was carried was "rather significant" Mr. Bull said.

"It was CKLG, North Vancouver," he said. "But I would not say who the owners are."

Chief Justice Sloan said he had not heard about the radio broadcast and was interested only in what took place before the commission.

Mr. Sturdy admitted that he had appeared on the broadcast, but said he had not said anything or permitted Mr. Eversfield to say anything about the inquiry.

That brought Mr. Bull to his feet again:

Called a Liar

"He called the attorney-general a liar—that was the sum and substance of it."

"You're wrong in your language," Mr. Sturdy retorted.

. . . SOMMERS

Another subject discussed at today's hearing was the scope of the inquiry as fixed by the terms of reference in the provincial order-in-council.

The Commissioner said he had no power to alter the terms of reference, but felt it was his duty to hear arguments and pass them on to the government.

Mr. Sturdy applied to have the terms of reference broadened to include two other forest firms, East Asiatic and Church Sawmills.

The evidence obtained by Mr. Eversfield indicated that money from these firms "however innocently" found its way into the hands of Mr. Sommers, Mr. Sturdy said.

Mr. Sturdy also asked that money which was "allegedly promised" to Mr. Sommers as well as that he may have actually received be included in the inquiry.

He also said the word "loan" should be included, and that an attempt should be made to see if a conspiracy existed between a number of firms and individuals including the former minister.

Chief Justice Sloan said he would pass these requests to the government because he had been asked to go into the matter thoroughly.

No Stultification

"I don't want it to be said there was any stultification on my part," he said.

It was at this point that Mr. Bull rose and said he was challenging the chief justice's jurisdiction to sit on the commission.

The provincial order-in-council exceeded the bounds of the Public Inquiries Act, he said.

Mr. Bull said he would base his argument both on statute and common law.

"The argument will take some time," he said. "This is a very, very serious point.

"I may be in the unfortunate position to issue a writ on Your Lordship," Mr. Bull told Chief Justice Sloan.

An imposing array of legal talent was on hand for today's hearing.

Benides those mentioned, they included:

H. B. Bowering and Col. C. C. Merritt, QC, associated with Mr. Bull as counsel for C. D. Schultz; Harvey Wynes, counsel for Empire Mills Ltd. and B. J. Keely; W. R. Martin, counsel for Pacific Coast Services and Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd., and Oscar Lundell, QC, representing B.C. Forest Products with Mr. Owen.

James Proudfoot appeared for Mr. Sommers.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

. . . COURTROOM

"So when he says he did not see the documents, he's telling only part of the truth."

The Trail Chamber of Commerce wrote Premier Bennett complaining that the absence of MLA Robert Sommers from the riding was working an injury on the district.

The letter, signed by chamber president Fred E. Nichols, said: "As representatives for the business and professional men of Trail-Tadanac and Warfield, we are very perturbed about the lack of business and professional ethics attributed to our local member.

"We should like to be assured that the high ideals upheld by the Chambers of Commerce are applied in all phases of government business.

"We are pleased that you are doing all you can to expedite the course of justice and redress the injury now being sustained by the people represented in our Chamber of Commerce.

is not receivable in any court as written evidence," he said.

Mr. Bonner said he does not expect to be called as a witness before Chief Justice Sloan.

"I see no reason why I should be called," he said.

Mr. Bonner also gave his side of the argument with lawyer David Sturdy over the "body of evidence" involved in the case.

Mr. Sturdy maintains that when he went before the attorney-general in December, 1955, he offered to show him or another official of his department the documents and photostats, but that Mr. Bonner had turned him down.

"I didn't see the material; I have never seen it," Mr. Bonner said.

The attorney-general said he did not understand from Mr. Sturdy that he had the material with him.

"As a matter of fact, they did not realize until after one of my addresses in the legislature that I had not seen it," Mr. Bonner said.

STURDY'S VERSION

"So the next day an effort was made to present it to me. It was at that time I said to give it to the RCMP instead, and Mr. Butler was named to examine it."

Mr. Sturdy gave this version:

"I had the documents in my briefcase when I saw Mr. Bonner in December, 1955. First I handed him the statutory declaration of Charles Eversfield, we discussed it and he questioned Mr. Eversfield.

"When we were leaving, I said, 'now Bob, I have these photostats, but you're too busy to read them, I suggest you should appoint a police officer to look them over.'

Island Boy, Girl Chosen for 4-H Tour of East

Two young Vancouver Island 4-H Club members, Joseph Taylor, 18, of Saanichton, and Anne Chapman, Courtenay, will be among 14 B.C. young people to see eastern Canada as guests of the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs.

They arrived in Vancouver Monday and spent the day touring the city as guests of the B.C. Electric. They leave for the east by train tonight.

Mr. Taylor, who works with his father William Taylor, on their Saanichton dairy farm, and hopes to enter into partnership with him, is the first Saanichton 4-H member to win the trip, and the first boy to be chosen from Vancouver Island.

A member of the Saanich Holstein Calf Club, he was selected because of his winning the B.C. championship in dairy work and for general proficiency.

He and Miss Chapman will spend from Nov. 16 to Nov. 21 in Toronto.

The Royal Winter Fair and a tour of Niagara Peninsula are two of the highlights of the Toronto visit, and they also will take part in a program designed to let them discuss Canadian citizenship and Canada's role in world affairs.

They will visit Ottawa and will attend special receptions given by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Governor-General Vincent Massey. They are expected home about Dec. 1.

ISLAND DIGEST

Island Hunter Turns Up Safe

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — Armour De Roche, 36, missing since 11 a.m. Sunday on Argonaut Mining Co. property near Quinsam, walked into a search party of more than 50 persons Monday afternoon.

De Roche, a Campbell River carpenter, had been the object of a search since Monday morning by RCMP, the Campbell River Ground Observer Corps and fellow employees from the Upper Campbell Lake dam project.

De Roche had set out to go hunting with an unidentified companion at 5 a.m. Sunday. They separated at 11 a.m. De Roche failed to keep a rendezvous and his companion reported to RCMP at Campbell River that he was missing.

The missing man said he got lost in fog. Instead of trying to find his way out, he said he stayed put, lit a fire, dried his clothes and stayed overnight.

He walked into the search party at Upper Quinsam Lake, 20 miles west of Campbell River, apparently none the worse for his night outdoors.

9 Indian Tribes Meet to Pledge Mutual Support

ALBERNI (CP)—Co-operation in common problems of the nine West Coast Indian tribes was pledged at a gathering of chiefs and tribal representatives here Sunday.

The conference also adopted the idea of an Indian Day, an annual event as an aid to unity.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Native Brotherhood.

The chiefs or their counsellors from Ahousaht, Clayoquot, Ucluelet, Toquaht, Uchucklisaht, Ohiaht, Nithnaht, Opitisaht and Sheshaht tribes addressed the gathering.

Most of them endorsed May 24 as the annual date for Indian Day.

Bonspiel Prizes Go to Burglars As Rink Entered

NANAIMO (CP) — Burglars broke into the Nanaimo Curling Rink on the weekend and escaped with stock from the concession quarters, a dollar in cash, bonspiel prizes and a sports shirt.

The thieves ransacked the concession section and broke the lock leading to the kitchen upstairs.

Bulk of the loot was $200 worth of cigarets and confectionery and four electric lanterns which were prizes in a bonspiel. The shirt was to be raffled.

Unable to Pay $40 Fine, Youth Jailed 10 Days

NANAIMO (CP) — One of three young men today is serving a jail term of 10 days because he was unable to find $40 to pay two fines for driving offences.

John D. Ogilvy, convicted Friday, appeared with two companions who were also fined in connection with the same case. Ogilvy's friends, however, raised the money for their fines.

At the time of sentence, Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts handed down jail sentences as alternatives if the trio failed to pay.

UBC Student Fund Receives $258 From Paper Group

NANAIMO (CP) — A $250 gift was made to the University of British Columbia student loan fund Friday by the Pacific Coast branch of the technical section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

The cheque was accepted on behalf of the university by F. E. Murray.

Burglary Charged

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Two young men were remanded without plea on charges of breaking and entering when they appeared in Port Alberni court Saturday.

The charges were connected with an unsuccessful attempt to rob Ryan's Limited warehouse Nov. 6. Accused were James Bain and Herman Theisen.

Belmont School Students Raise $130 for Band

LANGFORD — Students of Belmont Junior-Senior High School raised $130 toward the school band fund through a talent show at the school, directed by D. R. Kerley, teacher and conductor of the school band.

In the junior contest for students of grades 7 and 8, Robin Carlson and Sheila Hincks, pianists, were first and second, respectively. Sheila Middleton, a dancer, and singer Bonnie Flatman, tied for third place.

Winner of the senior division was baton twirler Gail Pederson. Gina Hiscock, ballet dancer, was second, and Faith Bligh, a singer, was third.

Judges were Len Carlson, radio and television announcer; Mrs. G. Sullivan, dancing teacher and former Belmont High staff member; and Miss Donna Speers, former Belmont student now at Victoria College.

Cowichan Lake Weir Aids Salmon

DUNCAN — A weir built by B.C. Forest Products at the outlet of Cowichan Lake, to provide water storage for the company pulp mill at Crofton, has proved of benefit to salmon.

Earlier this fall the drought had reached the point where spring salmon were lingering at the mouth of Cowichan River, awaiting for fall rains.

At the request of the federal fisheries department, the company opened the weir and permitted passage of water that raised the river level eight inches at Skutz Falls and three inches in the Duncan area.

According to reports, salmon took immediate advantage of the higher water and started their upstream course. Higher water has since made passage of the river and Skutz Falls fish ladder possible for the spawning salmon.

It stores sufficient water to maintain stream flow yet serve the pipeline to the pulp mill. Water for the pipeline is drawn by pump from Cowichan River at a point about one mile upstream from here.

GREAT POET

SOARING COSTS SAID PRICING PULP, PAPER OUT OF MARKET

NANAIMO (CP)—Deputy Lands and Forests Minister C. D. Orchard says B.C. foresters will have to grow wood faster and more cheaply if the industry is to justify wages of up to $2 an hour for common labor.

Mr. Orchard told a meeting of forest engineers and chemists of the pulp and paper industry productivity will have to go up if B.C. is to compete with the fast-growing product of warmer countries.

"There's no question that we have priced ourselves out of the market. Every pay increase raises the cost of our product on world markets and lets in that much more competition," he said.

BEFORE LEGAL BOMB BURST

Constitutional Issue Raised; Month's Delay

He indicated he will seek an injunction to block the hearing and is prepared to take the issue to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Bull said he challenged the authority of the provincial government to set up such an inquiry because it was a probe into what amounted to criminal charges.

This authority is vested only in the federal government under the British North America Act, he contended.

However, from his office at the legislative buildings, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said as far as he is aware the inquiry will go ahead.

"Inquiries of this nature have been conducted without question in many provinces in Canada," he said. "The Vancouver police inquiry was one of them."

Mr. Bonner said: "The questions which will come before the commission are not necessary criminal in their implications, although there might be a question of ethics."

Ironed Out

While the next move on whether to attempt to block the inquiry rested with Mr. Bull, expert legal sources expressed the view to the Times that any question of constitutionality could easily be ironed out by the federal government.

They suggested that on a request from Attorney-General Bonner, the federal justice minister, Davie Fulton, could secure an order-in-council conferring the necessary powers on Chief Justice Sloan and open the way for the inquiry to proceed if the courts decide there is any doubt of its constitutionality as now set up.

However, Mr. Bonner's statement was taken as indicating this action would not be considered until the courts deal with the constitutional issue.

Adjourned

In the meantime the inquiry has been adjourned until Dec. 9, partly because of the illness of counsel, and partly because other lawyers want more time to study their cases.

If the constitutional issue is carried to the Supreme Court of Canada, it would cause a further delay in the long drawn-out case.

Mr. Bull, who was counsel for Mr. Sommers at one time in his slander action against lawyer David Sturdy, said his course will be to seek an injunction from the B.C. Supreme Court and have a writ issued on Chief Justice Gordon Sloan.

He said he would first have to consult with his client Wednesday before taking this step but added:

"I can almost say for certain that this action will be taken."

Challenge

Mr. Bull said he was challenging the authority of the provincial government under the Public Inquiries Act to set up an inquiry of this nature to probe what amounted to criminal charges.

This authority is vested only in the federal government by the British North America Act, he said.

Today's session was expected to be only a preliminary hearing to arrange details for the hearings.

Chief Justice Sloan said he could not hear Mr. Bull's arguments and could only wait developments.

"What do you suggest I do?" he asked Mr. Bull at one point.

Mr. Bull replied that the commission should be adjourned until a future date when it could be determined what its future course will be.

After hearing brief arguments

Fiscal Policy Being Staked

By VICTOR MACKIE, Times' Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Canada's Finance Minister Donald Fleming and the governor of the Bank of Canada are meeting in Ottawa this evening for discussions that may radically change the country's fiscal policy.

The meeting has attracted wide attention and inspired reports of a "widening rift" between the government and the bank.

It has led to one report—by a Toronto newspaper favorable to the Conservative government—that refusal of Bank Governor James Coyne to give ground on "tight money" policies might force his resignation.

For the record both Mr. Coyne and Mr. Fleming have emphatically denied that there was any "rift."

The meeting today includes a general discussion of economic affairs. It was arranged a week ago. Both the bank and the government are working towards agreement on arrangements under which there can so be some easement of the tight-money poligy as to encourage new construction and other projects that will provide employment.

The central bank has the responsibility to parliament to combat inflationary tendencies and prevent a runaway inflation. With inflationary pressures increasingly at work in the economy the bank moved last year to increase interest rates which had the effect of tightening up on money.

INTEREST RATES FALL

Canadian interest rates are now falling and the central bank may be in a position to ease up somewhat. The new government wants to see this process moving more quickly but the central bank is moving with caution.

The finance minister and the governor will have under review matters of timing and possible changes that could be made. There is room for compromise and some government sources expect that agreement

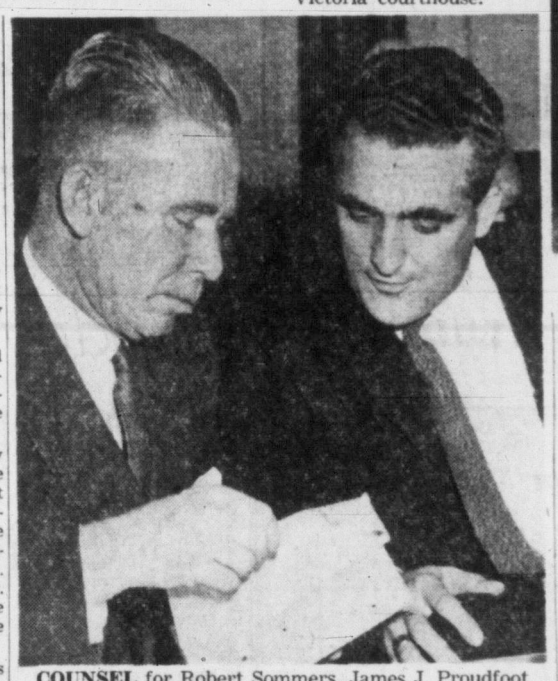
ROME (UP) — Portuguese Princess Maria Pia of Braganca-Saxony-Coburg - Gotha said today she is formally laying claim to the throne of Portugal.



COUNSEL for Robert Sommers, James J. Proudfoot, was seated next to H. B. Bowering, associate of Alfred Bull, as the hearing opened.

U.S. Keeps Air Armada On Alert

PARIS (AP)—The chief of the U.S. Strategic Air Command said today he has planes all over the world loaded with nuclear bombs ready to take off 15 minutes after any warning of a Soviet attack.

Gen. Thomas Powers said the SAC mounted this alert Oct. 1 and has kept it up ever since.

Powers said that one-third of his command would soon be in this state of alert.

"The planes are on the runways loaded with nuclear bombs," said the general. "The crews sleep nearby. We are increasing the number of planes on the alert to one-third of our effectives. The planes can be off in 15 minutes. The alert began Oct. 1."

Powers implied that the United States is keeping planes aloft loaded with nuclear bombs.

The general said that at any given moment a certain percentage of SAC planes were in the air and "we're not carrying swords or bows and arrows."

The general said it was not true that Russian missiles could simultaneously knock out the U.S. bases all over the world.

"It is not so and nobody knows it better than Khrushchev," Powers said.

APPOINTED commission counsel Monday to replace Charles Locke, who was excused due to illness, was Vancouver prosecutor Stanley J. Remnant, QC. (Times Photos.)

LAWYER DAVID STURDY . . . I'm ready

AT SLOAN HEARING

Legal Counsel Outnumber Spectators

There were 38 persons in the age-mellowed Court of Appeal Chamber at Victoria Courthouse today as the Sloan Commission opened.

Of these, seven were spectators; 14 were legal counsel; 14 represented press, radio and TV; one secretary, one court stenographer, and the Chief Justice himself completed the roster.

Expectation among counsel was for a short opening session, and a period of time to prepare the case.

Before the commission opened Chief Justice Sloan said: "The longer the preparation, the faster we will get it over.

PRINCIPALS ABSENT

Many of the counsel were from Vancouver.

Absent from the court room as the case opened were two of the principals, former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers and Charles W. Eversfield, who was to have been a key defence witness in the Sommers-Sturdy slander case.

Counsel James J. Proudfoot snapped out a brisk "no statement" when he was asked the whereabouts of Mr. Sommers, and whether he would appear.

Mr. Eversfield has returned to B.C. to testify at the royal commission. He arrived in Vancouver Sunday from California, where he has been living since late 1955. He spent Monday in Chilliwack with his mother and three brothers.

Eversfield supplied Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy with photostats and a statutory declaration which became the basis of Sturdy's corruption charges against Mr. Sommers.

Mr. Sturdy was at the commission today as counsel for Mr. Eversfield.

Asked why he returned for hearings of the Royal Commission, Mr. Eversfield said in Vancouver:

"I felt it was my duty to attend, even though my bookkeeping business in Los Angeles needs special attention at this time."

He said he had not been subpoenaed but expected that he would be. He also expected that the government would pay his expenses.

REPORT AVAILABLE

Meanwhile, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the RCMP report on the Sommers case will be made available to the Royal Commission.

Mr. Bonner said he would never make the report public, but will turn it over to Sloan Commission counsel Stanley Remnant if he wants it.

The report was made by former RCMP Inspector W. J. Butler, following his investigation into the allegations of bribe-taking against former forests minister Robert Sommers.

"I shall never release it to the public," Mr. Bonner said, "but I shall co-operate with counsel in every way, and if the commission counsel wants the report, he shall have it."

The attorney-general said it would be against the principles of British justice to release the police report.

"It is not sworn evidence and

Hit-and-Run Victim, 89, Near Death

An 89-year-old pedestrian, George Morley, 712 Vancouver, victim of a hit-run collision at Quadra and Meares at 11.05 a.m. today, was reported in critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital at deadline.

Police said the man apparently had just started across Quadra or had nearly completed crossing the street when the accident occurred. He was found six feet from the west curb of Quadra at the end of Meares.

A passing motorist who witnessed the accident obtained a licence number of a car believed to be involved and followed it several blocks, police said.

Laika Alive, Dead? ---Still a Mystery

LONDON (UP)—The fate of Laika, the dog aboard Sputnik II, was growing into somewhat of a mystery today.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin told reporters Monday night the dog was alive when the satellite was last heard from Sunday but that he had received no new reports.

Moscow scientists expressed belief the space dog was dead, and the Communist newspaper Izvestia said today in Rome it was dead although the official announcement had been held up.

The latest Sputnik rumor cropped up in New Delhi where wholly unconfirmed reports said Laika had landed near Jubbulpore in central India, after being ejected by an escape mechanism.

The Baltimore Sun quoted an unidentified source in Russia as saying the dog was catapulted successfully out of its orbiting satellite and landed some 30 miles from Moscow. It did not say if the dog was alive.

LONDON (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth today knighted Lt.-Gen. Sir Gerald Lathbury, former commander-in-chief, East Africa, and Air Vice-Marshal Sir Laurence Sinclair, until recently air officer commanding the British forces in the Arabian Peninsula.

Death Blamed on Flu

OCEAN FALLS (CP) — A 20-year-old Indian youth died here Monday as ambulance men were about to lift him into a plane that was to take him to Vancouver for hospital treatment. Harvey Sillace, 20, of Bella Coola was believed to have died from complications arising from the flu.

Russia Urges UN Disband Arms Group

NEW YORK (CP)—The Soviet Union today repeated its demand for the dissolution of the United Nations disarmament commission made up of the entire 82 membership.

The Soviet delegation tabled in the General Assembly a resolution to this effect which was rejected in the political committee last week after that body had endorsed the Western disarmament proposals. The assembly is expected to meet Thursday to begin debate on disarmament.

Earlier today a Russian delegate indicated his government will give serious thought to an Indian compromise plan to get East-West disarmament talks going again.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Eternal God, our Father, grant unto us this day a calmness of spirit and a quietness of mind which come to those whose faith is stayed on Thee. In the swift cross currents of life in Thy love and by Thy truth. Keep our minds lighted by wisdom from above and our hearts warmed by Thy abiding presence. Give us victory over our temptations. Lift us out of our doubts by facing us with the tasks of Thy kingdom. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Three Girls Hanged, Mother Charged

Artificial Respiration Revives Fourth Child

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Maureen O'Donohue, charged Monday with murder in the hanging of three of her four young daughters, was remanded today to a psychiatric hospital.

Prior to her court appearance this morning the 27-year-old wife of a prominent Toronto lawyer was held in a police station room guarded by a policewoman. She was described as in an overwrought condition and sobbing frequently.

Police said all four O'Donohue children were found Monday hanging in the basement of the family's fashionable suburban Leaside home. One was revived by artificial respiration, and was in good condition in hospital today.

Mrs. O'Donohue was arrested about two hours after the discovery.

Attempts to revive Maureen, four; Eileen, three, and Katherine, two, were unsuccessful. Mary Josephine, six months, responded to hospital treatment.

Police said Mrs. O'Donohue, an ex-nurse from Belleville, Ont., was under treatment as a hospital out-patient from Aug. 29 to Sept. 28.

PHONED HUSBAND

The children were found by Mrs. Jean Turner, a non-practising doctor who lives next door, after she received a telephone call from Melville J. O'Donohue. He said his wife had phoned his downtown office to complain that she was ill.

Mrs. Turner told police Mrs. O'Donohue, weeping and distraught, met her at the door and, sensing trouble, she searched the house.

She found the children hanging together by ropes in a basement laundry room. Untying the ropes she called police and firemen and summoned other neighbors to aid her in applying artificial respiration.

WANDERED ON STREET

Police said Mrs. O'Donohue wandered on the street until she met another neighbor.

"I knew something was wrong with her but I didn't know what," said Mrs. R. H. Loveland.

"I walked up and down the street with her until Mrs. Turner and another neighbor picked us up in a car and took us back to the house where Mr. O'Donohue was waiting."

Police reported Mr. O'Donohue then took his wife to St. Anselm's Roman Catholic Church where they were met by the curate, Rev. E. J. Law. Mrs. O'Donohue was later arrested.

The O'Donohues were described by neighbors as a happy couple.

Said one: "It was a home filled with love and tenderness."

Police Hunt Father, Son In Slaying

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario Provincial Police said today they have issued warrants for the arrest of a father and son in connection with the slaying of bank manager J. J. Walter Bridges.

Bridges, native of Strathclair, Man., was shot to death Oct. 9 in an unsuccessful attempt to rob a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Blind River, Ont.

Inspector W. H. Kennedy identified the suspects as Fred Montgomery, alias John Chadwick, 41, and his son, Rodney Montgomery, 17. He said they may be headed west.

Insp. Kennedy said they will be charged jointly with murder.

In Timmins, Police Chief Gordon Peacock said the two are also charged with armed robbery in the Oct. 15 holdup of a men's clothing store there.

He said both men have lived in Toronto and in the Sudbury district. The older man also lived for a time in the Blind River area. He said the last trace of the two was at Gogama, Ont., some days after the Blind River shooting and that possibly they have headed towards western Canada.

Tots Found Beaten to Death With Hammer

Police Hold Mother In Quebec Slaying

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—Three young children of Mr. and Mrs. Julien Gorka were found today beaten to death with a sledgehammer and provincial police took the 36-year-old mother into custody as a material witness.

The bodies were found by a brother of Mrs. Gorka after she had come to his home next door and told him the children were dead.

The children were identified as Jean Paul, 5; Andre, 4, and Jules, 1. The Gorka family lives in Rapides-Plats, 1½ miles from Ste. Hyacinthe and about 30 miles east of Montreal.

Mrs. Gorka, the former Aurora Racine, was taken to provincial police headquarters in Montreal. No charges in cases of violent death are laid in Quebec province until a coroner's inquest has been held.

Neighbors said the oldest boy, Jean Paul, had been suffering from a sick stomach most of the night and his mother had been up attending to him. They said she remarked Monday she was tired and depressed.

They said also Mrs. Gorka was treated in Montreal last summer for a nervous breakdown.

FIVE HUNTERS DROWNED

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — Two members of the Toronto metropolitan police force and three companions were reported to have drowned Monday night on a hunting trip to Pine Lake, 90 miles southwest of this Ottawa Valley town.

Man Trapped in Well Survives Mud Ordeal

BEAUSEJOUR, Man. (CP) — A Beausejour district man was trapped in a 25-foot-deep well before being rescued Monday night.

Today, Mike Hlatky, 44, was in good condition in hospital here.

Mr. Hlatky said that because there was little water in the well of his farm home, he decided to dig a few extra feet at the bottom in hope of hitting water.

His wife Margaret was working above surface, pulling up pails of mud with a rope.

"I tried to move around but I kept sinking. I sank up to my waist in the mud. I got one foot out but the other foot began to go under."

Mrs. Hlatky tried vainly for two hours to pull him out, using a rope and ladder without success. Finally, she got in touch with a district farmer, who called the RCMP at Beausejour, 38 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

A rope was tied onto Mr. Hlatky and the RCMP pulled but the farmer remained mired.

A pump was brought to take out the steadily rising water.

The pump wouldn't work.

Seven Convicts Recaptured After Manitoba Jail Break

HEADINGLEY, Man. (CP)—Two of seven convicts who escaped Sunday night from the Headingley jail were recaptured today on the northwestern outskirts of Greater Winnipeg.

RCMP said Jacob Henry Young, 20, and Murray Russell Truman, 23, were picked up by police in nearby St. James about 9.30 a.m.

Five others who fled jail at the same time were arrested Monday after they cracked up a stolen car while being chased by police in Winnipeg.

Young and Truman were spotted when they came out on the road, chilled from their stay in the open since they fled from the jail 12 miles west of Winnipeg.

Police encountered no resistance.

The seven escaped by sawing through a bar on a second-floor window and dropping 20 and 25 feet to the ground. The break came during air exercise period.

Monday the stolen car skidded into a telephone pole and two of the men were injured while three others took another car. The second car was stooped at the Redwood bridge across the Red River in Winnipeg.

Pickersgill Charges Tory 'Shortchanging'

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. W. Pickersgill said today the Progressive Conservative government apparently plans to "shortchange" nine provinces to meet the fiscal demands of Premier Frost of Ontario.

The former Liberal immigration minister said in the Commons throne speech debate that there is growing apprehension among the "poorer provinces" that they will receive less from the Conservatives than they did from the Liberals under the federal - provincial tax - sharing formula.

Mr. Pickersgill said the federal - provincial fiscal conference here Nov. 25-26 probably will be "another Mont Tremblant."

Action would be put off as it had been done in the case of the Mont Tremblant, Que., meeting of Commonwealth finance ministers. A veil of secrecy had descended over the trade proposals made to and by the Canadian government at that meeting.

The government intended for as long as possible to do nothing for the poorer provinces. When it finally would have to do something, it would shortchange them.

Conservative Premier Frost had asked $100,000,000 more from the federal government.

Mr. Pickersgill, MP for Bonavista-Twillingate, Nfld., said he is afraid Mr. Frost's demand will have to be met and there wouldn't be enough money left for all the other provinces.

If Canadians were to have anything approaching equal opportunity, the federal government must take in tax money and redistribute it fairly evenly across the whole country.

Mr. Pickersgill said he was recently told by an experienced political analyst: "Canada extends from sea to sea but the new government extends from the Humber to the Don and from the Ontario lakeshore to Eglinton."

This area is the southern portion of Toronto.

NO IKE VISIT 'SAD NEWS'

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons today the British government "would much welcome a return visit to this country by the President of the United States".

Macmillan added: "He has, however, informed me that to his great regret he cannot make such a visit on this particular occasion."

Macmillan was answering questions from members as to whether Eisenhower could visit Britain after his visit to Paris for the NATO council meeting.

40 Volunteers Clear Brush At Beaver Lake

More than 40 volunteers turned out Sunday for brush clearing operations at Beaver Lake and by day's end 600 feet of the lake margin had been prepared for beach construction.

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee officials said "there was a good response from parents of children who use the beaches frequently."

The clearing operation by volunteers is intended as a means of stretching a $52,000 grant for park development as a centennial year project.

Naval officials were expected to begin underwater stump blasting later today. The navy's contribution is also expected to greatly reduce the overall cost of the job.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

Frustration

JUST before the boss of our house and I retire at night, we try to arrange what we call our "quiet time."

We brew a pot of tea, sit at opposite sides of the table and work on relaxing to regain our composure after evening hours with adolescents who study noisily, break into loud excerpts from the "top ten" and attempt to instruct us in the broad fields of higher education.

Stott

Usually our state of exhaustion precludes thought or conversation. But occasionally, if circumstances demand it, we can talk over domestic crises which have arisen and defences we should erect against the assault by youth.

Recently we have undergone a barrage of psychology. This, we believe, is standard experience in any house where a young person studies that subject.

A little knowledge of psychology gained by an adolescent provides the adolescent with a whole new arsenal of weapons with which to enforce the youthful will on the uninformed adult.

SCIENCE AND THE WHITE RAT

"I would like to discuss with you," the attack begins, "an experiment we studied today.

"In this experiment was a white rat. It was in a cage. Food was slidden down a chute to it. The rat took the food because it was hungry. It wanted the food.

"Then it was put in another cage, with another chute down which food was slidden. But in this cage there was a gadget that swung down and konked the poor little white rat on the head whenever the poor little white rat tried to pick up the food slidden down to it.

"At first the poor little white rat drew back when it was konked on the head. When it went near the chute even if food wasn't slidden down to it, this gadget whopped it.

"The poor little white rat got frustrated. It was punished for getting food it wanted and it was punished even when it didn't get food it wanted.

"So the poor little white rat said, 'I'm going to get punished whether I do what I want to or not, so I might as well do what I want to and get something for the licking I'm taking.'

"Now," said the young lecturer with an unexpected by apt turn of phrase, "the conditions in this house are identical.

"I get punished. I get punished for doing what I want to do and shouldn't do. And I get punished whether or not I do what I want to do and what you say I shouldn't do. So, you see, I do what I want to. I'm the poor little white rat and you've frustrated me."

You hope to divert the argument with a digressive needle. "So you're a little rat, are you?" you ask.

"A poor little white rat, please," comes back the reply. "But don't evade the issue, you're frustrating me. How can you blame me for what I do when you don't like it?"

To which we reply with a desultory "Yeah."

WORST TO COME

The boss of our house and I have gone into this little problem over our midnight tea. Our reactions are what you might expect, if you probe a little below the surface.

We are not impressed by the distorted personality we are allegedly creating for a juvenile student of psychology. We are, on the other hand, impressed by the possible developments to come and are making preparations accordingly.

The next step, as we see it, will be disconcerting. Or it would be to the unwarned. When the young student of psychology has progressed a few more chapters in the textbook, a not-so-subtle change will take place. The student will become an expert psycho-analyst.

In the days ahead we will become the subjects of psycho-analysis. Our every waking moment will be observed with sinister interest. Our most innocent acts will be studied for hidden motivation.

To be forewarned is to be fore-armed. We're almost ready. We'll acquire a second daybed so both of us may recline when the neophyte psycho-analyst goes into action. This is the kind of thing to be taken lying down.

The student doesn't know anything about frustration yet. Wait till she hits our inert psychic weight on our couches. Frustration, hah!

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Pregnancy Stops Migraine

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Women want to know why their previously-severe migraines quit entirely during their pregnancy. Actually, no one knows. One can suspect that the change was due to some change in the glandular hormones of the body, perhaps cortisone. The improvement in cases of migraine may be similar to that which we see sometimes in cases of a stomach ulcer, rheumatoid arthritis, asthma or some chronic skin disease—when the woman gets pregnant. What has puzzled me and made me feel that all the available explanations for the relief of migraine by pregnancy are of little value is the fact that some women with a severe migraine tell me they were completely relieved during one pregnancy and left unhelped or made worse during another pregnancy. For a while I questioned such women to see if it made any difference if the child was a boy or a girl, but this apparently wasn't the answer.

Alvarez

Curiously, people with frequent migraines are often cured for six months or so when they get jaundiced. What interested me much was to find a migrainous person who lost her headaches completely for several weeks before the jaundice appeared. This showed that the improvement was due to changes in the liver and not to bile in the blood. Since early days, many people have blamed their migrainous headaches on disease of the liver, but once I asked Dr. Carl Morlock to investigate this at the Mayo Clinic, and he found that not only were people with definite disease of the liver largely immune to migraine but often they lost their headaches the day their liver went bad.

Recently, a woman with a bad migraine, who got jaundiced following the taking of a tranquilizer, had no relief from her headaches. Apparently, then, the jaundice produced by a tranquilizer is different from one produced by a hepatitis (inflammation of the liver) or by an obstructing gallstone.

Many persons think that they can get rid of their headaches by parting with some gallstones, but in my experience, in 99 per cent of cases, the headaches go on just the same after the removal of the gallbladder.

CHANCE OBSERVATIONS PRODUCING CURES

Every so often a physician will observe something that gives him an idea out of which comes a cure for some disease. For instance, some 160 years ago an English general practitioner, named Edward Jenner, was told by milk maids that they didn't have to get smallpox because, early in life, they had contracted cowpox from blisters on the udders of their cows. Jenner pondered on this, and finally inoculated his children with material from the cowpox pustules. Then he exposed the children to smallpox, and they did not get it. Because of Jenner's following up of his hunch, soon millions of persons throughout the world were being saved from suffering and death.

Similarly, years ago, a physician noted a fact that had apparently been known from ancient times, namely, that persons with a form of insanity called paresis, often regained their reason when they had an attack of malaria. He started giving such patients malaria, and the method worked so well that it was used until penicillin came along to help the persons get well in an easier and safer way.

NORMAL BLOOD PRESSURE

Many people ask, "What is normal blood pressure?" Actually, of course, in most cases it varies with age. In young people under 40 I think the systolic pressure (at the top of the pulse wave) ought to be between 90 and 130 mm. of mercury. Some physicians, when they see a pressure of from 90 to 110 mm. think it is so low it should be treated, but I never could share this view; I have seen too many healthy persons and even athletes with a pressure arond 100 mm. I used to have such a pressure when in my twenties, every summer I would walk 20 miles a day through the California Sierras and climb mountains along the way. Today, my systolic pressure is 137 mm. of mercury and I am very grateful it is that low.

In a high percentage of cases the systolic pressure in both men and women tends to go up with the years. But here is an important point: In quite a few cases of both men and women, it never does go up. My father at the age of 84 still had a systolic blood pressure of about 130 mm. As I said, some physicians think that such a pressure in an old person is too low and should be treated, but I just rejoice when I see it.

Khrushchev 'Insecure' Claims Ex.-U.S. Envoy

LONDON (AP)—George F. Kennan, a leading student of Soviet affairs, said Sunday night Nikita Khrushchev's position is insecure and that a deepening crisis threatens Soviet rule.

The former U.S. ambassador to Moscow and author of the containment theory of U.S. foreign policy asserted in a BBC radio address that, as a result of the demotion of Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Khrushchev now has "achieved the pinnacle of power he wanted—but he is very isolated and exposed in his occupancy of it."

Kennan is a staff member of the Institute for Advanced Studies of Princeton, N.J., and this year is a visiting professor of Oxford University. He won a Pulitzer Prize last spring for his work on the history of the beginnings of Soviet-American relations.

HEAVY COST

He said Khrushchev's recent success has been purchased at a heavy cost.

"Khrushchev now has offended and estranged from the central political process, one by one, the intelligentsia, the industrial managers and a portion of the officers' corps of the armed services," he said.

"Plainly this is not a stable situation. I cannot believe that it will be of long duration."

It was too late to recapture minds which had begun to ask penetrating questions.

He added that the Soviet economy now is maturing and beginning to run up against problems familiar to all the advanced industrial countries.

VERSATILE PLANT

Besides paper, the ancients also used papyrus for making boats, sails and awnings.

ROYAL STATUE 'AFRICANIZED'

"An emphasis on the lips, a slight flattening of the nose, a certain aura of placidity in the expression betray, it seems to me, the nationality of the sculptor."

The statue is to be presented to the Nigerian House of Representatives.

Tory Regime Hit by Martin

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Paul Martin, former Liberal health minister, said Monday night "some disquieting things have been happening" in Canada since Prime Minister Diefenbaker's Conservative government took office four months ago.

"The stock market has gone down. There has been a general decline in factory sales. Retail sales, transportation movements and many other activities have slowed down.

"Hundreds of thousands of persons are without work, and according to government statiticians, unemployment will be more serious this winter than at any time since the war—that is, unless something is done about it, and done quickly."

Mr. Martin, speaking over the CBC television network on a 15-minute free-time program, The Nation's Business, said nowhere is the government floundering worse than in its handling of trade.

VICTORIA, B.C., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1957

HERE . . . . . AND THERE

With

NORMAN CRIBBENS

Songs of the desperate years rang through Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion on Remembrance Day.

Soldiers, sailors and airmen of the 'forties were there to join Mrs. Bonar Hannay, formerly of Lancaster, England, singing "There'll Be Blue Birds Over the White Cliffs of Dover," "Wish Me Luck as You Wave Me Goodbye" and the evergreen "Pack Up Your Troubles".

Earlier, at the annual Cenotaph service outside the Legislative Buildings, a fine old soldier collapsed. His doctor had advised him not to go, but he wouldn't stay away.

"My buddies are buried over there," he muttered as ambulance men led him to a friendly car.

When this newspaper published a three-line item about tiny Eigg Island in the Scottish Hebrides—and misspelled it Egg Island—the chances of the mistake being noticed in Victoria seemed remote.

But we reckoned without Mrs. Ann Russell, of 1904 Fort Street. Mrs. Russell turned out to be the only ex-Eigg Islander in Victoria, if not in Canada.

"I've lived in Canada more than 49 years," she wrote, "and I've yet to meet anyone who comes from there."

I called on Mrs. Russell, a kindly white-haired lady, in her trim third-floor apartment and learned something of the rigors of life in the storm-tossed Hebrides — no transport, mail by steamer twice a week (weather permitting) . . . a one-room schoolhouse for children of all ages.

"The schoolhouse was in the centre of the island and most of us walked two or three miles there and back every day. There was no radio then and in bad weather we were completely cut off from the world outside. . . .

"The island belonged to a Mr. Thomson, who lived on the mainland, and he paid for the schoolchildren to have cocoa and biscuits every morning in winter. He took a sort of proprietary interest in us and when he came to Eigg it was like a royal visit, with everyone dressed up for the occasion . . ."

Mrs. Russell is the widow of William Russell, a former CNR employee, who came from the Orkney Islands.

"My husband never saw a train until he came to Canada," she said, "and when he did he decided then and there he was going to be a railroader."

Rumor has it that Courtney Haddock, manager of Woodward's store, is to be promoted to head office in Vancouver . . .

Also that Herbert Anscomb, leader of the Conservative party in B.C.'s Coalition Government and a former finance minister, is planning a comeback to the political scene . . .

Had he taken up music instead of politics, I feel sure he would have been up there on the conductor's podium, galvanizing the orchestra with those grandiloquent gestures he uses at press conferences.

I told a local wag I had been in touch with Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, every day last week for news of the Sputnik II.

"Good heavens" he exclaimed. "You must be petrie-fied!"

A-G Asks House Probe Of Juvenile Problems

Rejects Royal Commission Plea After Visit to U.K.

Instead, he said he will propose to the legislature that a standing committee look into the problem.

The attorney-general, back from a trip to Britain, said B.C. is doing a good job of handling the juvenile delinquency problem.

A Royal Commission on juvenile delinquency was called for last July by the B.C. Youth Council in a brief presented to the provincial cabinet.

At that time the attorney-general said he would make no decision on the request until he had examined the British system.

"British arrangements are widespread because they have a population much greater than B.C. has," he said today, "but there is no reason to think that we are backward here."

In the youth council brief, a report from the Community Chest and Council of Greater Vancouver stated there were inadequate funds and personnel in B.C. for care of youths who need rehabilitation; juvenile court judges lacked legal training; there were not enough juvenile courts, and the training of police dealing with youths was "often most inadequate."

Councillor In Car Crash

Saanich Councillor Ainslie Worthington, 3915 Blenkinsop, was taken to Jubilee Hospital with face cuts and shock suffered when his car went out of control and crashed into a power pole at 8.30 a.m. today.

His condition was "quite satisfactory" at noon.

Police said the accident occurred as Mr. Worthington drove alone north on Quadra and apparently lost control of his car near McKenzie.

The car and pole were damaged extensively, and electric wires were torn down.

WIDE OPEN GAS SALE HOURS ASKED BY AUTOMOBILE CLUB

Victoria Automobile Club today asked city council to avoid restricting hours of gasoline sales.

A by-law now being processed by council would require service stations to either close at 6 p.m. or stay open 24 hours a day.

"We believe the matter of hours, in this case should be left to the discretion of the operators themselves," said the V.A.C. ". . . particularly in view of the fact that gasoline and its by-products, are in nature of 'public utilities.'"

Council has so far supported the idea of some regulation to ensure service at all hours.

Gasoline Prices Creep Downward

All Major Companies Announce Cuts; Some Slow in Putting Them in Effect

Victoria gasoline prices are gradually creeping downward.

Some service stations have cut the price of their standard grade gasoline by half a cent, others have cut both standard and premium prices, and others are selling at last week's prices.

The gas price situation arose Friday when Imperial Oil Limited announced the wholesale price of its standard grade and certain industrial gasolines would be dropped by one-half cent.

By Saturday all other major companies had announced similar cuts, although some have been tardy in putting them into effect.

Shell Oil said the cut would apply to premium gas in addition to regular grade, and made the changes effective today.

Companies were careful to point out that they control wholesale prices only, and that retail prices charged are set by the service station operators.

In nearly all cases where the reduction has been effected the full half-cent saving has been passed on to the customer.

Centennial Stage Coach Goes May 8

Preliminary plans were formed today for a gala send-off when the Centennial stage coach leaves Victoria on its run to Barkerville.

Tentative date for the departure is May 8, in connection with issuance of the B.C. Centennial stamp, and the Philatelic Society convention.

At the meeting were Ald. Geoff Edgelow and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, representing the Victoria committee, and Ted Fox and J. R. Turnbull, representing the B.C. Centennial committee.

Mr. Turnbull has been selected as driver of the coach, a replica of those used in the pioneer days.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Two large oil portraits, one of Queen Elizabeth and the other of the Duke of Edinburgh, went on display in the Art Gallery here today.

They will be shown for three weeks, together with portraits of other Royal Family members.

The two oils were purchased in England during the recent visit of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Frank Ross, and will be left in Government House when the present incumbent retires.

Artist was the well-known portraitist Arthur Pan.

Police said the youth tossed the bomb at the feet of a group of pedestrians walking on Yates Street in the opposite direction.

When stopped, Devon had 26 similar firecrackers in his shirt front, police said.

Sale of Remembrance Day poppies and wreaths rose to $7,672 today and total contributions may set a new record, campaign chairman H. L. Butteris said today.

Donations from Greater Victoria schools and money in collection cans at many vantage points in the city have not been totaled yet, he said. Sale of poppies on dowtown streets Saturday account for $4,672 of today's total.

TB X-Rays Find Only 8 Active Cases

Only eight active cases of tuberculosis were discovered by a mobile X-ray clinic which examined 13,295 persons in this area last spring, it was learned today.

Five of these were uncovered in shipyard areas.

Three were located in the Chinese community.

The report of Dr. R. M. Lane, medical director of Vancouver Island Chest Centre, was submitted today to Victoria-Esquimalt Union Board of Health.

5,000 AT CENOTAPH

Silent Tribute Paid War Dead

By AB KENT

It was Remembrance Day and the people of Greater Victoria paid homage to their dead of three wars.

Downtown, bareheaded under weeping skies, nearly 5,000 men, women and many children gathered at the Cenotaph for the traditional 11 a.m. service.

And marked by the boom of guns on the Causeway they began their tribute by adding two minutes' silence to the endless quiet of the fallen.

"They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning we will remember them."

PLEDGE OBLIGATION

In these words, quoted by Pro Patria Legion secretary Clem Gill, the veterans and those spared the ravage of war pledge their obligation to Canada's dead servicemen.

The Legionnaire added graver words.

He said the sacrifice of those who went before offers a challenge and inspiration for the surviving to labor on, to fulfill their trust.

"We live in unsettled times. Let us, therefore, re-dedicate ourselves to service, and pray that men everywhere may yet learn to live in peace."

Pipers played the lament and the band of HMCS Naden led in hymns.

Crowded around the wet stone memorial were detachments of naval, army, air force and RCMP personnel; veterans, service league women, boys and girls of cadet corps.

Over their heads rose the words of Major the Rev. Ralph E. H. Howell, Royal Canadian Army Chaplain Corps, who offered prayers. They echoed back over the hushed streets and lawns from the Legislative Buildings and Empress Hotel.

"Remember, O Lord, all those, the brave and the true, who have died the death of honor . . ."

Navy trumpeters sounded the Last Post and Reveille. Then, led by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross, Mrs. C. E. Duke who represented all bereaved mothers and widows, provincial cabinet member Ray Williston, Rev. J. L. W. McLean and Mayor Percy Scurrah, delegates from organizations and the armed forces laid wreaths.

The stirring "Land of Hope and Glory" by the naval band wafted over the crowd as wreath after wreath of red poppies were banked at the foot of the monument.

Participating units left the area in march past, service commanders and the lieutenant-governor taking the salute on the Causeway, as here and there respectful bursts of applause went up for the city's veterans.

NAVAL PARADE

Prayers and tributes were made simultaneously with the city's service at Esquimalt's Memorial Park after a parade bulwarked by naval personnel, Esquimalt Legion and members of Esquimalt Petty Officers' Association.

Of the fallen, Mr. McLean said, "In that better world their spirits march under a new command."

Saanich held its first Remembrance Day service at rededicated Gore Memorial Park in the afternoon.

A cairn setting the place aside for posterity as sacred ground to the memory of the war dead was unveiled by Lt.-Col. J. C. Cave, Esquimalt Garrison commander representing the minister of national defence.

The act culminated a long struggle by citizens of the neighborhood to have the place restored following decades of neglect.

Finally, at windswept Uplands Park, Oak Bay held the last memorial service of the day, municipal officers, ministers, church choirs and citizens forming a semi-circle around the roll of honor which singles out the fallen of the Second World War.

The tow was to be taken over by an Island Tug & Barge tug. Baku will be towed to Vancouver for repairs.

She lost her propeller Wednesday about 400 miles west of Vancouver, in comparatively moderate weather.

Both are inbound for Vancouver for grain cargoes. A third Soviet freighter, the Valery Chkalov, is also due at Vancouver late today or early Wednesday.

Walters May Contest Esquimalt Reeveship

Esquimalt police commissioner Elvan Walters said today he will either run for reeve or councillor in the December municipal elections.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," he said, "but it will be one or the other." As candidate for reeve, Mr. Walters would oppose Reeve A. C. Wurtele, who is seeking his fourth term in the post.

Mr. Walters' two-year term on the police commission ends this year and according to terms of the new Municipal Act the post will be filled by provincial appointment.

Mr. Walters said he would not accept the appointment "under any conditions, not even if it were a paid job."

"I don't believe in being appointed to office," he said. "It's dead against my principles."

Office by appointment borders on dictatorship, he said. "We're reverting back to the Fascist and Nazi idea of a police state. There is a smell of dictatorship in this province right now."

Another commissioner, Donald Douglas, said it "could be" he would run for council, "but I am not definite on it yet."

Pulp Workers' Strike Set For Thursday

British Columbia pulp and paper workers—6,000 strong—are ready to go on strike Thursday at 8 a.m.

A. E. Brown, vice-president of the United Papermakers and Paper Mill Workers' Union, Vancouver, said:

Mayor Confident Of Support for City Hall Plan

Mayor Percy Scurrah believes his suggestion to combine a new city hall with an auditorium, when and if a new hall is built, will find support.

"Quite a few people have told me they support the combined-hall-auditorium. I am pleased with the reaction."

The mayor felt the building should be part of the civic centre envisaged last week by Capital Region Planning Board near Christ Church Cathedral.

ASK The TIMES

Q—How did Edinburgh, Scotland, get its name?—A. S.

A—The history of the city began in the 7th century when Edwin, King of Northumbria, built a fortress on Castle Rock. Around it sprang up the city of Edwin's Burgh, from which the name came. In 1436 it became Scotland's capital.

Q—Where is the Emperor Charlemagne buried? B.F.

A—In the cathedral at Aachen, Germany. He began building the cathedral—it was later rebuilt—in 796 and he made the city the centre of European culture and the capital of his dominions north of the Alps.

'Hardly Time to Pull Cork' On City Run—TCA Manager

Serving vintage wines and champagne on flights between Victoria and Vancouver would only leave would-be tipplers frustrated, Victoria TCA manager Wallace Courtney said today.

"You'd hardly have time to pull the cork before the plane landed," he said.

Mr. Courtney was answering a Chamber of Commerce official's statement that liquors should be served on the flights to justify higher rates and claim of first-class service.

UP 40 CENTS

TCA announced last week fares would increase 40 cents to $5 for a one-way ticket and $1.40 to $10 for a return flight.

The move was attacked Saturday by Ben Tennyson, chairman of the chamber's industrial group.

"Why should Victoria and Vancouver air travellers be forced to subsidize the non-paying routes of TCA?" he asked. "The DC-3 is the cheapest plane to operate and costs are the same whether planes are earning money in the air or lying idle on the ground."

The DC-3 is not considered first class by any other airline in the world, he said.

"So far as my wife and I are concerned, on this flight, I have been given chewing gum instead of a pressurized cabin, and a plastic lapel pin of the plane in which I should have been carried for a first-class trip."

Liquor is served only on overseas routes, Mr. Courtney said. "I doubt that it would ever be sensible to serve liquor on a short run, such as from Victoria to Vancouver. By the time you get your seat belt fastened and have a cigaret you're over there."

"While the aircraft are small, this is still a first-class run," he said. "The DC-3 is very acceptable to the public and is entirely dependable. We've never had any complaints about it from our passengers."

Mr. Courtney said prices were increased because the coastal service had been "running in the red."

"Our bureau of economics has advised us that this run was a heavy loser. The very fact that we've had volume has kept this loss down. Extra volume is not causing the loss but reducing it."

Make-It-Yourself Aprons Are Permanently Pleated

By PENNY SAVER

Here's a Christmas gift suggestion: permanently-pleated aprons in new and cheerful prints that you can make yourself. The apron is pre-cut and made of crisp cotton for ages of freshness! Buy several sets of this gay and giddy pattern to make for yourself as well as your friends. Each set costs $1.69.

I spent a good half hour trying to see if the "Boss" and "Slave" towels were in the same category as "His" and "Hers." To my disappointment they were. Lady, who is the "Boss" in your family? "His"? Anyway they're different! Come in a variety of colors at $1.98 a set.

Here is a dandy gift for the bride-elect! A set of four hand-woven place mats, four fast color napkins and a bread board with the old saying, "Bread is the staff of life," stamped in the wood. The woven mats and the napkins are in blue, pink, yellow and green. A lovely gift for $5.98.

Having rolls for dinner? Then an Hawaiian biscuit basket is the answer to the problem of keeping those luscious rolls hot and tasty. Tea towels are attached to the basket, so you can roll the buns in the fabric in a jiffy. Here they are at $1.69.

* * *

Pink clouds of soft Acrilan pile are these little "barefoot rugs" in many pastel shades of blue, pink, yellow, sandlewood and white. Lovely for the feminine bedroom at $11.95.

* * *

This pillow is washable! Made of Dacron fibre, it will wash and dry in a wink. This is a wonderful boost when there are invalids in your house! Foam rubber fills the inside and it bears the price tag $7.95.

* * *

Absorbent and washable are the terry cloth aprons that graced a counter in one of the local shops. A wonderful asset when bathing baby or doing the family wash. These necessary coverups are priced at $1.98.

I'll answer your questions if you phone me at 2-3131.

Owing to the holiday Monday, Canadian Daughters' League, No. 5, will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m., Newstead Hall.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

A thank you note is best:

An attorney, who has done a great deal of work for our family's business, has recently done some legal work for me personally. He didn't charge me for the services, and I am so appreciative that I would like to send him a gift. Would it be all right, and, if so, what do you suggest?

Louise Davis answers:

The nicest thing that you can do would be to write him a sincere note of appreciation for all the things he did for you. I advise that you don't refer to the fact that he didn't charge you, for that is understood. I judge from your signature that you are a woman, which is all the more reason why a letter is sufficient. You want to keep this on an impersonal basis whether or not you are married or whether or not the attorney is married. If the lawyer has a wife, a gift could be easily misunderstood. You should keep in mind that this man has done business with the family firm, for which he received compensation.

Louise Davis

Should you wish to engage this lawyer for anything in the future, I advise you to be business-like by telling him in the beginning that, as a client, it should be understood that he send you a statement for his work, otherwise you wouldn't feel free to call on him.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The progress of a woman I know who is just starting a reducing diet, is sort of frustrating. She and her husband were invited to dinner by a couple of gourmets. She tried, but she just couldn't stay within her allowable calorie count; but who could blame her under the circumstances?

Today is another day, a new leaf, and she attacks it with new determination. Let's listen:

"Oh, well, there is no use weighing myself this morning after that dessert last night. I couldn't possibly have lost an ounce. I will not weigh because I might have gained one and I would be so discouraged that my determination might "waver. No! Never!"

(The telephone rings again just as it did when the dinner invitation arrived. This time it is her husband.)

"Hi, honey! You know I have just been thinking that it has been a long time since we went out and had dinner by ourselves. Remember that place that has such good Italian food? Or maybe you would prefer a French restaurant?"

"Oh . . . ah . . . er . . . I would just love it, darling, but—."

"I know what you're thinking and I love for it, honey, but just forget about money tonight. This is going to be a special celebration and we deserve it."

"This must be like drowning when your past life passes before you in a few moments' time. How many times I have been the right weight, in fact most of the time, could wear my clothes and wished that my husband would invite me out for a special evening! Why now? Maybe he likes me better with this extra padding? That is a fatal thought and I am sure the psychologists have a name for it—no doubt, 'self-deception'."

I imagine that this woman, being very human, went out for dinner with her husband and started all over again on her diet the next day.

We can afford the breakovers once in a while if we do not cheat daily on our food intake. It may take a little longer than we planned, but the pounds will finally melt away under the hammering of continued calorie counting. Do not be discouraged by setbacks which are a part of life.

VALIDITY ISSUE RAISED AT SOMMERS PROBE

Fiscal Policy Being Staked

By VICTOR MACKIE, Times' Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Canada's Finance Minister Donald Fleming and the governor of the Bank of Canada are meeting in Ottawa this evening for discussions that may radically change the country's fiscal policy.

The meeting has attracted wide attention and inspired reports of a "widening rift" between the government and the bank.

It has led to one report—by a Toronto newspaper favorable to the Conservative government—that refusal of Bank Governor James Coyne to give ground on "tight money" policies might force his resignation.

For the record both Mr. Coyne and Mr. Fleming have emphatically denied that there was any "rift."

The meeting today includes a general discussion of economic affairs. It was arranged a week ago. Both the bank and the government are working towards agreement on arrangements under which there can so be some easement of the tight-money policy as to encourage new construction and other projects that will provide employment.

The central bank has the responsibility to parliament to combat inflationary tendencies and prevent a runaway inflation. With inflationary pressures increasingly at work in the economy the bank moved last year to increase interest rates which had the effect of tightening up on money.

INTEREST RATES FALL

Canadian interest rates are now falling and the central bank may be in a position to ease up somewhat. The new government wants to see this process moving more quickly but the central bank is moving with caution.

The finance minister and the governor will have under review matters of timing and possible changes that could be made. There is room for compromise and some government sources expect that agreement

Laika Alive, Dead? ---Still a Mystery

LONDON (UP)—The fate of Laika, the dog aboard Sputnik II, was growing into somewhat of a mystery today.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin told reporters Monday night the dog was alive when the satellite was last heard from Sunday but that he had received no new reports.

Moscow scientists expressed belief the space dog was dead, and the Communist newspaper L'Unita said today in Rome it was dead although the official announcement had been held up.

The latest Sputnik rumor cropped up in New Delhi where wholly unconfirmed reports said Laika had landed near Jubbulpore in central India, after being ejected by an escape mechanism.

The Baltimore Sun quoted an unidentified source in Russia as saying the dog was catapulted successfully out of its orbiting satellite and landed some 30 miles from Moscow. It did not say if the dog was alive.

U.S. Keeps Air Armada On Alert

PARIS (AP)—The chief of the U.S. Strategic Air Command said today he has planes all over the world loaded with nuclear bombs ready to take off 15 minutes after any warning of a Soviet attack.

Gen. Thomas Powers said the SAC mounted this alert Oct. 1 and has kept it up ever since.

Powers said that one-third of his command would soon be in this state of alert.

"The planes are on the runways loaded with nuclear bombs," said the general. "The crews sleep nearby. We are increasing the number of planes on the alert to one-third of our effectives. The planes can be off in 15 minutes. The alert began Oct. 1."

Powers implied that the United States is keeping planes aloft loaded with nuclear bombs.

The general said that at any given moment a certain percentage of SAC planes were in the air and "we're not carrying swords or bows and arrows."

The general said it was not true that Russian missiles could simultaneously knock out the U.S. bases all over the world.

Russia Urges UN Disband Arms Group

NEW YORK (CP)—The Soviet Union today repeated its demand for the dissolution of the United Nations disarmament commission made up of the entire 82 membership.

The Soviet delegation tabled in the General Assembly a resolution to this effect which was rejected in the political committee last week after that body had endorsed the Western disarmament proposals. The assembly is expected to meet Thursday to begin debate on disarmament.

Earlier today a Russian delegate indicated his government will give serious thought to an Indian compromise plan to get East-West disarmament talks going again.

Red Wings Back Out

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Red Wings voted unanimously today to disavow the National Hockey League Players Association and its $3,000,000 law suit against the league and member clubs.

Vets' Club Robbed

They forced two doors and removed from the manager's office a heavy safe containing several thousand dollars.

5,000 Evacuated

ROVIGO, Italy (Reuters) — Boats and helicopters today helped evacuate about 5,000 persons from flooded regions in the Po Valley.

While their menfolk stayed on the edge of the flood area to tend their cattle, women and children streamed inland to makeshift homes and refugee centres. Most of them came from five submerged villages and the island of Camerini—six feet under water late today.

2-Year Coma Ends in Death

VANCOUVER (CP) — The death of a 24-year-old Dutch immigrant has ended a coma that lasted more than two years. Josef Byl died today in a private hospital. His brain had been permanently damaged 743 days ago—on Oct. 29, 1955—when a cable snapped and struck him on the skull.

The accident occurred at a logging operation on Vancouver Island. Despite medical and nursing care, Byl never showed any sign of improvement.

Object 'Seen'

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—A cigar-shaped reddish object reported over parts of Australia and Europe last week might have something to do with the second Russian satellite, an Adelaide scientist said today.

The scientist, who declined to be named, said it could have been a partly inflated balloon attached to the dog's compartment ejected from the satellite. It was described as a big, bright, cigar-shaped object, brighter than the star Venus.

Pilot Identified

OTTAWA (CP)—The pilot of an RCAF Sabre killed last Friday when his plane crashed near Zweibruecken, Germany, has been identified as FO R. G. H. Rolston, of Acton, Ont., it was announced today. He was attached to No. 3 Fighter Wing, Zweibruecken.

RCAF officials said the accident, which occurred shortly after the plane took off, is being investigated.

King Under Fire

WASHINGTON (Reuters) —A state department spokesman said today that Cairo and Moscow radios are attempting to inflame public opinion by alleging that King Hussein of Jordan is secretly negotiating with Israel.

The spokesman, Lincoln White, told his press briefing that the charges he had seen took two lines: "One, that the king is supported by this beastly United States and the other is that he is secretly working with Israel."

Hit-and-Run Victim, 89, Near Death

An 89-year-old pedestrian, George Morley, 712 Vancouver, victim of a hit-run collision at Quadra and Meares at 11.05 a.m. today, was reported in critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital at deadline.

Police said the man apparently had just started across Quadra or had nearly completed crossing the street when the accident occurred. He was found six feet from the west curb of Quadra at the end of Meares.

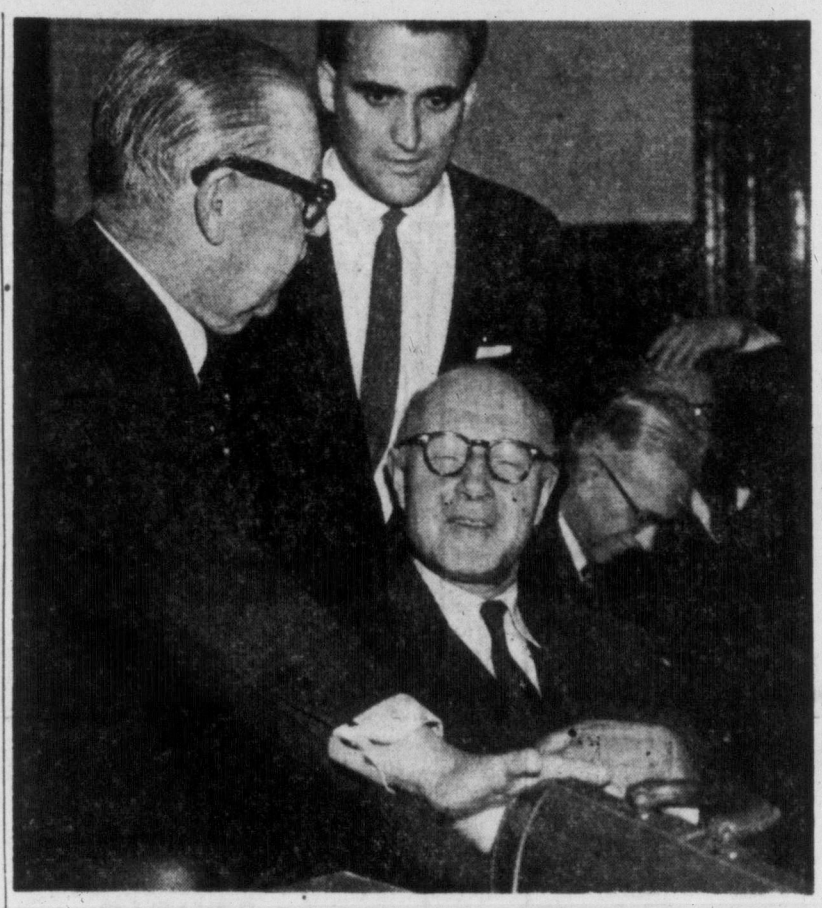
A passing motorist who witnessed the accident obtained a licence number of a car believed to be involved and followed it several blocks, police said.



BEFORE LEGAL BOMB BURST

Inquiry Delayed Until Dec. 9

The "bombshell" move came from Alfred Bull, QC, counsel for C. D. Schultz & Co.

He indicated he will seek an injunction to block the hearing and is prepared to take the issue to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Bull said he challenged the authority of the provincial government to set up such an inquiry because it was a probe into what amounted to criminal charges.

This authority is vested only in the federal government under the British North America Act, he contended.

However, from his office at the legislative buildings, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said as far as he is aware the inquiry will go ahead.

"Inquiries of this nature have been conducted without question in many provinces in Canada," he said. "The Vancouver police inquiry was one of them."

Mr. Bonner said: "The questions which will come before the commission are not necessary criminal in their implications, although there might be a question of ethics."

Ironed Out

While the next move on whether to attempt to block the inquiry rested with Mr. Bull, expert legal sources expressed the view to the Times that any question of constitutionality could easily be ironed out by the federal government.

They suggested that on a request from Attorney-General Bonner, the federal justice minister, Davie Fulton, could secure an order-in-council conferring the necessary powers on Chief Justice Sloan and open the way for the inquiry to proceed if the courts decide there is any doubt of its constitutionality as now set up.

However, Mr. Bonner's statement was taken as indicating this action would not be considered until the courts deal with the constitutional issue.

In the meantime the inquiry has been adjourned until Dec. 9, partly because of the illness of counsel, and partly because other lawyers want more time to study their cases.

If the constitutional issue is carried to the Supreme Court of Canada, it would cause a further delay in the long drawn-out case.

Mr. Bull, who was counsel for Mr. Sommers at one time in his slander action against lawyer David Sturdy, said his course will be to seek an injunction from the B.C. Supreme Court and have a writ issued on Chief Justice Gordon Sloan.

He said he would first have to consult with his client Wednesday before taking this step but added:

"I can almost say for certain that this action will be taken."

Challenge

Mr. Bull said he was challenging the authority of the provincial government under the Public Inquiries Act to set up an inquiry of this nature to probe what amounted to criminal charges.

This authority is vested only in the federal government by the British North America Act, he said.

Today's session was expected to be only a preliminary hearing to arrange details for the hearings.

Chief Justice Sloan said he could not hear Mr. Bull's arguments and could only wait developments.

"What do you suggest I do?" he asked Mr. Bull at one point.

Mr. Bull replied that the commission should be adjourned until a future date when it could be determined what its future course will be.

After hearing brief arguments

AT SLOAN HEARING

Legal Counsel Outnumber Spectators

There were 38 persons in the age-mellowed Court of Appeal Chamber at Victoria Courthouse today when the Royal Commission opened.

Of these, seven were spectators; 14 were legal counsel; 14 represented press, radio and TV; one secretary, one court stenographer, and the Chief Justice himself completed the roster.

Expectation among counsel was for a short opening session, and a period of time to prepare the case.

Before the commission opened Chief Justice Sloan said: "The longer the preparation, the faster we will get it over.

Many of the counsel were from Vancouver.

Absent from the court room as the case opened were two of the principals, former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers and Charles W. Eversfield, who was to have been a key defence witness in the Sommers-Sturdy slander case.

Counsel James J. Proudfoot snapped out a brisk "no statement" when he was asked the whereabouts of Mr. Sommers, and whether he would appear.

Mr. Eversfield has returned to B.C. to testify at the royal commission. He arrived in Vancouver Sunday from California, where he has been living since late 1955. He spent Monday in Chilliwack with his mother and three brothers.

Eversfield supplied Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy with photostats and a statutory declaration which became the basis of Sturdy's corruption charges against Mr. Sommers.

Mr. Sturdy was at the com-

Three Girls Hanged, Mother Charged

Artificial Respiration Revives Fourth Child

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Maureen O'Donohue, charged Monday with murder in the hanging of three of her four young daughters, was remanded today to a psychiatric hospital.

Prior to her court appearance this morning the 27-year-old wife of a prominent Toronto lawyer was held in a police station room guarded by a policewoman. She was described as in an overwrought condition and sobbing frequently.

Police said all four O'Donohue children were found Monday hanging in the basement of the family's fashionable suburban Leaside home. One was revived by artificial respiration, and was in good condition in hospital today.

Mrs. O'Donohue was arrested about two hours after the discovery.

Attempts to revive Maureen, four; Eileen, three, and Katherine, two, were unsuccessful. Mary Josephine, six months, responded to hospital treatment.

Police said Mrs. O'Donohue, an ex-nurse from Belleville, Ont., was under treatment as a hospital out-patient from Aug. 29 to Sept. 28.

PHONED HUSBAND

The children were found by Mrs. Jean Turner, a non-practising doctor who lives next door, after she received a telephone call from Melville, J. O'Donohue. He said his wife had phoned his downtown office to complain that she was ill.

Mrs. Turner told police Mrs. O'Donohue, weeping and distraught, met her at the door and, sensing trouble, she searched the house.

She found the children hanging together by ropes in a basement laundry room. Untying the ropes she called police and firemen and summoned other neighbors to aid her in applying artificial respiration.

WANDERED ON STREET

Police said Mrs. O'Donohue wandered on the street until she met another neighbor.

"I knew something was wrong with her but I didn't know what," said Mrs. R. H. Loveland.

"I walked up and down the street with her until Mrs. Turner and another neighbor picked us up in a car and took us back to the house where Mr. O'Donohue was waiting."

Police reported Mr. O'Donohue then took his wife to St. Anselm's Roman Catholic Church where they were met by the curate, Rev. E. J. Law. Mrs. O'Donohue was later arrested.

The O'Donohues were described by neighbors as a happy couple.

Said one: "It was a home filled with love and tenderness."

Police Hunt Father, Son In Slaying

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario Provincial Police said today they have issued warrants for the arrest of a father and son in connection with the slaying of bank manager J. J. Walter Bridges.

Bridges, native of Strathclair, Man., was shot to death Oct. 9 in an unsuccessful attempt to rob a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Blind River, Ont.

Inspector W. H. Kennedy identified the suspects as Fred Montgomery, alias John Chadwick, 41, and his son, Rodney Montgomery, 17. He said they may be headed west.

Insp. Kennedy said they will be charged jointly with murder.

In Timmins, Police Chief Gordon Peacock said the two are also charged with armed robbery in the Oct. 15 holdup of a men's clothing store there.

He said both men have lived in Toronto and in the Sudbury district. The older man also lived for a time in the Blind River area. He said the last trace of the two was at Gogama, Ont., some days after the Blind River shooting and that possibly they have headed towards western Canada.

Tots Found Beaten to Death With Hammer

Police Hold Mother In Quebec Slaying

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—Three young children of Mr. and Mrs. Julien Gorka were found today beaten to death with a sledgehammer and provincial police took the 36-year-old mother into custody as a material witness.

The bodies were found by a brother of Mrs. Gorka after she had come to his home next door and told him the children were dead.

The children were identified as Jean Paul, 5; Andre, 4, and Jules, 1. The Gorka family lives in Rapides-Plats, 1½ miles from Ste. Hyacinthe and about 30 miles east of Montreal.

Mrs. Gorka, the former Aurora Racine, was taken to provincial police headquarters in Montreal. No charges in cases of violent death are laid in Quebec province until a coroner's inquest has been held.

Neighbors said the oldest boy, Jean Paul, had been suffering from a sick stomach most of the night and his mother had been up attending to him. They said she remarked Monday she was tired and depressed.

They said also Mrs. Gorka was treated in Montreal last summer for a nervous breakdown.

FIVE HUNTERS DROWNED

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — Two members of the Toronto metropolitan police force and three companions were reported to have drowned Monday night on a hunting trip to Pine Lake, 90 miles southwest of this Ottawa Valley town.

Man Trapped in Well Survives Mud Ordeal

BEAUSEJOUR, Man. (CP) — A Beausejour district man was trapped in a 25-foot-deep well before being rescued Monday night.

Mr. Hlatky said that because there was little water in the well of his farm home, he decided to dig a few extra feet at the bottom in hope of hitting water.

His wife Margaret was working above surface, pulling up pails of mud with a rope.

"I tried to move around but I kept sinking. I sank up to my waist in the mud. I got one foot out but the other foot began to go under."

Mrs. Hlatky tried vainly for two hours to pull him out, using a rope and ladder without success. Finally, she got in touch with a district farmer, who called the RCMP at Beausejour, 38 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

A rope was tied onto Mr. Hlatky and the RCMP pulled but the farmer remained mired.

A pump was brought to take out the steadily rising water.

The trapped man was pulled out about 11 p.m. with the aid of a hoist.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UP) —Indonesian security troops fired into a mob of rioting school children today. One 15-year-old boy was reported killed and another seriously injured.

Seven Convicts Recaptured After Manitoba Jail Break

HEADINGLEY, Man. (CP)—Two of seven convicts who escaped Sunday night from the Headingley jail were recaptured today on the northwestern outskirts of Greater Winnipeg.

RCMP said Jacob Henry Young, 20, and Murray Russell Truman, 23, were picked up by police in nearby St. James about 9.30 a.m.

Five others who fled jail at the same time were arrested Monday after they cracked up a stolen car while being chased by police in Winnipeg.

Young and Truman were spotted when they came out on the road, chilled from their stay in the open since they fled from the jail 12 miles west of Winnipeg.

The seven escaped by sawing through a bar on a second-floor window and dropping 20 and 25 feet to the ground. The break came during air exercise period.

Monday the stolen car skidded into a telephone pole and two of the men were injured while three others took another car. The second car was stooped at the Redwood bridge across the Red River in Winnipeg.

Pickersgill Charges Tory 'Shortchanging'

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. W. Pickersgill said today the Progressive Conservative government apparently plans to "shortchange" nine provinces to meet the fiscal demands of Premier Frost of Ontario.

The former Liberal immigration minister said in the Commons throne speech debate that there is growing apprehension among the "poorer provinces" that they will receive less from the Conservatives than they did from the Liberals under the federal - provincial tax - sharing formula.

Mr. Pickersgill said the federal - provincial fiscal conference here Nov. 25-26 probably will be "another Mont Tremblant."

Action would be put off as it had been done in the case of the Mont Tremblant, Que., meeting of Commonwealth finance ministers. A veil of secrecy had descended over the trade proposals made to and by the Canadian government at that meeting.

The government intended for as long as possible to do nothing for the poorer provinces. When it finally would have to do something, it would shortchange them.

Conservative Premier Frost had asked $100,000,000 more from the federal government.

Mr. Pickersgill, MP for Bonavista-Twillingate, Nfld., said he is afraid Mr. Frost's demand will have to be met and there wouldn't be enough money left for all the other provinces.

If Canadians were to have anything approaching equal opportunity, the federal government must take in tax money and redistribute it fairly evenly across the whole country.

Mr. Pickersgill said he was recently told by an experienced political analyst: "Canada extends from sea to sea but the new government extends from the Humber to the Don and from the Ontario lakeshore to Eglinton."

This area is the southern portion of Toronto.

NO IKE VISIT 'SAD NEWS'

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons today the British government "would much welcome a return visit to this country by the President of the United States".

Macmillan added: "He has, however, informed me that to his great regret he cannot make such a visit on this particular occasion."

Macmillan was answering questions from members as to whether Eisenhower could visit Britain after his visit to Paris for the NATO council meeting.

40 Volunteers Clear Brush At Beaver Lake

More than 40 volunteers turned out Sunday for brush clearing operations at Beaver Lake and by day's end 600 feet of the lake margin had been prepared for beach construction.

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee officials said "there was a good response from parents of children who use the beaches frequently."

The clearing operation by volunteers is intended as a means of stretching a $52,000 grant for park development as a centennial year project.

will be reached between the minister and the governor. However, the governor if he wishes can take issue with government policy and make a stand. It is this possibility that led to the speculative report in a Toronto newspaper which traditionally supports the Conservatives.

The matter was raised on the floor of the house when an Opposition member of parliament asked Prime Minister John Diefenbaker if the report was correct that the Governor of the bank, James Coyne, was to be retired. The Prime Minister said he had not heard the report.

However, with members of the government claiming that the Conservative administration will move to make money more easily available there has been increased speculation that there would have to be a "showdown" between Hon. Donald Fleming, minister of finance and Governor Coyne.

The report caused surprise both in Toronto and Ottawa and alarmed the Opposition that the government might be seeking to make Mr. Coyne the "goat" in an issue that it could carry into parliament and possibly onto the hustings in a general election.

The finance minister in a telephone interview with this correspondent confirmed that he would be meeting with Mr. Coyne. But he emphasized that he met "from time to time" with the governor. "This is just another in a series of meetings we have regularly," he said.

DENIES CLASH

He added, "I am aware of no clash between the governor and myself, nor am I aware of any friction. I certainly am not aware of anything that could properly be called a collision between us."

Mr. Fleming was referring to the Toronto newspaper's report that: "The government's determination to end the former Liberal administration's 'tight money' policies and ease credit restrictions is said to have precipitated a head-on collision with the Bank of Canada."

Mr. Coyne said, when questioned on the report, that there is no important difference of opinion between him and the government on monetary policy.

In reply to a question as to whether he intended to quit his $50,000 a year post he said, "there is nothing at all to such a suggestion."

The Toronto newspaper reported that two main differences said to exist between the government and Mr. Coyne stem from: (1)—The government's proposal that the 8 per cent the chartered banks must deposit with the Bank of Canada as a reserve be reduced, perhaps to 5 per cent To free more money for housing and other developments.

(2)—The government's suggestion that credit restrictions be eased even if it means bringing in legislation.

The Toronto paper quoted an unamed "cabinet source" as saying, "we are not going to fool tround any longer. We've simply got to release more money for housing and small business to give the economy a shot in the arm."

The Toronto paper, a supporter of the Diefenbaker administration reported that Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his cabinet colleagues "fear unusually high unemployment this winter, unless more money can be pumped into the economy." It adds, "Labor Minister Michael Starr admits the out-of-work figures probably will reach 475,000 next March. It is about 194,000 now.

"The effect of sudden and precipitate credit restrictions," he said flatly, "has been to virtually nullify the rights of prospective home owners under the National Housing Act."

The governor of the bank has repeated his warning that inflation is still a great threat to the economy and has urged caution. There has been an easement in the "tight money" situation due largely to economic developments, an easement that the Diefenbaker government hopes to capitalize on in the political field.

According to the Toronto paper two main proposals have been put forward by the Conservative government to the central bank. It claims they were not welcomed by Mr. Coyne.

Specifically, it said, one called for legislation to be introduced to amend the Bank of Canada Act to reduce interest from 8 to 5 per cent. The amount of their statutory deposits the chartered banks must make with the Central Bank. On Oct. 30 this total stood at $906,000,000. The 5 per cent floor was in effect up to about 1952.

If this were done, the paper explained, the chartered banks would have close to $300,000,000 which could be loaned out—with government backing—for housing or small business.

from counsel present, Chief Justice Sloan fixed Dec. 9 as the next date for the inquiry to meet.

New Counsel

Stanley Remnant, QC, who took over today as commission counsel following the withdrawal of Charles Locke, QC, because of illness, said he would go ahead with his preparations.

He said he needed at least three weeks to study the case before he would be ready to go ahead.

Then Walter Owen, QC, counsel for B.C. Forest Products and Tahsis Ltd., asked for a longer adjournment.

Chief Justice Sloan observed that the inquiry was a matter of public interest and should proceed as quickly as possible.

"The report should be in the hands of the government before the session is too far underway," he said.

But then Chief Justice Sloan, recalling the notice served by Mr. Bull, said with a thin smile: "But of course this discussion may be academic."

Must Proceed

The Commissioner said the inquiry must proceed as scheduled "until some higher body—that is the courts (intervenes)."

He hoped that when the Commission reconvened on Dec. 9 that Mr. Remnant would be ready to proceed "without interruption" to complete the inquiry, providing there was no injunction.

Before adjourning the hearing, which lasted about 35 minutes, Chief Justice Sloan again stated that he had been extremely reluctant to accept the appointment as commissioner.

He had done so, he said, only after being pressed by Premier Bennett and after he had consulted with federal Justice Minister Davie Fulton.

Hot Exchange

The hearing today was also highlighted by a hot exchange between Mr. Bull and Mr. Sturdy.

Mr. Sturdy was sitting at the counsel table before Chief Justice Sloan and asked permission to represent accountant Charles Eversfield, who obtained the "body of evidence" that formed the basis of the allegations.

Witnesses are not represented by counsel at these hearings, the commissioner said.

Mr. Bull said Mr. Eversfield "is and has been from the beginning Mr. Sturdy's protege."

It was "unheard of" that Mr. Sturdy could act as his counsel, Mr. Bull said.

Mr. Bull continued:

"Saturday night we were treated to quite a performance in Vancouver by Sturdy and Eversfield on the radio."

The station on which the broadcast was carried was "rather significant" Mr. Bull said.

"It was CKLG, North Vancouver," he said. "But I would not say who the owners are."

Chief Justice Sloan said he had not heard about the radio broadcast and was interested only in what took place before the commission.

Mr. Sturdy admitted that he had appeared on the broadcast, but said he had not said anything or permitted Mr. Eversfield to say anything about the inquiry.

That brought Mr. Bull to his feet again:

Called a Liar

"He called the attorney-general a liar—that was the sum and substance of it."

"You're wrong in your language," Mr. Sturdy retorted.

. . . SOMMERS

Another subject discussed at today's hearing was the scope of the inquiry as fixed by the terms of reference in the provincial order-in-council.

The Commissioner said he had no power to alter the terms of reference, but felt it was his duty to hear arguments and pass them on to the government.

Mr. Sturdy applied to have the terms of reference broadened to include two other forest firms, East Asiatic and Church Sawmills.

The evidence obtained by Mr. Eversfield indicated that money from these firms "however innocently" found its way into the hands of Mr. Sommers, Mr. Sturdy said.

Mr. Sturdy also asked that money which was "allegedly promised" to Mr. Sommers as well as that he may have actually received be included in the inquiry.

He also said the word "loan" should be included, and that an attempt should be made to see if a conspiracy existed between a number of firms and individuals including the former minister.

Chief Justice Sloan said he would pass these requests to the government because he had been asked to go into the matter thoroughly.

No Stultification

"I don't want it to be said there was any stultification on my part," he said.

It was at this point that Mr. Bull rose and said he was challenging the chief justice's jurisdiction to sit on the commission.

The provincial order-in-council exceeded the bounds of the Public Inquiries Act, he said.

Mr. Bull said he would base his argument both on statute and common law.

"The argument will take some time," he said. "This is a very, very serious point.

"I may be in the unfortunate position to issue a writ on Your Lordship," Mr. Bull told Chief Justice Sloan.

An imposing array of legal talent was on hand for today's hearing.

Benides those mentioned, they included:

H. B. Bowering and Col. C. C. Merritt, QC, associated with Mr. Bull as counsel for C. D. Schultz; Harvey Wynes, counsel for Empire Mills Ltd. and B. J. Keely; W. R. Martin, counsel for Pacific Coast Services and Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd., and Oscar Lundell, QC, representing B.C. Forest Products with Mr. Owen.

James Proudfoot appeared for Mr. Sommers.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Island Boy, Girl Chosen for 4-H Tour of East

Two young Vancouver Island 4-H Club members, Joseph Taylor, 18, of Saanichton, and Anne Chapman, Courtenay, will be among 14 B.C. young people to see eastern Canada as guests of the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs.

They arrived in Vancouver Monday and spent the day touring the city as guests of the B.C. Electric. They leave for the east by train tonight.

Mr. Taylor, who works with his father William Taylor, on their Saanichton dairy farm, and hopes to enter into partnership with him, is the first Saanichton 4-H member to win the trip, and the first boy to be chosen from Vancouver Island.

A member of the Saanich Holstein Calf Club, he was selected because of his winning the B.C. championship in dairy work and for general proficiency.

He and Miss Chapman will spend from Nov. 16 to Nov. 21 in Toronto.

The Royal Winter Fair and a tour of Niagara Peninsula are two of the highlights of the Toronto visit, and they also will take part in a program designed to let them discuss Canadian citizenship and Canada's role in world affairs.

They will visit Ottawa and will attend special receptions given by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Governor-General Vincent Massey. They are expected home about Dec. 1.

Asked why he returned for hearings of the Royal Commission, Mr. Eversfield said in Vancouver:

"I felt it was my duty to attend, even though my bookkeeping business in Los Angeles needs special attention at this time."

He said he had not been subpoenaed but expected that he would be. He also expected that the government would pay his expenses.

REPORT AVAILABLE

Meanwhile, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today the RCMP report on the Sommers case will be made available to the Royal Commission.

Mr. Bonner said he would never make the report public, but will turn it over to Sloan Commission counsel Stanley Remnant if he wants it.

The report was made by former RCMP Inspector W. J. Butler, following his investigation into the allegations of bribe-taking against former forests minister Robert Sommers.

"I shall never release it to the public," Mr. Bonner said, "but I shall co-operate with counsel in every way, and if the commission counsel wants the report, he shall have it."

The attorney-general said it would be against the principles of British justice to release the police report.

"It is not sworn evidence and is not receivable in any court as written evidence," he said.

Mr. Bonner said he does not expect to be called as a witness before Chief Justice Sloan.

"I see no reason why I should be called," he said.

Mr. Bonner also gave his side of the argument with lawyer David Sturdy over the "body of evidence" involved in the case.

Mr. Sturdy maintains that when he went before the attorney-general in December, 1955, he offered to show him or another official of his department the documents and photostats, but that Mr. Bonner had turned him down.

"I didn't see the material; I have never seen it," Mr. Bonner said.

The attorney-general said he did not understand from Mr. Sturdy that he had the material with him.

"As a matter of fact, they did not realize until after one of my addresses in the legislature that I had not seen it," Mr. Bonner said.

STURDY'S VERSION

"So the next day an effort was made to present it to me. It was at that time I said to give it to the RCMP instead, and Mr. Butler was named to examine it."

Mr. Sturdy gave this version:

"I had the documents in my briefcase when I saw Mr. Bonner in December, 1955. First, I handed him the statutory declaration of Charles Eversfield, we discussed it and he questioned Mr. Eversfield.

"When we were leaving, I said, 'now Bob, I have these photostats, but you're too busy to read them, I suggest you should appoint a police officer to look them over.'

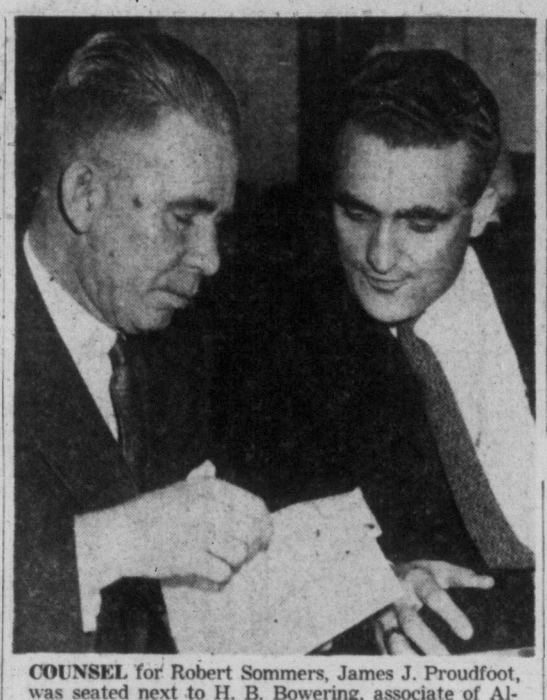
"So when he says he did not see the documents, he's telling only part of the truth."

The Trail Chamber of Commerce wrote Premier Bennett complaining that the absence of MLA Robert Sommers from the riding was working an injury on the district.

The letter, signed by chamber president Fred E. Nichols, said: "As representatives for the business and professional men of Trail-Tadanac and Warfield, we are very perturbed about the lack of business and professional ethics attributed to our local member.

"We should like to be assured that the high ideals upheld by the Chambers of Commerce are applied in all phases of government business.

"We are pleased that you are doing all you can to expedite the course of justice and redress the injury now being sustained by the people represented in our Chamber of Commerce.



COUNSEL for Robert Sommers, James J. Proudfoot, was seated next to H. B. Bowering, associate of Alfred Bull, as the hearing opened.

APPOINTED commission counsel Monday to replace Charles Locke, who was excused due to illness, was Vancouver prosecutor Stanley J. Remnant, QC. (Times Photos.)

Island Hunter Turns Up Safe

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — Armour De Roche, 36, missing since 11 a.m. Sunday on Argonaut Mining Co. property near Quinsam, walked into a search party of more than 50 persons Monday afternoon.

De Roche, a Campbell River carpenter, had been the object of a search since Monday morning by RCMP, the Campbell River Ground Observer Corps and fellow employees from the Upper Campbell Lake dam project.

De Roche had set out to go hunting with an unidentified companion at 5 a.m. Sunday. They separated at 11 a.m. De Roche failed to keep a rendezvous and his companion reported to RCMP at Campbell River that he was missing.

The missing man said he got lost in fog. Instead of trying to find his way out, he said he stayed put, lit a fire, dried his clothes and stayed overnight.

Belmont School Students Raise $130 for Band

LANGFORD — Students of Belmont Junior-Senior High School raised $130 toward the school band fund through a talent show at the school, directed by D. R. Kerley, teacher and conductor of the school band.

In the junior contest for students of grade 7 and 8, Robin Carlson and Sheila Hincks, pianists, were first and second, respectively. Sheila Middleton, a dancer, and singer Bonnie Flatman, tied for third place.

Winner of the senior division was baton twirler Gail Pederson. Gina Hiscock, ballet dancer, was second, and Faith Bligh, a singer, was third.

SOARING COSTS SAID PRICING PULP, PAPER OUT OF MARKET

NANAIMO (CP)—Deputy Lands and Forests Minister C. D. Orchard says B.C. foresters will have to grow wood faster and more cheaply if the industry is to justify wages of up to $2 an hour for common labor.

Mr. Orchard told a meeting of forest engineers and chemists of the pulp and paper industry productivity will have to go up if B.C. is to compete with the fast-growing product of warmer countries.

"There's no question that we have priced ourselves out of the market. Every pay increase raises the cost of our product on world markets and lets in that much more competition," he said.

More Complete Overnight Relief From

RHEUMATIC AND ARTHRITIC PAINS

New pill-within-a-pill works thru the night to bring fast, longer-lasting relief!

If you suffer from rheumatic and arthritic pains, try ZARUMIN, the new pill-within-a-pill. ZARUMIN contains an outer pill that brings 3 to 4 hours of fast, effective pain relief. Several hours later, the inner pill dissolves, rushing 3 to 4 hours additional relief. Thus, you get more complete overnight relief from pains of stiff, aching joints.

Once again you should be able to do the things pain may have been preventing . . . such things as walking, bending, sewing or just having a good time. So, try this new pill-within-a-pill way to relieve rheumatic and arthritic pains. Get ZARUMIN at your drugstore. Money back if not satisfied.
